Cafe Chain Operator Dies On Interstate

Death Cause Obscured By Fiery Crash

UNION PIER — The owner of a chain of restaurants was found dead early today in a fiery crash after a truck slammed into his car that was stopped on I-94 near here.

State police said they have not determined the cause of death of James Thomas Christensen, restaurants in Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana, and also the Tuxedo Burger at 1740 West John Beers road, Stevensville. He was named Franchisee of the Year for 1976 at Lum's national convention.

State Trooper DeWayne Hellenga said an autopsy was to be conducted today to determine cause of death, and investigation also was underway in an attempt to determine why the car was stopped on the highway.

The death will not be counted as a traffic fatality until results of the autopsy are known, Hellenga said.

Hellenga said truck driver Hans Wijnsma, 52, Wyoming, Mich., sought his own treatment for minor injuries suffered in the accident near the East Road overpass.

Wijnsma told troopers he was headed east on I-94 and unable to avoid crashing into the rear of the 1975 Cadillac. The car and truck both skidded off into a nearby ditch, police said.

Dr. John Valenteus, a deputy Berrien county medical examiner, pronounced Christensen dead at the scene and was performing an autopsy late this morning.

Firemen from Lakeside and Sawyer extinguished the car fire, police said.

Mr. Christensen was born Aug. 7, 1937, in Chicago. He had lived in the Stevensville area since 1972.

Guilty Longet Awaits Sentence

By BILL PARDUE
Associated Press Writer

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — "I'm not guilty, I'm not guilty," whispered sad-eyed Claudine Longet just before Andy Williams whisked her from the courthouse into the freezing night air of Aspen.

"I have too much respect for human life to have been guilty," said the French-born entertainer, ex-husband Williams at her side.

She faces sentencing Jan. 31 after being convicted Friday of criminally negligent homicide in the shooting death last March of her ski champ lover, Vladimir "Spider" Sabich. Maximum penalty is two years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Defense attorney Charles Weedman said a decision whether to appeal will be made after sentencing. "We are disappointed, of course," he said, "but thank God the jury did not find her guilty of a felony."

A state district court jury of seven men and five women took three hours and 40 minutes to settle on the misdemeanor homicide charge instead of a felony manslaughter conviction the prosecution wanted. That carried a maximum 10 years in jail and $30,000 fine.

The 35-year-old defendant, who began her American career as a Las Vegas showgirl, cried several times in four days of testimony that followed a week of jury selection marked by open hostility toward her.

But when the verdict was read in the high-ceiling courtroom, Miss Longet showed no emotion. Williams, 48, a television and recording star, rubbed his hands across a furrowed brow.

The jury decided against manslaughter almost immediately, juror Daniel DeWolfe, 27, later disclosed. But he said most jurors felt they could not acquit her.

"If you're negligent and take someone's life," DeWolfe said, "you should get some kind of slap on the hand, some kind of punishment."

DeWolfe said he hopes Miss Longet isn't given a prison sentence because he feels she poses no "threat to society."

Miss Longet's other defense attorney, Ronald Austin, said outside his wood-beamed office he thought the jury took the easy way out.

"It's the attitude of: 'Let's toss a bone to each side,' something for the defense and something for the prosecution."

Prosecutor Ashley Anderson was jubilant. "We think the jury made a good decision," he said. "We think it was a fair jury. We think it was a fair trial."

He then dashed to a telephone to tell friends, "We won! We won!" The defense had portrayed the 29-year-old prosecutor as an inexperienced youth in its summation.

The verdict climaxed four days of testimony on why Sabich, 31, was killed in a bathroom of the $250,000 home he shared with Miss Longet and their three children by Williams.

She had told jurors in her tearful testimony, "I loved Spider. I loved the man that he was." She said the .22-caliber pistol he was teaching her to use discharged accidentally.

The prosecution tried to show the tiny, dark-haired Miss Longet was a person "who took chances." Prosecutors said she had been teasing Sabich and pointed the gun at him although she knew it was loaded.

Juror DeWolfe said he believed the defendant's version. "I know she must have a temper, but no matter how mad she was at Spider, there was no way she recklessly shot him."

Miss Longet will try to start working Monday with a probation officer who will recommend a sentence to state District Court George Lohr, Austin said.

She hopes to return soon to teaching French twice weekly at a local elementary school, he said.

AFTER VERDICT: Andy Williams holds hands with Claudine Longet as they walk from Pitkin county courthouse Friday night after jury returned guilty verdict in Ms. Longet's manslaughter trial. ### Church Weddings Get Too Expensive BUCKDEN, England (AP) — If you want to beat inflation don't get married in church, advises the Vicar of this Cambridgeshire County village. The General Synod has ordered the cost of a Church of England wedding doubled to $27.20 on Jan. 1, and that is too expensive, the Rev. Enoch Davies wrote in his parish magazine published today. His advice is to settle for a $10.20 civil wedding at a registrar's office and go to the church afterwards for a free blessing. "After all, the primary function of the church at a wedding ceremony is simply to give the blessing," he wrote. He said the decision to double the price of a church wedding "gives a very bad image when we are, just like everyone else, grabbing at everything." A Church of England spokesman said the increase was the result of Britain's 15 per cent annual inflation.

Mittan's Message Was The Shortest--And Best

State Rep. Ray Mittan, Niles Republican, talked off the cuff in a WHFB interview this week, but he gave a better "state of the state" message than others who read long, prepared statements.

"Any legislative program that doesn't help Michigan business isn't worth a plugged nickel," Mittan declared.

"What this state needs is jobs, not more bureaucracy."

"The cost of what we've got now in the way of fancy programs is driving business out of the state."

Gov. William Milliken, a fellow Republican, appears to agree, although it took him much longer than Mittan to say so.

The governor, in addressing the Legislature with the Chief Executive's traditional message, devoted about one-fourth of that message to proposals that would improve the state's business climate.

The latter, said Mittan, is so bad that industrial firms are leaving the state in droves. Michigan's No. 1 problem is to halt the exodus, he added.

Mittan thoroughly disagreed with an address delivered to the House of Representatives by Speaker Bobby D.

It'll Likely Be A Little Louder

Political oratory on the floor of the United States Senate has been subdued in recent years, unlike other eras when strong personalities dominated the scene. The change of leadership by both parties in the Senate this year could spark livelier legislative battles in the 95th Congress.

Former Sens. Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott, retired leaders of their respective parties, both were men who preferred quiet negotiating to visible partisanship in Senate business. The two who have replaced them, Robert Byrd and Howard Baker, are not the same mold.

Byrd is an indefatigable legislative mechanic who presses his position with calm but relentless conviction. Baker is an ambitious lawmaker with a spark of oratorical ability who is eager to prepare himself for better things from his party.

That combination could enliven Senate activities more than a little.

Private Colleges Tell Lawmakers: 'Go Easy'

Nothing is detracted from the services performed by publicly-supported colleges and universities by

Crim, Davison Democrat. Crim called for a variety of social welfare improvements and laid great emphasis on "fiscal reform."

"By 'fiscal reform,'" said Mittan, "Bobby Crim means more spending and more taxes."

Rep. Mittan couldn't be more accurate if he had given a 60-minute speech.

Bobby Crim and the Detroit-dominated Democratic majorities in both houses of the Legislature like to tax and spend. Men like these don't really believe in free enterprise; they believe in total government control.

But they know that every poll shows the bulk of Americans to be conservative; state socialism is a phrase that alienates most voters, Democrats as well as Republicans.

Although Speaker Crim's kind of "dole and control" government isn't called socialism, its adverse impact on free enterprise is just as bad as if it were called by its right name.

Michigan's tax burdens, plus overly-generous workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance programs, reduce Michigan's ability to compete with other states for new industry.

Social services programs rife with cheating and built-in inducements to sloth have created cesspools of crime in most Michigan cities, a violent environment that drives business to the suburbs or, worse yet, entirely out of the state.

Detroit, for example, lost nearly one-fifth of its major manufacturing industries between 1970 and 1975, the Associated Press reported this week. By actual count, the AP said, 284 of 1,322 major manufacturing firms moved out of Detroit during the five-year period.

Free enterprise wasn't made in heaven. But it isn't any accident that in countries where you don't have free enterprise, you don't have true political or philosophic freedom.

There's a way the state's lawmakers can really help present and future residents of Michigan.

Gov. Milliken put strong priority in his annual message on (1) improving the business climate, (2) bringing welfare programs under control, and (3) attacking crime. If the legislators confine themselves solely to working on these goals, they'll do more for the people of the state than anything that has been done since Bump Elliott and Duffy Daugherty brought home Rose Bowl victories.

SAYS COMMITTEE IS REAL DANGER

Editor,

I should like to write to you about that Committee on the Present Danger. They held a press conference in Washington on Nov. 11, 1976. This Committee is led by former Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler, labor leader Lane Kirkland, former Defense Department official David Packard and others in Washington circles. Their purpose is to increase defense spending because of an unparalleled Soviet military buildup.

This Committee on the Present Danger is loaded with veteran Soviet apologists, disarmament promoters, and members of the Council on Foreign Relations. For instance, Paul H. Nitze, a CFR member, and a high Defense Department official from the Kennedy-Johnson administration, and a Nixon disarmament expert. He, too, has been named as a Carter advisor. But now, after he has gotten us into whatever problems we now face, we are supposed to follow his advice and trust his judgment on matters involving national security and military prepared-

I think that the purpose of the Committee on the Present Danger is to propagandize Americans into believing Soviet might is so great that our nation must submit to the Communist will. The reason for this is that they have not suggested that the United States cease financing this Soviet buildup. For we know that without U.S. technology, equipment, credits, and other forms of aid, the Soviet Union would amount to nothing.

Antony Sutton has written a couple of books to prove that the Soviet machine was built in the West and by the West, but we didn't hear of the fear-mongers distributing his books, did we? Have any of them called for an end to one-way detente and unilateral disarmament? Neither have we heard any outcry about U.S. financing of the huge Kama River truck factory, or the sale of computers to the Soviets, or the cancellation of Soviet debts.

For the Committee to appear on the level with this Soviet power "stuff", these Joes better get going on demands that our government cease fueling the Red machine. It looks to me as if The Committee on the Present Danger is itself a present danger.

Representative:

The 95th Congress has already violated the Constitution, (Art. 2, 3, 4, 5, and, Amendment 12, 20) but let us look at the last 12 hours of the 94th Congress when all that confusion is at its peak — the transition period between November 2 and January 3.

H.R. 11337 was passed by both houses of Congress. This bill has changed the census taking period of ten years and reduced the period to five years. Art. 1, Sect. 2, Clause 3; Amendment 14, Sect. 1, 3 and 4, has been violated. Also, Art. 1, Sect. 5, has been violated.

If H.R. 11337 is just a bill and not an amendment to our Constitution, it violates Art. 5.

Apparently your 4th district constituency was not aware of Amendment 14, Sect. 3, because you are, now, in fact, our Representative.

Enclosed you will find the Constitution of The United States of America and a book — 560 pages — which explains what our Constitution is all about. Total cost for Liberty, $2.45 and a lot of guts.

Limited Wars, Unwinnable Wars

Union are largely paper plans, unlikely to be workable in an emergency.

I submit that this is false logic. Vietnamese Communist leader Ho Chi Minh demonstrated in the war against the French, in the political and economic programs he fostered and in the fighting against the South Vietnamese and ourselves that he would risk any loss of life and of property if necessary to achieve his aims.

History teaches us also that the Soviet Union does not regard the lives of ordinary citizens as democracies do. To achieve economic objectives, they have allowed millions to starve. To achieve political goals, they have eliminated or imprisoned virtually for life undeniably of their citizenship.

What our planners ignore in their comforting reports on the ineffectiveness of Soviet mass evacuation programs, is that these same plans call for thorough protection for selected officials, essential production workers and for key military defense personnel.

The data suggests, in fact, that the Soviet Union could survive a nuclear war with sizable powers of recuperation though with a decimated population.

This is not to suggest Leonid Brezhnev and his associates are planning a nuclear war. They have, to date, shown great caution. It is more likely they will use their new strength as an umbrella to give them more leeway in Africa, the Middle East, Asia and Latin America — believing that we will not stand firm if the odds are clearly against our own survival in a showdown.

But in a totalitarian system it is impossible to foresee who will rule next year, or 10 years down the pike.

In sum, we don't know what the eventual Russian goal is. But we do know that at present they're building more than they require for purely defensive purposes.

Morality Based On Religion

so, its determinations are unsupportable and arbitrary." The hospital directors are merely maintenance who keep the machine running smoothly.

To be sure, attempts have been made to assert moral principles independently of a religious or metaphysical foundation. Bentham derived them from his pleasure-pain principle. Kant asserted his "categorical imperative." But history does not seem to be witness to this position, as witness the words of the New Jersey court.

As C. S. Lewis once put it, modern Western secular man stands virtually alone against the accumulated experience of the race. On the one hand stand virtually all of the human societies known to history, from the ancient river cultures of the Euphrates or the Ganges, and including Western culture until the day before yesterday. All derived moral principle from religious belief. On the other hand stands modern Western secular man, and his neutral "mechanisms."

No doubt non-religious individuals can behave morally. Philosophers of religion would maintain, however, that they are living on accumulated and unearned moral capital. Like the heirs of a rich man, they are drawing on the resources of the past. The entire secular society may indeed be living on the accumulated moral capital of centuries of Christian belief. Oh, excuse me "sectarian" belief.

Ponder that sentence. The court is saying here that in the absence of "sectarian" — that is, religious — belief, the hospital is a mere mechanism, like an internal combustion engine or a baloney slicer. "Moral concepts" cannot influence that mechanism as long as it remains thus "nonsectarian." The mechanism is merely there to be used. No one except the user can tell the internal combustion engine in what direction to power the car, or the baloney slicer where or not to slice baloney.

In its next two sentences, the court made that position unmistakably clear. "The board of trustees or directors, although vested with managerial direction within the framework of the hospital's functions and purposes, may not promulgate unrelated policies. When it does

Death Cause Obscured By Fiery Crash

UNION PIER — The owner of a chain of restaurants was found dead early today in a fiery crash after a truck slammed into his car that was stopped on I-94 near here.

State police said they have not determined the cause of death of James Thomas Christensen.

State Trooper DeWayne Hellinga said an autopsy was to be conducted today to determine cause of death, and investigation also was underway in an attempt to determine why the car was stopped on the highway.

The death will not be counted as a traffic fatality until results of the autopsy are known, Hellinga said.

Hellinga said truck driver Hans Winsma, 52, Wyoming, Mich., sought his own treatment for minor injuries suffered in the accident near the East Road overpass.

Winsma told troopers he was headed east on I-94 and unable to avoid crashing into the rear of the 1975 Cadillac. The car and truck both skidded off into a nearby ditch, police said.

Dr. John Valentius, a deputy Berrien county medical examiner, pronounced Christensen dead at the scene and was performing an autopsy late this morning.

Firemen from Lakeside and Sawyer extinguished the car fire, police said.

Mr. Christensen was born Aug. 7, 1937, in Chicago. He had lived in the Stevensville area since 1972.

Survivors include his widow, Carol; two sons, Jeffrey and Daniel, both at home; his mother, Mrs. Edith Christensen, 89, of 5003 Benny Bruce drive, Stevensville. He was pronounced dead at the scene of the 3:30 a.m. crash and the body was burned beyond recognition.

Troopers said Christensen was alone in the car that was stopped without lights in an eastbound lane just before the crash. The car burst into flames when it smashed beneath the truck's trailer.

restaurants in Chicago, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana, and also the Tuxedo Burger at 1740 West John Beers road, Stevensville. He was named Franchisee of the Year for 1976 at Lam's national convention.

State Trooper DeWayne Hellinga said an autopsy was to be conducted today to determine cause of death, and investigation also was underway in an attempt to determine why the car was stopped on the highway.

The death will not be counted as a traffic fatality until results of the autopsy are known, Hellinga said.

Hellinga said truck driver Hans Winsma, 52, Wyoming, Mich., sought his own treatment for minor injuries suffered in the accident near the East Road overpass.

Winsma told troopers he was headed east on I-94 and unable to avoid crashing into the rear of the 1975 Cadillac. The car and truck both skidded off into a nearby ditch, police said.

Dr. John Valentius, a deputy Berrien county medical examiner, pronounced Christensen dead at the scene and was performing an autopsy late this morning.

Guilty Longet Awaits Sentence

By BILL PARDEE

Associated Press Writer
ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — "I'm not guilty, I'm not guilty," whispered sad-eyed Claudine Longet, just before Andy Williams whisked her from the courthouse into the freezing night air of Aspen.

"I have too much respect for human life to have been guilty," said the French-born entertainer, ex-husband Williams at her side.

She faces sentencing Jan. 31 after being convicted Friday of criminally negligent homicide in the shooting death last March of her ski champ lover, Vladimir "Spider" Sabich. Maximum penalty is two years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

Defense attorney Charles Weedman said a decision whether to appeal will be made after sentencing. "We are disappointed, of course," he said, "but thank God the jury did not find her guilty of a felony."

A state district court jury of seven men and five women took three hours and 40 minutes to settle on the misdemeanor homicide charge instead of a felony manslaughter conviction the prosecution wanted. That carried a maximum 10 years in jail and $30,000 fine.

The 35-year-old defendant, who began her American career as a Las Vegas showgirl, cried several times in four days of testimony that followed a week of jury selection marked by open hostility toward her.

But when the verdict was read in the high-ceiling courtroom, Miss Longet showed no emotion. Williams, 48, a television and recording star, rubbed his hands across a furrowed brow.

The jury decided against manslaughter almost immediately, juror Daniel DeWolfe, 27, later disclosed. But he said most jurors felt they could not acquit her.

"If you're negligent and take someone's life," DeWolfe said, "you should get some kind of slap on the hand, some kind of punishment."

DeWolfe said he hopes Miss Longet isn't given a prison sentence because he feels she poses no "threat to society."

Miss Longet's other defense attorney, Ronald Austin, said outside his wood-paneled office he thought the jury took the easy way out.

"It's the attitude of: 'Let's toss a bone to each side, something for the defense and something for the prosecution."

Prosecutor Ashley Anderson was jubilant. "We think the jury made a good decision," he said. "We think it was a fair

Protests Verdict Of Jury

jury. We think it was a fair trial."

He then dashed to a telephone to tell friends, "We won! We won!" The defense had portrayed the 29-year-old prosecutor as an inexperienced youth in its summation.

The verdict climaxed four days of testimony on why Sabich, 31, was killed in a bathroom of the $250,000 home he shared with Miss Longet and her three children by Williams.

She had told jurors in her tearful testimony, "I loved Spider. I loved the man that he was." She said the .22-caliber pistol he was teaching her to use discharged accidentally.

The prosecution tried to show the tiny, dark-haired Miss Longet was a person "who took chances." Prosecutors said she had been teasing Sabich and pointed the gun at him although she knew it was loaded.

Juror DeWolfe said he believed the defendant's version. "I know she must have a temper, but no matter how mad she was at Spider, there was no way she recklessly shot him."

Miss Longet will try to start working Monday with a probation officer who will recommend a sentence to state District Court George Lohr, Austin said.

She hopes to return soon to teaching French twice weekly at a local elementary school, he said.

AFTER VERDICT: Andy Williams holds hands with Claudine Longet as they walk from Pitkin county courthouse Friday night after jury returned guilty verdict in Ms. Longet's manslaughter trial. She was convicted of negligent homicide, a misdemeanor, and could get two years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. (AP Wirephoto)

FLAMING SNOWMOBILE: Harvey D. Sells, 47, of 3864 Laukus lane, St. Joseph township, was returning from Smitty's marine in Buchanan yesterday where he had just spent $200 getting his snowmobile repaired when snowmobile fell off trailer and burst into flames. Berrien sheriff's deputies said Sells was pulling trailer with pickup truck along US-31-33 in Royalton township when coupling broke. Safety chains held, but trailer whipped against rear of pickup, knocking over snowmobile which burst into flames when it hit the ground. Tri-Unit firemen put out blaze that destroyed snowmobile. No tickets were issued, deputies said. Sells said he had no insurance on snowmobile. (Staff photo)

Public Rail Crossing Hearings Scheduled

A proposal to close or upgrade Amtrak railroad crossings in state's department of highways and transportation department, if accepted, would close six crossings and upgrade nine others in Van Buren county, and in Cass county, six would be

Van Buren and Cass counties will be discussed at public hearings in each county next week.

The proposal prepared by the closed with improvements required at six other crossings. A state highways and transportation department official said there is no immediate plan to close crossings in Berrien county, but he did not rule out such a possibility at a later date.

Improving crossings not to be closed would require installation of flashing lights and gates, according to road commission officials.

The county road commission departments and villages would have to share in the costs of funding crossing signals which cost up to $50,000 to $70,000 per crossing.

The public hearing in Van Buren county Tuesday is scheduled for 10 a.m. at the county road commission office at Lawrence.

The public hearing in Cass county will be Wednesday, at 9

a.m., at the county road commission office in Cassopolis.

In Van Buren county, under consideration for closing are crossings at 40th street, 42nd street, and 38th street in Decatur township; 72nd avenue west of Lawton; and East and Park streets in Decatur village.

Amtrak officials have said they want those crossings closed, and safety flashers and gates added at others, as part of plan to increase the speed of passenger trains from 60 to 79 miles per hour along the Port Huron to Chicago route.

The plan also calls for speeds to be raised to 90 m.p.h. within five years, and 120 m.p.h. within 10 years.

In Decatur township the plan calls for the installation of flashing signs and gates at the 39th street, 45th street, 46th street, and CR-665 crossings. In Decatur village flashers would be modernized and gates added at the Williams, George, and Sherwood street crossings.

In Mattawan, flashing signs and gates would be installed at the main track crossing on Webster street, and the crossing at McGillen avenue.

In instances where closings are involved, the affected road would deadend on both sides, according to Paul Kaiser, road commission engineer-manager.

Decatur township, school, and fire department officials have already indicated they plan to oppose the closings because they will cause problems for rural residents in traveling to the village, and increase the mileage school buses and fire trucks must travel.

Kaiser said he did not foresee any major problems, but admitted school buses would have to change their routes. In the case of 72nd avenue, he said, Ewing road would still be opened.

On 38th street there are only three property owners south of 76th avenue who would be seriously affected, and on 40th street only two owners south of 80th avenue who might have problems, he said.

Kaiser said he considers Tuesday's hearing by the state highway and transportation department largely a formality, and doubted whether any of those who hope to keep the crossings open will have much success.

Collins said he was angered by the proposed movie, titled "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep." It is to be produced by Highland Park, Mich., furniture dealer Ira Silver at a reported cost of $1.5 million.

"They're exploiting a situation. Human beings don't mean anything to them," said Collins, who was convicted of first-degree murder in 1970 in the death of 18-year-old Karen Sue Beineman.

Both the Michigan Supreme Court and the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals have denied motions by Collins' attorney for a new trial. The U.S. Supreme Court is being petitioned to hear the motion.

Collins charged in the interview that Delhey and his assistant, Booker Williams, withheld evidence which could have cleared him.

Convicted Killer Is Bitter About Movie

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Convicted killer John Norman Collins says his chances of getting a new trial could be destroyed by a new book and proposed movie linking him to a string of coed sex slayings.

"These people don't care about me or anyone else," a bitter Collins said in his first extensive interview since he was sent to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for the 1969 strangulation of a college coed.

Orion Flowers, Decatur, director of the Tri-County Council for Child Development, said the grant would be used to serve 140 children from low-income families, primarily preschoolers, in preparing them for school and for cultural enrichment.

Rick Spear, assistant press secretary for Riegler, said the one-year grant from the public health service office of child development is for $155,262.

Orion Flowers, Decatur, director of the Tri-County Council for Child Development, said the grant would be used to serve 140 children from low-income families, primarily preschoolers, in preparing them for school and for cultural enrichment.

Flowers said the Head Start grant would serve 20 children at its Benton Harbor office, 809 Territorial; 20 through its home-start program in southwestern Berrien county; 60 at its classrooms just north of Niles, (from Niles, Cassopolis and Dowagiac) and another 40 throughout Van Buren county via the program's mobile classroom unit.

This is the fifth consecutive year the Tri-County Council for Child Development has received direct grants for its operation.

Mittan's Message Was The Shortest--And Best

State Rep. Ray Mittan, Niles Republican, talked off the cuff in a WHFB interview this week, but he gave a better "state of the state" message than others who read long, prepared statements.

"Any legislative program that doesn't help Michigan business isn't worth a plugged nickel," Mittan declared.

"What this state needs is jobs, not more bureaucracy."

"The cost of what we've got now in the way of fancy programs is driving business out of the state."

Gov. William Milliken, a fellow Republican, appears to agree, although it took him much longer than Mittan to say so.

The governor, in addressing the Legislature with the Chief Executive's traditional message, devoted about one-fourth of that message to proposals that would improve the state's business climate.

The latter, said Mittan, is so bad that industrial firms are leaving the state in droves. Michigan's No. 1 problem is to halt the exodus, he added.

Mittan thoroughly disagreed with an address delivered to the House of Representatives by Speaker Bobby D.

It'll Likely Be A Little Louder

Political oratory on the floor of the United States Senate has been subdued in recent years, unlike other eras when strong personalities dominated the scene. The change of leadership by both parties in the Senate this year could spark livelier legislative battles in the 95th Congress.

Former Sens. Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott, retired leaders of their respective parties, both were men who preferred quiet negotiating to visible partisanship in Senate business. The two who have replaced them, Robert Byrd and Howard Baker, are not the same mold.

Byrd is an indefatigable legislative mechanic who presses his position with calm but relentless conviction. Baker is an ambitious lawmaker with a spark of oratorical ability who is eager to prepare himself for better things from his party.

That combination could enliven Senate activities more than a little.

Private Colleges Tell Lawmakers: 'Go Easy'

Nothing is detracted from the services performed by publicly-supported colleges and universities by

Crim, Davison Democrat. Crim called for a variety of social welfare improvements and laid great emphasis on "fiscal reform."

Rep. Mittan couldn't be more accurate if he had given a 60-minute speech.

Bobby Crim and the Detroit-dominated Democratic majorities in both houses of the Legislature like to tax and spend. Men like these don't really believe in free enterprise; they believe in total government control.

But they know that every poll shows the bulk of Americans to be conservative; state socialism is a phrase that alienates most voters, Democrats as well as Republicans.

Although Speaker Crim's kind of "dole and control" government isn't called socialism, its adverse impact on free enterprise is just as bad as if it were called by its right name.

Michigan's tax burdens, plus overly-generous workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance programs, reduce Michigan's ability to compete with other states for new industry.

Social services programs rife with cheating and built-in inducements to sloth have created cesspools of crime in most Michigan cities; a violent environment that drives business to the suburbs or, worse yet, entirely out of the state.

Detroit, for example, lost nearly one-fifth of its major manufacturing industries between 1970 and 1975, the Associated Press reported this week. By actual count, the AP said, 284 of 1,322 major manufacturing firms moved out of Detroit during the five-year period.

Free enterprise wasn't made in heaven. But it isn't any accident that in countries where you don't have free enterprise, you don't have true political or philosophic freedom.

There's a way the state's lawmakers can really help present and future residents of Michigan.

Gov. Milliken put strong priority in his annual message on (1) improving the business climate, (2) bringing welfare programs under control, and (3) attacking crime. If the legislators confine themselves solely to working on these goals, they'll do more for the people of the state than anything that has been done since Bump Elliott and Duffy Daugherty brought home Rose Bowl victories.

SAYS COMMITTEE IS REAL DANGER

Editor:

I should like to write to you about that Committee on the Present Danger. They held a press conference in Washington on Nov. 11, 1976. This Committee is led by former Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler, labor leader Lane Kirkland, former Defense Department official David Packard and others in Washington circles. Their purpose is to increase defense spending because of "an unparalleled Soviet military buildup."

This Committee on the Present Danger is loaded with veteran Soviet apologists, disarmament promoters, and members of the Council on Foreign Relations. For instance, Paul H. Nitze, a CFR member, and a high Defense Department official from the Kennedy-Johnson administration, and a Nixon disarmament expert. He, too, has been named as a Carter advisor. But now, after he has gotten us into whatever problems we now face, we are supposed to follow his advice and trust his judgment on matters involving national security and military preparedness.

I think that the purpose of the Committee on the Present Danger is to propagandize Americans into believing Soviet might is so great that our nation must submit to the Communist will. The reason for this is that they have not suggested that the United States cease financing this Soviet buildup. For we know that without U.S. technology, equipment, credits, and other forms of aid, the Soviet Union would amount to nothing.

Antony Sutton has written a couple of books to prove that the Soviet machine was built in the West and by the West, but we didn't hear of the fear-mongers distributing his books, did we? Have any of them called for an end to one-way detente and unilateral disarmament?

Neither have we heard any outcry about U.S. financing of the huge Kama River truck factory, or the sale of computers to the Soviets, or the cancellation of Soviet debts.

For the Committee to appear on the level with this Soviet power "stuff", these Joes better get going on demands that our government cease fueling the Red machine. It looks to me as if the Committee on the Present Danger is itself a present danger.

Representative:

The 95th Congress has already violated the Constitution (Art. 2, 3, 4, 5, and Amendment 20) but let us look at the last hours of the 94th Congress when all that confusion is at its peak — the transition period between November 2 and January 3.

H.R. 11337 was passed by both houses of Congress. This bill has changed the census taking period of ten years and reduced the period to five years. Art. 1, Sect. 2, Clause 3; Amendment 14, Sect. 1, 3 and 4, has been violated. Also, Art. 1, Sect. 5, has been violated.

If H.R. 11337 is just a bill and not an amendment to our Constitution, it violates Art. 5.

Apparently your 4th district constituency was not aware of Amendment 14, Sect. 3, because you are, now, in fact, Our Representative.

Enclosed you will find the Constitution of The United States of America and a book — 500 pages — which explains what our Constitution is all about. Total cost for Liberty, $2.45 and a lot of guts.

Do You REMEMBER?

— 50 Years Ago —

That the motorboat is challenging the popularity of the automobile was given further proof yesterday when the Dachell-Carter Shipbuilding Co., Inc., Benton Harbor, received a single order for 100 mahogany runabouts, to be distributed by a nationally-known motorboat concern the name of which was not revealed by officials of the local company. The craft are to be constructed as rapidly as possible and a large force of boat builders and cabinet makers will be added to the Dachell-Carter payroll immediately.

Late yesterday afternoon the Farmers and Merchants bank of Benton Harbor consolidated with the Citizens State bank which was organized in Benton Harbor two years ago by Fred E. Lee of Dowagiac and C.M. Edick of Benton Harbor. The officers of the Farmers and Merchants are checking over the securities and the cash of the Citizens bank today and for a few days the Citizens bank will be open for business as usual. By the end of the present week the bank will probably be closed and all the deposits transferred upon the books of the Farmers and Merchants bank.

Stevensville — Although it is generally conceded that the dominant party is the party of sobriety, par "excellence," yet it is apparent that there are a few individual exceptions, one of which is exemplified in the case of one of the leading business men of Stevensville, who was found by a friend a few days since making a crooked fence up the sidewalk in St. Joseph. "Hello!" exclaimed the friend, "I thought you was too good a republican to be found in this condition." "Publican, publican! Yes, I've been a good, publican all my life, but somehow when I come to St. Joe I most always find myself performing these Democratic tricks;" and away he went making obtuse angles up the street.

Limited Wars, Unwinnable Wars

WASHINGTON — Like President Ford's policy-makers, the men Mr. Carter has chosen for foreign affairs and defense, almost without exception, were schooled in a concept dominant since World War II: Wars are not winnable.

This belief led to our experiment with limited wars in Korea and in South Vietnam — to collapse in Saigon and to continued dangerous uncertain bubbling on the Korean peninsula.

Even more seriously, this policy has dominated our strategic defense buildup. That is, it has led to the concept that our arms have one aim and one aim only — the prevention of war. Our thinking is based on the belief that nuclear war, once it starts, is not only unwinnable, but unthinkable.

Any one in his right mind must agree that prevention of war must be our paramount aim. But once we add the belief that a nuclear conflict is unwinnable, and so tailor our forces, we invite war.

If our forces are not designed for victory — only to threaten destruction — and if the opponent's are designed for winning regardless of the destruction involved, this is an open invitation to a power-hungry totalitarian state.

There's another basic flaw in our logic. We assume that whoever is running Russia at any particular moment will be moved by the same reasoning and worries we face. And by the same concern over loss of life and property.

We have, therefore, assumed that if this country has a nuclear force large enough to withstand Soviet first strike and retaliate, destroying a significant percentage of the Soviet population and Soviet industry, the Kremlin will back away from war.

Our planners as a result are greatly influenced by reports of the mass-evacuation civil defense programs of the Soviet Union are largely paper plans, unlikely to be workable in an emergency.

I submit that this is false logic. Vietnamese Communist leader Ho Chi Minh demonstrated in the war against the French, in the political and economic programs he fostered and in the fighting against the South Vietnamese and ourselves that he would risk any loss of life and of property if necessary to achieve his aims.

History teaches us also that the Soviet Union does not regard the lives of ordinary citizens as democracies do. To achieve economic objectives, they have allowed millions to starve. To achieve political goals, they have eliminated or imprisoned virtually for life untold numbers of their citizenry.

What our planners ignore in their comforting reports on the ineffectiveness of Soviet mass evacuation programs, is that these same plans call for thorough protection for selected officials, essential production workers and for key military defense personnel.

The data suggests, in fact, that the Soviet Union could survive a nuclear war with sizable powers of recuperation through with a decimated population.

This is not to suggest Leonid Brezhnev and his associates are planning a nuclear war. They have, to date, shown great caution. It is more likely they will use their new strength as an umbrella to give them more leeway in Africa, the Middle East, Asia and Latin America — believing that we will not stand firm if the odds are clearly against our own survival in a showdown.

But in a totalitarian system it is impossible to foresee who will rule next year, or 10 years down the pike.

In sum, we don't know what the eventual Russian goal is. But we do know that at present they're building more than they require for purely defensive purposes.

Morality Based On Religion

Starlingly enough, the Supreme Court of the State of New Jersey has handed down an opinion that is going to cause a good deal of intellectual trouble for secularists and religious skeptics. In fact, altogether unknowingly, the court found itself in agreement with one of the main traditions of Western religious philosophy, which holds that moral principles and religious belief are inseparable.

In a decision regarding abortion, the court ruled that if this is a philosophical significance, the court ruled that nonprofit, nonsectarian hospitals may not prohibit the use of their facilities for abortions. The language of the decision, expressing the rationale behind it, is of particular interest.

After stating that "The hospital rule and regulation should be related to the hospital's purposes and operational needs," Judge Sidney M. Schreiber continued on behalf of the 6-1 majority:

"Moral concepts cannot be the basis of a nonsectarian, nonprofit, nonesmynous hospital's regulations where that hospital is holding out the use of its facilities to the general public."

Ponder that sentence. The court is saying here that in the absence of "sectarian" — that is, religion — belief, the hospital is a mere mechanism, like an internal combustion engine or a balance slice. "Moral concepts" cannot influence that mechanism as long as it remains as "nonsectarian." The mechanism is merely there to be used. No one except the user can tell the internal combustion engine in what direction to power the car, or the balance slice where or not to slice balance.

In its next two sentences, the court made that position unmistakably clear. "The board of trustees or directors, although vested with managerial direction within the framework of the hospital's functions and purposes, may not pre-empt unrelated policies. When it does

About $3,000 union workers crowded into a meeting hall late Friday and approved the new contract by vote vote.

Special Observance Jan. 18-25

Amid conflicting signs of new divisions and unprecedented agreements, Christian churches across the nation and throughout the world will observe the 70th annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, Jan. 18-25.

The annual observance, which begins Tuesday, Jan. 18, looks to that future day when, according to the prayer of Jesus, "all will be one."

The theme for the 1977 observance, "This hope does not disappoint us," is taken from the fifth chapter of St. Paul's Letter to the Romans, often described as "the most powerful of all Paul's writings in its influence upon Christian theology and faith."

The theme was selected by the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute, with headquarters in Graymoor, N.Y., and the Faith and Order Commission of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Describing hope as "an appropriate response to the various moods prevailing in church and society today," the Rev. Arthur F. Gouthro, SA, director of the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute, finds encouragement in the "greater willingness" on the part of Christian churches "to negotiate and to discuss once forbidden topics."

"Even where strong disagreements among the churches remain," Fr. Gouthro points out, "there is an eagerness to maintain friendly relations all the same."

"Christian hope," he explains, "looks primarily to the future, not to the past or even to the present, for the inspiration to create a more humane world order."

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity was first observed as the Church Octave. It was begun at Graymoor in 1908 by the Rev. Paul Wattson, SA, an Episcopal priest who became a Roman Catholic one year later.

Commenting on the origins of the Week of Prayer, the Rev. Charles V. LaFontaine, SA, associate director of the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute and co-author of "Prophet of Reunion: The Life of Paul of Graymoor," stresses "how unpromising, how visionary, how controversial such prayer for Christian unity seemed in those pre-ecumenical days."

According to Fr. LaFontaine, "when Father Paul began his prayer movement in America during 1908, the future did not look at all promising."

Responding to an English colleague's suggestion, Fr. Wattson prepared several thousand letters and sent them to clergy and laity all over the country, inviting them to join in the first celebration of his "octave" during January, 1908. "Response to Father Paul's request varied widely," Fr. LaFontaine reports. "A few saw nothing wrong in supporting what seemed to be a harmless pious exercise. Others were enraged and called Father Paul a traitor. Most, however, were quite enthusiastic in agreeing to participate in the new enterprise."

Today the Week of Prayer is sponsored by the Commission on Faith and Order of the National Council of Churches in collaboration with the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute and the Commission on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches. It is recommended by the Bishops' Committee for Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Observed throughout the world, the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity has continued over the years as a "permanent dialogue of spirituality" which, in the words of one observer, expresses, "what should happen during the whole year."

Amtrak Seeks To Upgrade Tracks For Higher Speeds In Cass And Van Buren

Van Buren and Cass counties will be discussed at public hearings in each county next week.

The proposal prepared by the state's department of highways and transportation department, if accepted, would close six crossings and upgrade nine others in Van Buren county, and in Cass county, six would be closed with improvements required at six other crossings.

A state highways and transportation department official said there is no immediate plan to close crossings.

a.m., at the county road commission office in Cassopolis.

In Van Buren county, under consideration for closing are crossings at 40th street, 42nd street, and 38th street in Decatur township; 72nd avenue west of Lawton; and East and Park streets in Decatur village.

Amtrak officials have said they want those crossings closed, and safety flashers and gates added at others, as part of

passenger trains from 60 to 79 miles per hour along the Port Huron to Chicago route.

The plan also calls for speeds to be raised to 80 m.p.h. within five years, and 120 m.p.h. within 10 years.

In Decatur township the plan calls for the installation of flashing signs and gates at the 38th street, 45th street, 46th street, and CR-685 crossings. In Decatur village flashers would be modernized and gates added at the Williams, George, and Sherwood street crossings.

In Mattawan, flashing signs and gates would be installed at the main track crossing on

Webster street, and the crossing at McGillen avenue.

In instances where closings are involved, the affected road would deadend on both sides, according to Paul Kaiser, road commission engineer-manager.

Decatur township, school, and fire department officials have already indicated they plan to oppose the closings because they will cause problems for rural residents in traveling to the village, and increase the mileage school buses and fire trucks must travel.

Kaiser said he did not foresee any major problems, but admitted school buses would have to change their routes. In the case of 72nd avenue, he said,

Ewing road would still be open.

On 38th street there are only three property owners south of 76th avenue who would be seriously effected, and on 40th street only two owners south of 80th avenue who might have problems, he said.

Kaiser said he considers Tuesday's hearing by the state highway and transportation department largely a formality, and doubted whether any of those who hope to keep the crossings open will have much success.

The cost of closing and upgrading crossings maintained by the county is estimated at $337,630, he said. That includes 38th, 39th, 40th, 42nd,

45th, and 46th streets, 72nd avenue, and CR-685.

He predicted about $90,000 of the cost would be paid for by federal funds, with the county and the railroad splitting the remaining roughly $270,000. He said the road commission's $15,000 cost will mean less road construction and maintenance

this summer.

Costs for the crossings in the villages of Decatur and Mattawan have not been computed,

Kaiser said, but would be split on a 50-50 basis between the villages and the railroad.

Vernon Hendershot, Cass county road commission engineer-manager, said roads slated to be closed and to be come dead ends in Cass county are Korn and Burton streets in Howard township and Welks and Beeson streets in Pekagon township.

He said that crossings that would be closed, but connected by service roads to other crossings, are Atwood road in Wayne township and Klumbus road in Pekagon township.

Crossings that would remain open, but at which some improvements would be needed, were identified by Hendershot

Howard township; Peavine

Gage, Twin Lakes road; Dewey

Lake road, and Glenwood road,

Temple Night Begins Tuesday

The congregation of Peace Temple United Methodist church, Benton Harbor, is embarking on a new church experience patterned after the first century church, according to Dr. Carlos Page, pastor.

Commencing Tuesday, Jan. 18, and each Tuesday thereafter, the fellowship will gather for Temple Night. It will begin with a potluck supper at 6 p.m. At 6:45 p.m., all will be invited to the sharing and study groups. Youth and adults will participate together in these intergenerational studies. #### No. 274. The King's Dream

During the second year of his reign, King Nebuchadnezzar was troubled by a mysterious, frightening dream; however, when he awoke, he could not recall the dreams. He ordered his astrologers, magicians and sorcerers to recall the dream or face destruction. Daniel and his three companions prayed to God and received the dream and the interpretation, and Daniel gave it to the king.

"Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him." (Daniel 2:46)

"Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon. Then Daniel requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the gate of the king." (Daniel 2:48-49)

'I Found It' Blossoming Everywhere

Interdenominational Evangelistic Drive

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The catchy, enigmatic phrase, "I found it," is blossoming in cities across the country.

"You can find it too!" tease the bumper stickers, billboard signs, newspaper ads, television and radio spots and lapel buttons. A telephone number is supplied for finding out how.

That is the transaction being promised in a spreading number of cities, 165 of them so far with others soon to be included, in one of the most broad-scale, highly promoted evangelistic drives ever staged in the nation.

It's called, "Here's Life America!"

Planned and coordinated by Campus Crusade for Christ, headed by William R. Bright, of Arrowhead Springs, Calif., the effort has enlisted and trained an estimated 400,000 clergy and laity to help disseminate the message.

Altogether, by next June, they're expected to have blanketed 225 metropolitan areas and about 5,000 smaller communities with their appeal, contacting 60 million homes, 90 per cent of U.S. households.

"To our knowledge, there never was anything like it in history," says Robert Pittenger, special assistant to Bright. "We're finding a hunger for God all across the country. It reflects a movement of the Spirit."

Interdenominational in scope, with local churches which choose to take part including some of nearly ever denomination, the effort has stirred both high praise and sharp criticism.

The most significant innovation in American evangelism since the Great Awakening, the Rev. Peter Wagner of Fuller Seminary says in promotional materials, referring to the early American evangelistic surge of the 1730's.

The Rev. Donald E. Riggs of West Morris Street Free Methodist Church in Indianapolis says that as a result of the drive, "we have a rejuvenated, spiritualized congregation like we've never had before."

But there also has been strong criticism.

The drive's "huckstering and other hard-sellers" tend to produce a "hardline reaction to the religious hypostasis that will reflect against religion itself," says the Rev. Dr. Martin Marty of the University of Chicago Divinity School.

The Rev. J. Randolph Taylor of Myers Park Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N.C., says the drive erroneously presents "new life" in Christ "as a possession to be added to other possession," rather than as costly service.

"The glorious Gospel becomes a commodity sold and delivered to the doorstep like a brush or bar of soap," he writes in the ecumenical weekly, Christian Century. He says the drive "depends upon gimmicks" and wrongly presents Christ in hard-sell "imperialistic" terms.

Also, he adds, "the expense involved in employing these techniques is astounding."

No over-all cost figures are available, since expenses are raised locally, but with these averaging around $100,000 to $150,000 per city, the total for the eventual 225 cities would range from an estimated $22.5 million to $33.7 million.

Each city drive is launched with a week of promotional inducements, with participants manning telephones for followup with inquirers. There are subsequent home visits, presentation of literature, door-to-door neighborhood canvases, and a five-week Bible study course for new converts.

They're encouraged to join a church of their preference to nurture continued spiritual growth.

The drive began with a test visits, with 536,824 expressing decisions for Christ, and 60,473 enrolled in Bible studies.

Pittenger says a special benefit of the drives is greater unity among participating churches of various denominations, and a new awareness that members — as well as clergy — have a duty in spreading the word of God's saving love for all who accept it.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Poem That Says It All

Dear Ann Landers: Not being an all-out, bra-burning Women's Libber, but a young wife who is anxious to see the ERA ratified, I ran across a poem that says it all. Will you please print it?

Woman was made from the rib of man.

She was not created from his head — to top him.

From his feet — to be stepped on.

She was made from his side — to be equal to him.

From beneath his arm — to be protected by him.

Near his heart — to be loved by him. — Unsigned From Saginaw

Dear Unsigned: Lovely. Thank you for sharing it with my readers.

Inside Counts

Dear Ann: I'd like to say a word to "irritated in Michigan" who accused you of being a bigot because you said, "No one has to go through life with kinky hair these days unless he wants to."

I am a white, Anglo-Saxon,

Protestant female, born with very curly hair, which I proudly wear in an Afro. My white friends call me "Wasp," my black friends call me "Soul Sister." We all agree it doesn't matter what you look like on the outside, but what's on the inside that counts.

Anyone who reads your column should know what you are like on the inside. It comes through loud and clear. You don't need to be defended.

The person who wrote that letter is overly sensitive to his or her "ethnic" characteristics. I believe a little soul-searching is in order. — Your Sister — And Yours — And Yours . . .

Dear Sis: Thanks for the upfront response. Dozens of readers wrote to express the same point of view — but you said it best.

Young Fans

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by three 13-year-olds who like your column very much. We get mad when people write in and criticize your answers. After all, your readers want YOUR opinion, which is why they write to you.

We think your replies are very sensible and hope those mean readers don't hurt your feelings. Keep up the good work. — For You in Augusta, Maine

Dear F.M.: Actually, critical letters don't bother me. In fact, I learn from my readers. Sometimes they are right and I am wrong. But thanks for your vote of confidence, Pet.

This Dad Dead?

Dear Ann Landers: Your answer to "Deeply Concerned," the woman whose husband decided to have a sex change operation and wanted to know what their children should call their dad, wasn't one of your best.

Why didn't you say,

sure the least of his worries is what his kids will call him. In fact, he'd probably prefer that they didn't call him at all. — Upset

Dear Up: I have no first-hand knowledge of such situations (this is a relatively new wrinkle), but as time goes on we'll learn more about what happens to the family relationships of transsexuals. It should be interesting.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers's booklet, "Booze And You — For Teenagers Only." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

The POWER of FAITH

THE BIBLE No. 274. The King's Dream

During the second year of his reign, King Nebuchadnezzar was troubled by a mysterious, frightening dream; however, when he awoke, he could not recall the dream. He ordered his astrologers, magicians and sorcerers to recall the dream or face destruction. Daniel and his three companions prayed to God and received the dream and the interpretation, and Daniel gave it to the king.

"Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer a sacrifice and sweet odors unto him." (Daniel 2:46)

"Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon. Then Daniel requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon; but Daniel sat in the gate of the king." (Daniel 2:48-49)

'I Found It' Blossoming Everywhere

Interdenominational Evangelistic Drive

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The catchy, evocative phrase, "I found it," is blossoming in cities across the country.

"You can find it too!" tease the bumper stickers, billboard signs, newspaper ads, television and radio spots and lapel buttons. A telephone number is supplied for finding out how.

That is the transaction being promised in a spreading number of cities, 165 of them so far with others soon to be included, in one of the most broad-scale, highly promoted evangelistic drives ever staged in the nation.

It's called, "Here's Life America!"

Planned and coordinated by Campus Crusade for Christ, headed by William R. Bright, of Arrowhead Springs, Calif., the effort has enlisted and trained an estimated 400,000 clergy and laity to help disseminate the message.

Altogether, by next June, they're expected to have blanketed 225 metropolitan areas and about 5,000 smaller communities with their appeal, contacting 60 million homes, 80 per cent of U.S. households.

"To our knowledge, there never was anything like it in history," says Robert Pittenger, special assistant to Bright. "We're finding a hunger for God all across the country. It reflects a movement of the Spirit."

Interdenominational in scope, with local churches which choose to take part including some of nearly every denomination, the effort has stirred both high praise and sharp criticism.

The most significant innovation in American evangelism since the Great Awakening, the Rev. Peter Wagner of Fuller Seminary says in promotional materials, referring to the early American evangelistic surge of the 1730's.

The Rev. Donald E. Riggs of West Morris Street Free Methodist Church in Indianapolis says that as a result of the drive, "we have a rejuvenated, spiritualized congregation like we've never had before."

But there also has been strong criticism.

The drive's "huckstering and other hard-sell" tend to produce a "hardline reaction to the religious hypocrisies that will reflect against religion itself," says the Rev. Dr. Martin Marty of the University of Chicago Divinity School.

The Rev. J. Randolph Taylor of Myers Park Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N.C., says the drive erroneously presents "new life" in Christ "as a possession to be added to other possession," rather than as costly service.

"The glorious Gospel becomes a commodity sold and delivered to the doorstep like a brush or bar of soap," he writes in the ecumenical weekly, Christian Century. He says the drive "depends upon gimmicks" and wrongly presents Christ in hard-sell "imperialistic terms."

Also, he adds, "the expense involved in employing these techniques is astounding."

No over-all cost figures are available, since expenses are raised locally, but with these averaging around $100,000 to $150,000 per city, the total for the eventual 225 cities would range from an estimated $22.5 million to $33.7 million.

Each city drive is launched with a week of promotional inducements, with participants manning telephones for followup with inquirers. There are subsequent home visits, presentation of literature, door-to-door neighborhood canvases, and a five-week Bible study course for new converts.

They're encouraged to join a church of their preference to nurture continued spiritual growth.

The drive began with a test run in Atlanta in 1975, in 18 other cities in the spring of 1976, with the main expansion coming in the last two months to 165 cities, with more booked in the six months ahead.

In the last four weeks, spokesman say there have been more than 2 million inquiries at 217 telephone centers, 8.5 million personal contacts on

Poem That Says It All

Dear Ann Landers: Not being an all-out, bra-burning Women's Libber, but a young wife who is anxious to see the ERA ratified, I ran across a poem that says it all. Will you please print it?

Woman was made from the rib of man.

She was not created from his head — to top him.

Not from his feet — to be stepped on.

She was made from his side — to be equal to him.

From beneath his arm — to be protected by him.

Near his heart — to be loved by him. — Unsigned From Saginaw

Dear Unsigned: Lovely. Thank you for sharing it with my readers.

Inside Counts

Dear Ann: I'd like to say a word to "irritated in Michigan" who accused you of being a bigot because you said, "No one has to go through life with kinky hair these days unless he wants to."

I am a white, Anglo-Saxon,

Protestant female, born with very curly hair, which I proudly wear in an Afro. My white friends call me "Wasp," my black friends call me "Soul Sister." We all agree it doesn't matter what you look like on the outside, but what's on the inside that counts.

Anyone who reads your column should know what you are like on the inside. It comes through loud and clear. You don't need to be defended.

The person who wrote that letter is overly sensitive to his or her "ethnic" characteristics. I believe a little soul-searching is in order. — Your Sister — And Yours — And Yours . . .

Dear Sir: Thanks for the up-front response. Dozens of readers wrote to express the same point of view — but you said it best.

Young Fans

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by three 13-year-olds who like your column very much. We get mad when people write in and criticize your answers. After all, your readers want YOUR opinion, which is why they write to you.

We think your replies are very sensible and hope those mean readers don't hurt your feelings. Keep up the good work. — For You In Augusta, Maine

Dear F.M.: Actually, critical letters don't bother me. In fact, I learn from my readers. Sometimes they are right and I am wrong. But thanks for your vote of confidence, Pet.

This Dad Dead?

Dear Ann Landers: Your answer to "Deeply Concerned," the woman whose husband decided to have a sex change operation and wanted to know what their children should call their dad, wasn't one of your best.

Why didn't you say,

sure the least of his worries is what his kids will call him. In fact, he'd probably prefer that they didn't call him at all. — Upset

Dear Up: I have no first-hand knowledge of such situations (this is a relatively new wrinkle), but as time goes on we'll learn more about what happens to the family relationships of transsexuals. It should be interesting.

Even if drinking is the "in" thing in your crowd, it needn't crowd you out. Learn the facts from Ann Landers's booklet, "Booze And You — For Teenagers Only." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

but it was all over. South ruffed the club, ruffed another club, and another heart, got back to his hand with a third club ruff, pulled East's last two trumps, scored his contract trick with his last two tricks.

East could have seen all this coming and could have played a low trump. South would get to ruff one heart with the ace of trumps, but East's Jack would overruff the next one to hold South to nine tricks.

It is hoped that these initial studies will, before long, be translated to human needs.

Today, it is being tried and is successful in experimental animals. Dr. David Worthen and Dr. Marshall Orioff, of the University of California Medical Center in San Diego, have transplanted the pancreas in these animals. Their studies in these diabetic animals reveal an interesting fact. The eye complications associated with severe diabetes were reduced in number and severity.

Carter Plans Slimmer Staff, No Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter's White House will take a four-pronged approach to running the government, using a shrunken staff without a designated chief.

Carter set aside time at his home in Plains, Ga., today to work on his inaugural speech. He had but one appointment, with Gerald Rafshoon, who put together his television commercials during the presidential campaign.

Carter aides here and in Plains announced the names of his top White House aides Friday and outlined how they will operate the executive office.

Six of the seven top aides, including Press Secretary Jody Powell, are Georgians.

Powell announced in Plains that:

—Hamilton Jordan, 32, associated with Carter since 1966 and his campaign director, will be assistant to the president to "act primarily in the area of political advice and activity."

Powell said Jordan "would be to some extent" Carter's administrative assistant, making him the closest thing to a chief of staff the incoming president will have.

—Stuart Eizenstat, 33, the Carter campaign's issues director and a principal author of the Democratic platform, will be assistant to the president for domestic affairs and policy.

Eizenstat has been Carter's issues adviser since his 1970 campaign for governor of Georgia.

—Jack Watson Jr., 38, who directed planning for the Carter administration during the fall campaign and coordinated transition planning after the election, will be assistant to the president for governmental relations and Cabinet secretary.

Watson's job will include

liaison with state and local governments.

—Frank Moore, 42, who was Carter's liaison to the Georgia legislature, will serve as his liaison with Congress. Moore was southern coordinator of the Carter campaign until midsummer, when he set up a liaison office with the House and Senate.

—Robert Lipshutz, 55, a prominent Atlanta attorney and treasurer of the Carter campaign, will be counsel to the President.

—Margaret "Midge" Costanza, 44, vice mayor of Rochester, N.Y., and co-chairperson of Carter's New York state campaign, will be assistant to the president for liaison with special and public interest groups.

Watson told reporters in Washington the White House will work this way:

—Zbigniew Brzezinski, head of the National Security Council, will be in charge of White House involvement in foreign and defense policy. He will deal with the president and secretaries of state and defense directly on some matters of national security.

—Eizenstat will be in charge of "pre-law" concerns — formulating domestic policy and proposing programs and legislation to carry it out. When states and local governments are involved, he will share Watson's role of liaison with governors and mayors.

—Watson will be in charge of "post-law" concerns — spot checking how existing programs work and whether legislation on the books is being enforced; "trouble shooting ... (and) crisis management" when necessary, and coordinating "communication between Cabinet members and between the secretaries and the president."

—Hamilton Jordan will "facilitate politically what we agree to do substantively. Politics and government cannot be separated. Hamilton's interests and my interests, and largely our talents, are complementary."

Snowbank Body Is Identified

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Police used fingerprints to identify a 37-year-old Muskegon man whose body was found in a snowbank.

Police said the victim, Gale Munson, apparently lived near where his body was discovered Thursday.

An autopsy has been scheduled, police said.

Donald Robbins found the body while shoveling a path behind his Muskegon home. Robbins told police he spotted legs jutting from the snowbank.

Officers said Munson's body apparently had been buried in the snowbank no more than four days.

No identification was found on the body, but officers found $121 in one pocket.

TODAY In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Jan. 15, the 15th day of 1977. There are 350 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1922, the Irish Free State was established.

On this date:

In 1535, King Henry VIII assumed the title, "Supreme Head of the Church" in England.

In 1919, Ignace Paderewski became the first premier of the newly created Republic of Poland.

In 1929, the United States ratified the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact renouncing war as a means of settling international disputes.

Also in 1929, the American civil rights leader, Martin Luther King Jr., was born in Atlanta.

In 1932, France completed pacification of French Morocco.

In 1971, the Aswan High Dam on Egypt's Nile River was dedicated.

Ten years ago: Icy winds and rough seas left little hope of finding 60 people missing after collision of a South Korean ferry and a warship.

Five years ago: Margarette II was proclaimed Queen of Denmark.

One year ago: Sara Jane Moore was sentenced to life imprisonment for an attempt to shoot President Ford in San Francisco in September.

Today's birthdays: Pianist Malcolm Frager is 42. Former child movie star Margaret O'Brien is 40.

Thought for today: I wish to preach, not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life. — President Theodore Roosevelt, 1858-1919.

DNR Says Post Season Deer Hunt 'Extremely Doubtful' This Year

By SUSAN AGER

Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A post-season deer hunt that had Upper Peninsula residents threatening to close their stores and markets apparently is off.

The Alger County hunt, which was to begin Sunday, was temporarily halted by a court order last week. On Friday, officials of the Department of Natural Resources said the hunt will be called off for good because there isn't enough time to revive it by another court order.

DNR deputy director Wayne Tody would say only it was "extremely doubtful" the hunt would be held at all. But when informed that DNR subordinates had told the Associated Press the hunt was "definitely" off, Tody replied:

"I think they're probably being realistic. I have to admit they're probably right that there isn't going to be any hunt."

But I think it would be a little breach of faith on our part to cancel it right now."

The DNR had ordered the hunt to kill 300 deer in the Beaver Basin area of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore. Officials, who estimated the herd at 650 animals, said overpopulation would starve many of the deer without such a hunt to "harvest" them.

Now, according to DNR wildlife specialist David Arnold,

"They're gonna die. Just write 'em off. And I think Alger County people can assume some responsibility for that."

Alger County residents had challenged the DNR count, protested the hunt, and said they would refuse to sell food, fuel or lodging to hunters. They recently hired a wildlife biologist to make a new count of the herd.

The state still plans to challenge the injunction issued last week by Alger County Circuit Judge Clair Hoehn. Officials said they will seek to overturn what they feel was a dangerous precedent in his ruling.

Tody said the final days of the hunt, which was to last until March 16, could still be held if the DNR is successful in reversing Hoehn's order by Feb. 4.

But the assistant attorney general handling the case said it would be at least three weeks before he could get to the Court of Appeals.

No. 1 Navy Job

For VanderVeen?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard F. VanderVeen, the Democrat who succeeded Gerald Ford to the U.S. Congress, says he has been assured his bid to become Secretary of the Navy will "receive very serious consideration."

VanderVeen, who lost his reelection campaign in Michigan's 5th district last fall, said the assurance came from Harold Brown, Defense Secretary-designate, after the two met Friday morning.

VanderVeen's comments came in a telephone interview with a Grand Rapids radio station (WCUZ).

However, VanderVeen said he doesn't know if he will get the post.

VanderVeen, 54, spent 7½ years on active duty with the Navy. He held the rank of Lt. (j.g.) when he left the service in 1952. He worked as a corporate lawyer until he won a special election to Congress in February, 1974, after Ford was named vice president.

VanderVeen was defeated last fall by Republican Harold Sawyer. Their struggle was Michigan's most expensive Congressional campaign last fall.

Judge's Ruling A Break For Accused VA Nurses

DETROIT (AP) — A federal judge has denied the prosecution the right to mention 24 poisoning incidents in the Veterans Administration hospital mass murder case.

The ruling is a victory for the two Filipino nurses charged in the case, Filippina Narciso, 38, and Leonora Perez, 32, who were indicted after an outbreak of breathing failures at the hospital in 1973. Both nurses were employed there at the time.

A federal grand jury alleged 15 victims suffered respiratory arrests — total loss of breathing — after being injected with a powerful drug that caused paralysis. Those 15 incidents were detailed in the indictments against the nurses.

There were reports the government planned to introduce testimony about 24 additional cases. But U.S. District Judge Philip Pratt ruled that.

"The government is prohibited from attempting to prove any episode of respiratory arrest other than those delineated in the indictment," Pratt said in a written ruling.

It formalized an order the judge issued Thursday. Pratt ordered the prosecution to turn over evidence which the defense claimed had been withheld. This included FBI interview reports that had been edited.

Prosecution attorneys declined comment. But Lawrence Burgess, one of four defense attorneys, said the judge's ruling was "important in the sense that we do not have to clutter up this already complex criminal trial with the almost impossible task of refuting these additional 24 points."

Burgess contended the government said all along it had no additional evidence linking the two nurses to the 24 additional breathing failures.

The order followed a four-hour closed hearing in the judge's chambers Thursday on a defense motion to dismiss the case. Pratt ordered all the testimony to be kept secret and postponed further hearings in the pretrial exam until next Tuesday. He said the targeted

High Blood Pressure Movie Due

A movie, "High Blood Pressure — Public Enemy No. 1", will be shown and blood pressure screening tests will be offered at a clinic to be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the lecture room of Mercy Hospital, Benton Harbor.

Jenny Bellows-Hunter, R.N., hypertension clinic nurse at the hospital, will conduct the clinic, which is open free to residents of southwestern Michigan.

The 25-minute movie will be furnished by the Kidney Foundation of Michigan. Blood pressure screening tests will be given to anyone requesting them following the movie. Questions concerning high blood pressure from the audience will be answered.

Thwarted Robber And Girlfriend Die

YARNELL, Ariz. (AP) — "I'll call you back and let you listen to the gun go off," a thwarted bank robber told a reporter before he and his girlfriend died in what the FBI calls an apparent murder-suicide.

Couple's 'Great Rubbish Hunt' Pays Off

ST. JOHNS, Mich. (AP) — A winning $10,000 lottery ticket was almost carted off by the trash collector after its owners tossed it out as just another loser.

Ronald Tomlinson, an auto body repairman, and his wife, Vicki, fished through their rubbish to retrieve the "instant bingo" winner after they realized what they had done.

Mrs. Tomlinson bought the winning ticket on the first day they were available and, after Tomlinson found the ticket in scratching off the waxy finish, tossed it into the trash.

On the ticket was the circled word "bingo." Mrs. Tomlinson, misunderstood the rules and thought she needed an entire row of "bingos" for a winner.

But hours later, Tomlinson read an advertisement in the new Michigan lottery game. He spotted the rule about the circled 'bingo' and the Great Rubbish Hunt was on.

LMC Seeks Part-Time Teachers

At least 17 part-time instructors are needed to teach second semester technical and occupational courses at Lake Michigan College, according to Ben Standen, LMC dean of occupational studies.

An increase in student enrollment and courses added to the occupational studies curriculum account for the need extra part-time instructors, Standen indicated.

With three exceptions, all classes for which instructors are sought will be taught at night. Classes start during the week of Jan. 24. While a master's degree is desirable, those with less than a master's degree will be considered and evaluated on the basis of experience in the subject area to be taught, Standen said.

The courses for which instructors are sought and the hours and days of the classes include:

Introduction to Data Processing, 7 to 10 p.m., Tuesdays; Introduction to Business, 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesday; Salesmanship,

7 to 10 p.m., Wednesdays; Principles of Economics (macro), 7 to 10 p.m., Thursdays; Small Business Management, 7 to 10 p.m., Thursdays; Office Management, 11 a.m. to noon, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Friday.

Law for Industrial Management Personnel, 7 to 10 a.m., Wednesdays; Technical Welding, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Tuesdays; Technical Welding, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Thursdays; Machine Tool Operation I, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays; Office Machines, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Elementary Blueprint Reading & Sketching, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Wednesdays; Advanced Blueprint Reading II, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Tuesdays; Fundamentals of Electricity and Magnetism, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Mondays; Electrical Control Circuit Logic, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Wednesdays; Basic Physics, 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

Persons interested in teaching technical and occupational courses on a part-time basis at the college second semester should contact Standen by telephone as soon as possible from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weekdays, at 927-3571, Ext. 402.

VanDenBerg said the training program is an affiliate of the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and has 18 evening classes scheduled for a period of eight to ten weeks. ## Ease Flu Shot Ban, Panel Asks

ATLANTA (AP) — Swine influenza vaccine — withheld after reports linking it to a rare paralyzing disease — should be made available again to adult Americans who want to be inoculated, a federal health committee says.

The Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' recommendation Friday would end a moratorium on the vaccine issued last month when health officials feared a connection between it and Guillain-Barre syndrome, a temporary paralysis that can be fatal. The federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta has since established a definite link between the vaccine and the syndrome.

The CDC emphasized that the recommendation dealt only with those persons who ask to receive inoculations and was not a resumption of the $135 million nationwide program begun by the government last October after a Ft. Dix, N.J., soldier died of swine flu.

"I don't think anybody expects the beginning of mass inoculation programs," a CDC spokesman said.

The committee recommended that the moratorium be lifted to allow inoculation of persons in high risk groups, such as the elderly and the chronically ill. The decision whether to offer the vaccine to other adults should be left up to individual physicians, it said.

Anyone receiving a flu shot be advised of the relationship between the vaccine and the syndrome, the committee urged.

Dr. David Sencer, director of the CDC and chairman of the advisory committee, told a news conference that he had read the recommendations to the assistant secretary for health, Dr. Theodore Cooper, in Washington. He said he would "hand-deliver them to him tomorrow. I would certainly recommend that they be accepted."

Carter Plans Slimmer Staff, No Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter's White House will take a four-pronged approach to running the government, using a shrunken staff without a designated chief.

Carter set aside time at his home in Plains, Ga., today to work on his inaugural speech. He had but one appointment, with Gerald Ratner, who put together his television commercials during the presidential campaign.

Carter aides here and in Plains announced the names of his top White House aides Friday and outlined how they will operate the executive office.

Six of the seven top aides, including Press Secretary Jody Powell, are Georgians.

Powell announced in Plains that:

—Hamilton Jordan, 32, associated with Carter since 1966 and his campaign director, will be assistant to the president to "act primarily in the area of political advice and activity."

Powell said Jordan "would be to some extent" Carter's administrative assistant, making him the closest thing to a chief of staff the incoming president will have.

—Stuart Eizenstat, 33, the Carter campaign's issues director and a principal author of the Democratic platform, will be assistant to the president for domestic affairs and policy.

Eizenstat has been Carter's issues adviser since his 1970 campaign for governor of Georgia.

—Jack Watson Jr., 38, who directed planning for the Carter administration during the fall campaign and coordinated transition planning after the election, will be assistant to the president for governmental relations and Cabinet secretary.

Watson's job will include

liaison with state and local governments.

—Frank Moore, 40, who was Carter's liaison to the Georgia legislature, will serve as his liaison with Congress. Moore was southern coordinator of Carter's New York state campaign, will be assistant to the president for liaison with special and public interest groups.

Watson told reporters in Washington the White House will work this way:

1. Zbigniew Brzezinski, head of the National Security Coun-

sil, will be in charge of White House involvement in foreign and defense policy. He will deal with the president and secretaries of state and defense directly on some matters of national security.

2. Eizenstat will be in charge of "pre-law" concerns — formulating domestic policy and proposing programs and legislation to carry it out. When states and local governments are involved, he will share Watson's role of liaison with governors and mayors.

3. Watson will be in charge of "post-law" concerns — spot checking how existing programs work and whether legislation on the books is being enforced; "trouble shooting ... (and) crisis management" when necessary, and coordinating "communication between Cabinet members and between the secretaries and the president."

4. Hamilton Jordan will "facilitate politically what we agree to do substantively. Politics and government cannot be separated. Hamilton's interests and my interests, and largely our talents, are complementary."

Snowbank Body Is Identified

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Police used fingerprints to identify a 37-year-old Muskegon man whose body was found in a snowbank.

Police said the victim, Gale Munson, apparently lived near where his body was discovered Thursday.

An autopsy has been scheduled, police said.

Donald Robbins found the body while shoveling a path behind his Muskegon home. Robbins told police he spotted legs jutting from the snowbank.

Officers said Munson's body apparently had been buried in the snowbank no more than four days.

Appeals Fail; Gilmore Faces Death Monday

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Less than 48 hours before Gary Gilmore was to face a firing squad, death penalty opponents were uncertain about further pleas after two courts, Utah's governor and a state Supreme Court justice rejected efforts to stay the execution.

Separate appeals for stays filed here Friday were denied within minutes of each other by U.S. District Judge Aldon Anderson and Utah Third District Judge Dean Conder.

Gilbert Athay, one of the attorneys who had filed the federal court action, said attorneys would decide today whether to request a hearing on Anderson's ruling before the 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver.

Barring circuit court action or a stay by extraordinary means, it appeared that at sunrise Monday, Gilmore, 36, would become the first man executed in America since 1967.

Congress Gets Statehood Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's proposal to make Puerto Rico the nation's 51st state is now in the hands of Congress, but members of both parties say there is little prospect it will be approved. Ford submitted the proposal on Friday to a Congress more interested in next week's inauguration of President-elect Carter and in Ford's final budget, to be presented Monday. Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, took notice of the Puerto Rico proposal, but said he would confer with the incoming Carter administration before taking any action. Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., who is expected to be chairman of the House Interior Committee, said there was "little likelihood of action." Republican members of the two interior committees, to which a statehood bill would normally be sent, expressed similar views.

Deserter Denounces U.S.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — A U.S. Army deserter says he has applied for permanent residence in Czechoslovakia. William Joseph Black, 21, of Queens, N.Y., said in an appearance on Czech television Friday that he had been unhappy in America since returning from a visit to Czechoslovakia with his Czech-born mother last October, after his father died. He said that on his return he had to undergo a strict U.S. customs search and two hours of interrogation. He said the FBI searched his home and questioned neighbors during his absence. Army officials said Black had been absent without leave since Jan. 3, when he failed to return to Ft. Gordon, Ga. They said he had enlisted only last Dec. 1 and there was no indication that he was in any difficulty with the Army when he went on leave.

Generic Drug Law Signed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Pharmacists may sell generic drugs without a formal request from the customer under a bill that became law Wednesday. The measure signed by Gov. William Milliken also requires pharmacists to dispense a lower-cost drug upon request. Previously, under an attorney general's interpretation of existing laws, customers had to request a generic drug to get it. And pharmacists didn't have to sell the cheaper drug, even if the customer requested it. Generic drugs are those named by their chemical makeup instead of by brand name, and are normally less expensive than the chemically-equivalent brand name drugs. The new provisions would not apply when doctors specify in the prescription that a certain drug be dispensed.

Books For The Bats

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — The bats are back at Butte College, and baffled bosses of the bucolic campus are barking their books to banish the bevy of bothersome boarders. Ray Rice, an administrator at the college 100 miles northeast of San Francisco, said Friday that the temperature will be turned up to 110 degrees in the library this weekend to try to force the furry flying mammals to flee from the library ceiling. The bats, possibly 150 strong, returned to the community college library Thursday after an absence of eight months. They are squeaking and clattering between the ceiling and roof and distressing students. Rice said he thinks he knows why the bats go for the library and not other buildings. It was built in 1974 on an old underground spring, and the bats apparently had always come there to drink.

Milliken Will Ask Carter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. William Milliken will ask Jimmy Carter to give quick confirmation of the Michigan governor's power to veto the Navy's controversial Project Seafarer, Milliken aides say. Milliken intends to write Carter soon after next Thursday's inauguration seeking reassurance the governor can nix any effort to construct the underground communications grid in the Upper Peninsula. Milliken also wants Carter's assurance of veto power over any federal plans to bury nuclear wastes in northern Lower Michigan, aides said. Navy officials, meanwhile, say a forthcoming environmental impact statement on Project Seafarer will indicate the system poses no apparent health dangers to people or animals. The National Academy of Science study, to be released this spring, also will show Seafarer is necessary to the national defense, and that its design can be locally modified, project manager Capt. Charles Pollak said Friday.

Genetic Research Okayed

DETROIT (AP) — Research on creation of new forms of life has been approved by Wayne State University's Board of Governors, but the board placed rigid controls on the research. The board made the decision regarding research into (DNA), deoxyribonucleic acid. The substance contains the genetic messages which control inherited traits of all life. The board accepted the report of a special committee that proposed safety guidelines prepared by the National Institutes of Health. Critics say the research could create a genetic monster — such as a new virus. Supporters say it could lead to medical and industrial discoveries. The research will undergo scientific review and approval by the university's Biohazards Committee. Under the board's decision, no experiments will be conducted that require high physical containment levels.

Freedom Of Information'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has signed a "freedom of information" bill easing access to most public records in Michigan. The bill would open most records of government and public agencies for inspection and copying. Backers of the measure called it the most progressive open records bill in the country. The bill would exempt personal information, investigative records in some cases, some police information and competitive bids for government contracts. Lawsuits to compel disclosure of information by balky agencies could be moved to the top of a court docket under the law, and civil damages could be awarded to plaintiffs if agencies withhold records in bad faith.

Lottery Sales Increase

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lottery ticket sales increased 11 percent during the second half of 1976 compared with the same period in 1975, the Michigan lottery bureau said. Sales for the July-to-December period totaled $108.2 million compared with sales of $97.4 million for the second half of 1975, an increase of $10.8 million. Total sales in the 1975-76 fiscal year reached $226.7 million. The record enabled the state to retain its No. 1 sales position among the 13 state-run lotteries. The net profit generated for the state's general fund last year was $105 million. Since the lottery began in November 1972, some 1.4 billion tickets have been sold and more than $320 million has been paid out in prizes.

Cold RR Passenger Cars

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — No heat in passenger cars has caused Amtrak to cancel at least four commuter trains in the past two weeks, says an official in the state Highways and Transportation Department. Whenever one of the five-car trains is canceled, Amtrak must bus passengers from Jackson to Detroit, Jerry Rudnick said. "We have conveyed to Amtrak that this is ridiculous. We've had it and we think something should be done," said Rudnick, an official with the department's rail and bus division. In Washington, an Amtrak spokesman agreed the company had experienced heating problems and said rail officials were working to correct them. The commuter, called the "Michigan Executive," makes the 65-mile run between Jackson and Detroit twice daily. Between 160 and 230 passengers use the service each day, Rudnick said. The train originates in Jackson with

LMC Seeks Part-Time Teachers

At least 17 part-time instructors are needed to teach second semester technical and occupational courses at Lake Michigan College, according to Bill Stander, LMC dean of occupational studies.

An increase in student enrollment and courses added to the occupational studies curriculum account for the need extra part-time instructors, Stander indicated.

With three exceptions, all classes for which instructors are sought will be taught at night. Classes start during the week of Jan. 24. While a master's degree is desirable, those with less than a master's degree will be considered and evaluated on the basis of experience in the subject area to be taught, Stander said.

The courses for which instructors are sought and the hours and days of the classes include:

Introduction to Data Processing, 7 to 10 p.m., Tuesdays; Introduction to Business, 7 to 10 p.m., Wednesday; Salesmanship,

7 to 10 p.m., Wednesday; Principles of Economics (macro), 7 to 10 p.m., Thursdays; Small Business Management, 7 to 10 p.m., Thursdays; Office Management, 11 a.m. to noon, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Friday.

Ease Flu Shot Ban, Panel Asks

ATLANTA (AP) — Swine influenza vaccine — withheld after reports linking it to a rare paralyzing disease — should be made available again to adult Americans who want to be inoculated, a federal health committee says.

The Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices' recommendation Friday would end a moratorium on the vaccine issued last month when health officials feared a connection between it and Guillain-Barre syndrome, a temporary paralysis that can be fatal. The federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta has since established a definite link between the vaccine and the syndrome.

The CDC emphasized that the recommendation dealt only with those persons who ask to receive inoculations and was not a resumption of the $135 million nationwide program begun by the government last October after a Ft. Dix, N.J., soldier died of swine flu.

"I don't think anybody expects the beginning of mass inoculation programs," a CDC spokesman said.

The committee recommended that the moratorium be lifted to allow inoculation of persons in high risk groups, such as the elderly and the chronically ill. The decision whether to offer the vaccine to other adults should be left up to individual physicians, it said.

Anyone receiving a flu shot be advised of the relationship between the vaccine and the syndrome, the committee urged.

Dr. David Sencer, director of the CDC and chairman of the advisory committee, told a news conference that he had read the recommendations to the assistant secretary for health, Dr. Theodore Cooper, in Washington. He said he would "hand-deliver them to him tomorrow. I would certainly recommend that they be accepted."

Enrollments must be made by February 3, 1977.

Barring circuit court action or a stay by extraordinary means, it appeared that at sunrise Monday, Gilmore, 36, would become the first man executed in America since 1967.

James Dotsey, ACLU coordinating attorney, admitted following the court rulings that "things are looking more pessimistic. I can't believe it (the execution) will really come off, but I don't know." He said death penalty opponents planned further efforts to gain a stay but would not elaborate.

Gilmore has repeatedly demanded death over a life in prison for the July shooting death of motel clerk Bennie Bushell.

Anderson, ruling on an appeal filed by attorneys for other Death Row inmates who contended their cases would be adversely affected by Gilmore's execution, denied the motion after closing arguments.

"I sincerely believe this could have been presented earlier," Anderson said. "The heart of the judicial process is contemplative, reflective decisions. I don't look upon last-minute filings as an aid to the judicial process."

Freedom Of Information

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has signed a "freedom of information" bill easing access to most public records in Michigan. The bill would open most records of government and public agencies for inspection and copying. Backers of the measure called it the most progressive open records bill in the country. The bill would exempt personal information, investigative records in some cases, some police information and competitive bids for government contracts. Lawsuits to compel disclosure of information by bulky agencies could be moved to the top of a court docket under the law, and civil damages could be awarded to plaintiffs if agencies withhold records in bad faith.

Police said the shooting occurred at the Cunningham residence. Witnesses told police that Walker and Miss Cunningham had been arguing prior to the shooting.

Books For The Bats

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — The bats are back at Butte College, and baffled bosses of the bucolic campus are barking their books to banish the bevy of bothersome boarders. Ray Rice, an administrator at the college 100 miles northeast of San Francisco, said Friday that the temperature will be turned up to 110 degrees in the library this weekend to try to force the furry flying mammals to flee from the library ceiling. The bats, possibly 150 strong, returned to the community college library Thursday after an absence of eight months. They are squeaking and clattering between the ceiling and roof and distressing students. Rice said he thinks he knows why the bats go for the library and not other buildings. It was built in 1974 on an old underground spring, and the bats apparently had always come there to drink.

Lottery Sales Increase

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Lottery ticket sales increased 11 percent during the second half of 1976 compared with the same period in 1975, the Michigan lottery bureau said. Sales for the July-December period totaled $108.2 million compared with sales of $97.4 million for the second half of 1975, an increase of $10.8 million. Total sales in the 1975-76 fiscal year reached $224.7 million. The record enabled the state to retain its No. 1 sales position among the 43 state-run lotteries. The net profit generated for the state's general fund last year was $106 million. Since the lottery began in November 1972, some 1.4 billion tickets have been sold and more than $320 million has been paid out in prizes.

Cold RR Passenger Cars

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — No heat in passenger cars has caused Amtrak to cancel at least four commuter trains in the past two weeks; says an official in the state Highways and Transportation Department. Whenever one of the five-car trains is canceled, Amtrak must bus passengers from Jackson to Detroit, Jerry Rudnik said. "We have convened to Amtrak that this is ridiculous. We've had it and we think something should be done," said Rudnik, an official with the department's rail and bus division. In Washington, an Amtrak spokesman agreed the company had experienced heating problems and said rail officials were working to correct them. The commuter, called the "Michigan Executive," makes the 68-mile run between Jackson and Detroit twice daily. Between 160 and 220 passengers use the service each day, Rudnik said. The train originates in Jackson with stops in Chelsea, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

High Court Employee Charged

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan Supreme Court employee has been charged with first-degree criminal sexual conduct involving a 15-year-old boy who had been under his care in a foster home. Raymond Pilara, 33, of Detroit was arrested Thursday night by Detroit police after a youngster testified Pilara forced him to perform homosexual acts during the eight months he was Pilara's ward. Pilara stood mute at his arraignment Friday in Detroit Recorder's Court. Judge Susan Borman set bond at $50,000 and a preliminary exam was set for next Thursday. A spokesman for the high court said Pilara is supervisor of technical programmers for the judicial data system, a post he has held since the spring of 1974.

Traverse Bay Complex Cleared

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — The East Bay Township board of zoning appeals has cleared the way for construction of a $3 million to $5 million hotel-restaurant complex on Grand Traverse Bay. The board vetoed the development a year ago after some Traverse City residents said the proposed 200-room hotel would block the scenic view of the bay. The board approved a modified version of the original hotel plan, calling for a building 90 feet high — 36 feet higher than local zoning laws permit. Developer Louis Fisher of Southfield presented a new design plan showing the building would not obstruct the view of the bay. Originally, Fisher and architect Robert Tobin sought to erect an 11-story, 113-foot high structure on their property on the east side of Grand Traverse Bay.

Knock Off Bud Leader

Bucks Beat Brandywine

NILES — Buchanan threw the Blossomland race up for grabs here Friday night.

Using their zone press to near-perfection, the Bucks held off Brandywine 79-70, scrambling the Bud race among the four leaders.

The loss dropped the Bobcats into a tie for first with Cassopolis at 6-1. Buchanan upped its league record to 5-2, while River Valley stands 4-2.

Buchanan, which has won six straight for an overall record of 8-3, broke the game open in the second quarter. Using the zone press, the Bucks held Brandywine without a field goal for the first three-and-one-half minutes of the second period. A 16-2 scoring surge during that period gave Buchanan a 34-20 lead and the Bobcats got no closer than seven after that.

"I think defense is the thing which really won it for us," Buck coach Jon Bohannon said. "We were out on them, forcing them to start their offense farther from the basket than normal. I felt they were unsure of themselves at times."

The zone press also helped. We put our big people up front and it's tough for the opposition to find an open man. It's also hard to get the ball by them because they're not only big, but quick. Then when we get the ball, we've got our people in scoring position."

Forward Mo Kyles led Buchanan with 24 points and 14 rebounds, despite playing with a protective cast covering his broken nose.

"Mo's second and third efforts on the boards were the difference," Bohannon said. "We were getting more than one shot at the basket, while Brandywine was usually getting just one."

Donald Busby, southwestern Michigan's second best scorer, tallied just 18 points while plagued with foul trouble. But Buchanan's three other starters also cracked double digits with Greg Frazier adding 15 and Jon Kyles and Kevin Vanderbush 10 apiece.

Tim Rzepka tossed in 21; Greg Bestle 17 and Tony Harris 14 for Brandywine, now 10-2.

Both teams shot well with the Bobcats hitting on 32 of 62 from the floor for 52 per cent and the Bucks meshing 34 of 68 for 50 per cent.

Buchanan held a 36-32 board edge and turned the ball over 18 times to 21 for Brandywine.

Brandywine did win the junior varsity game 82-63 with Scott Reidenbach scoring 19 and Brad Grounds 18. Alan Ward tallied a game-high 22 for the Bucks.

Hot Rangers Burn RV

CASSOPOLIS — Cassopolis hit a deadly 50 per cent of its field goal shots while toppling River Valley 77-52 in Blossomland basketball action here Friday night.

The victory, combined with Buchanan's 79-70 triumph over Brandywine, left the Rangers in a tie for the Blossomland lead with Brandywine at 6-1 at the end of the first half of the league season.

Kevin Loder scored 18 points Friday night and Glen Hawkins added 16, Marshall Sinclair 12 and Armon Deans 10 as the Rangers meshed 34 of 68 shots.

"We were very selective in our shots," declared Cass coach Bob Follett. "We knew we had to be patient against River Valley."

Cassopolis jumped off to leads of 14-7 after the first quarter and 28-17 at halftime, and with that big advantage, the tempo of the game picked up in the second half (49 points).

"We played a tight 2-3 zone. We gave them the outside shots and tried to keep the ball from getting inside, and it worked on that."

River Valley, now 4-2 in the league and 6-4 overall, hit just 29 per cent of its field goals (19 of 65) while getting 15 points from Werner Maak and 12 from Steve Nash.

Defense Generates Lutheran Win

18 to 8 scoring edge in the last period.

"My team was still dazed from semester exams this week," declared Titan coach John Eggert. "But we went to a full court press for a few minutes in the last quarter and that pulled us up even."

Lutheran was losing by four with about two minutes remaining, but the Titans tied the score by following up Saugatuck turnovers with four points. A free throw by Guse with 22 seconds left finally gave Lutheran a lead it never relinquished.

Wolf got nine points in the last quarter surge, and Eggert gave special praise to Brink for a "super effort."

Both teams used zone defenses, and neither team shot well. Lutheran made 17 of 57 field goals (29 per cent) and Saugatuck 16 of 58 (28 per cent). At the free throw lines, the Titans swished 16 of 28 (57 per cent) and the Indians 12 of 21 (57 per cent).

Lutheran had a 41 to 36 rebounding edge, with Brink and Bruce Morris having eight each.

The Titans also had 16 turnovers, compared to Saugatuck's 19.

Saugatuck won the junior varsity preliminary 49-41.

Lutheran returns to action tonight visiting winless lake Michigan Catholic.

"We are taking them very seriously," declared Eggert. "They are very hungry for a win, and I don't want it to be us. I respect them. They are not as bad as their record."

Wright Stars As Bears Snap Losing Streak

By JOHN VANHORN HEDGE

Sports Editor

You can take St. Joseph off the critical list, Doc.

The Bear basketball had been slipping with a five-game losing streak, but they looked strong and well Friday night while beating Holland 73-75 in overtime at the St. Joe gym.

Senior star Dale Wright gave St. Joe the shot in the arm it needed by scoring 20 points and pulling down a season-high 22 rebounds. The 6-5 forward also scored the first two baskets of the overtime after regulation play had ended in a 73-73 deadlock.

Kenne Taylor and Pat Weber added 10 points each as St. Joe climbed out of the Big Seven basement. The Bears are now 2-4 in the league and 4-7 overall.

Holland fell to 1-3 in the league and 2-8 on the season while getting 16 points from Dan Molenar, 15 from Frank Petersen, 12 from Steve DeVette, 11 from Chuck Bobeldyk and 10 from Steve Van Tongeren.

St. Joe tried to pick up the tempo of the game Friday night — coach George Gaander said he had tried everything else in trying to shake the losing bug — and it looked like a good diagnosis for the Bears' ills.

St. Joseph did its best, fast breaking of the season in the fourth quarter while battling from behind. The Bears had trailed 10-12 after the first quarter, 30-37 at halftime and 55-54 at the end of three periods.

St. Joe got its first lead since the first quarter at 61-60 with 5:55 left in the game on a fast break basket by Weber.

It was close the rest of the way, with Molenar tying the game for Holland with 51 seconds remaining at 73-73. St. Joe had two chances to win it before time expired, but Wright missed on a one-and-one free throw opportunity and Paul Knuth missed a jump shot.

Wright got the first basket of the overtime and added the second by tipping in a missed free throw. Taylor clinched the victory with a pair of free throws, before the Dutch scored with two seconds left. They had missed their first five shots of the overtime period.

A switch to a zone defense in the second half got the St. Joe running game going. The Bears, who have rarely played a zone under Gaander, tried a 1-3-1 and then went to their "tipping" zone.

"I did that to try to get some quick breaks off it," declared Gaander. "And it looked like it might have some advantages, so we stayed with it."

St. Joe was also able to rebound and run because Holland's 6-7 Bobeldyk was on the bench in foul trouble. His absence also let the Bears operate better on offense.

"That was a factor," declared Holland coach Tiger Teusink. "Wright went to the boards much better when he was out of there."

Bobeldyk came back in the game with 4:37 left to play, but he was back on the bench with his fifth foul with 4:22 remaining.

Wright, who carried a 19.7 scoring average into the game, hit 11 of 20 field goals as the Bears posted a 46 field goal shooting mark (31 of 68). They also hit an excellent 71 per cent of their free throws (17 of 24).

Wright also led St. Joseph to a 40 to 38 rebounding advantage over taller Holland. Petersen had 12 caroms and Bobeldyk 10 for the Dutch.

Holland hit 30 of 65 field goals (46 per cent) and 15 of 26 free throws (57 per cent).

Turnovers stats showed St.

Joseph with 15 and Holland 14.

Holland did win the junior varsity preliminary 74-56 with Scott Teusink scoring 25, Mark Lamantia 21 and Joel Stille 10. St. Joe got 22 points from Jeff Curry and 10 from Carl Colar.

Bridgeman No. 1 In Red Arrow

Bees Sting Watervliet!

By PAUL MORGAN

Staff Sports Writer

WATERVILLE — After the basketball game here Friday night, there was little doubt who is Number One in the Red Arrow Conference.

Behind an awesome offense and a dynamic defense, Bridgeman won its ninth straight game, crushing Watervliet 85-53 before a packed house of 2,200 screaming fans.

"This was by far our best game of the year," grinned a happy Doug Hendricks, Bees' head coach, after the contest.

Although Bob Linko led all scorers with 22 points and Howie Mutz added 19, the big key to the Bees' victory had to be the play of junior Phil Ott.

The 6-7, 250-pound center

got into foul trouble in the second quarter. He proceeded to hit eight of 11 field goal tries, score 16 points and pull down 12 rebounds.

It took Ott most of the second quarter to get started, but once he did there was no stopping him.

"Phil went in and didn't do anything right off," commented Hendricks. "Then he hit a couple of buckets and was off."

Ott made three of four free shots in the third quarter and was a perfect four-for-four in the last stanza. He also snarfed nine of his 12 rebounds in the last half.

"I thought Ott came in and showed first string potential," stated Watervliet's head coach Gene Bednarowski. "He was just solid in there."

In the whole game, Ott was

scorer for the Bees, 7-0 in the league and the state's third-

shots in the third quarter and

Bangor Offensive Might Takes Gym Dedication

BANGOR — Bangor dedicated its new gym in style here Friday night.

The Vikings raced out to a 37-22 halftime lead and were never headed in blasting Battle Creek St. Philip 78-53 in a KVA basketball game.

The 78 points was by far the most Bangor had scored this season. The previous Viking high came in a 62-53 win over Marcellus.

"I think the kids got fired up for the dedication of the new gym," Norm Johnson said. "It was our first real offensive showing all year. We finally got the fast break going and we shot pretty well."

We had been having trouble offensively, but tonight it looked like we wanted to score more."

Junior Dave Gregory pumped in 25 points to spark Bangor, now 3-3 in the KVA and 6-5

overall. Gregory tossed in 14 points in the first quarter to get the Vikings started.

"Gregory played a great ball-game," Johnson said. "He got us going. It was probably the best ballgame this year."

Johnson was also pleased with the play of Tim Gargus, who scored 16 points and pulled down eight rebounds.

"We moved Gargus from forward to guard and probably got the best game out of him all year, too," Johnson said. "He handled the ball well on the fast break."

Ed Greenman was the only St. Philip player to hit double digits, scoring 11.

The Vikings hit on 33 of 70 from the floor for 47 per cent, while St. Philip could find the range on just 22 of 64 for 34 per cent.

Kuntz Shines For Gaels

Galien's Rick Kuntz finally came alive Friday night.

The 6-5 Gael center poured in 28 points and pulled down 27 rebounds to lift Galien to a 73-56 Red Arrow win over Lake Michigan Catholic at the Laker Gym.

Both totals were career highs, helping the Gaels up their league record to 3-4 and overall slate to 3-8. The win broke a six-game Galien losing streak.

"It's very nice to get the monkey off our back," Galien coach Mike Heckathorn said. "We had come so close in our last two games that I thought frustration might set in."

Top Netters In Tournament

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rod Laver, Bjorn Borg and young Billy Martin are scheduled to compete in a $22,000 indoor tennis tournament Feb. 12.

The three will play in round-robin competition, then a best-of-three set competition will be held between the two top round-robin scorers.

The competition will be held at Riverfront Coliseum.

Borg and Laver have been among international tennis' dominant names for several years. Martin recently was named as male rookie player for 1976 by "Tennis Magazine."

"He was awesome," he said. "It was the best game of his career. He went under control most of the game and played steady. He did a super job."

"Probably the key thing was early he made some good cuts and scored early. That encouraged him. Obviously it's the best game he's ever played. He did everything that we could have asked of him."

Kuntz got Galien rolling with eight points in the first quarter as the gaels rolled to an 18-11 edge. Galien led 34-26 at halftime, but Catholic closed to within five at 42-37 midway through the third period.

From there, Galien went on a 9-2 streak to break the game open.

Brad Marshall added 15 points, and Matt Koziel and John Gunn had 14 apiece for Galien.

Mike Masini was most of the Laker offense with 20 points and 10 rebounds.

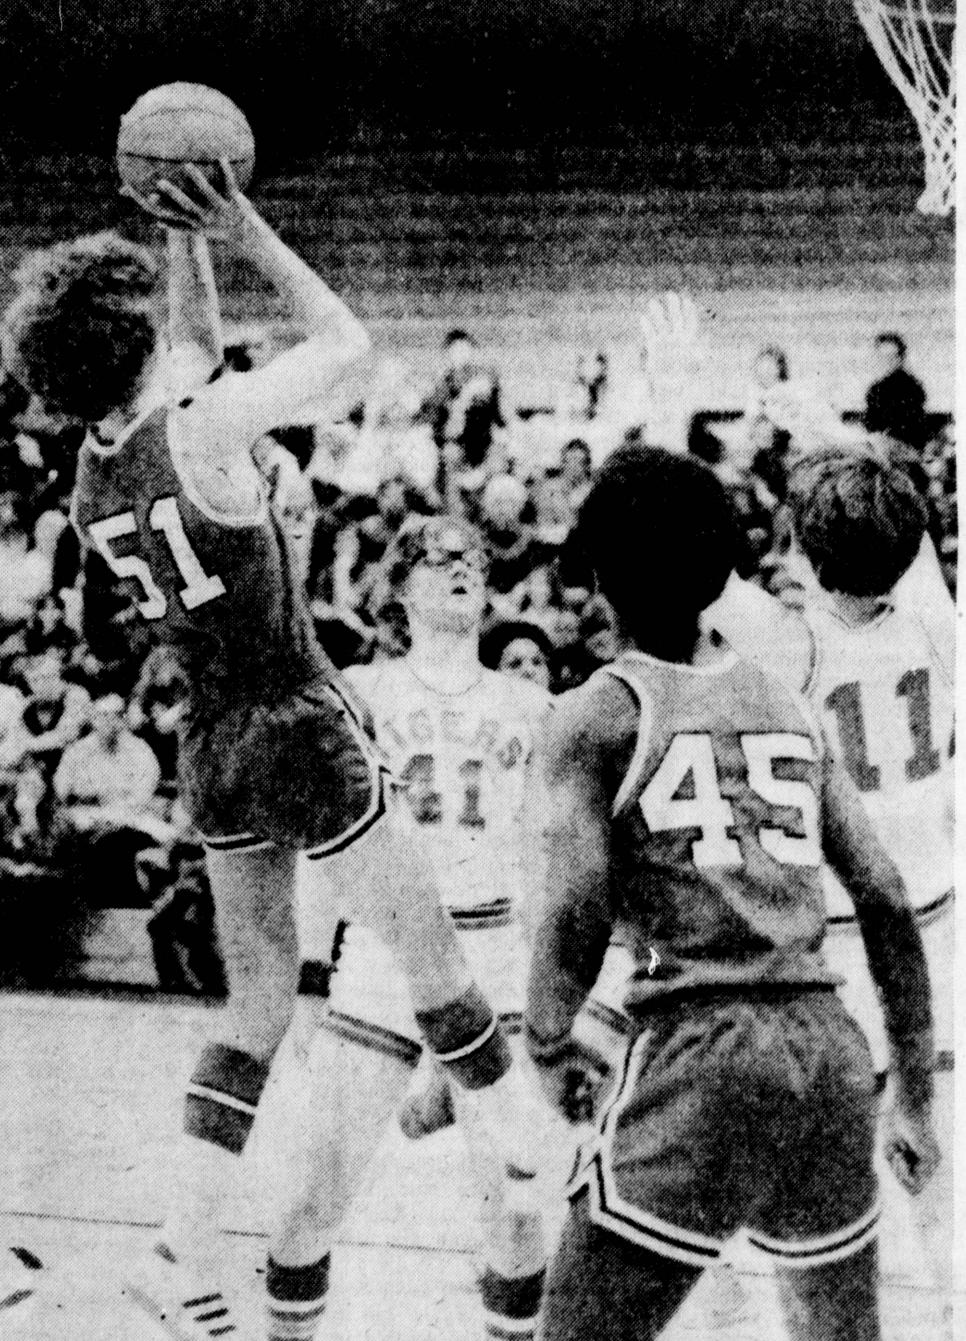

Galien hit on 31 of 72 from the floor for 43 per cent, while Catholic, now 0-7 in league play and 0-12 overall, hit only 21 of 75 for 28 per cent.

Galien held a 68-39 board edge according to respective charts with Clancy Rose pulling down 13 for Catholic. Koziel added 21 to Kuntz' total for the Gaels.

Galien turned the ball over 27 times and Lake Michigan 23.

The Lakers did win the junior varsity game.

Lawton Posts First Triumph

LAWTON — Forward John Lepley returned to the Lawton lineup here Friday and helped the Blue Devils win their first game of the season.

Lepley scored 15 points and pulled down 17 rebounds to lead Lawton to a 58-48 basketball victory over Gobles.

The 6-3 senior had missed the past three games, two with an injury and one due to disciplinary action. But Lepley was ready to play Friday.

"It was really helpful having John back," Lawton coach Bill Shaw said. "He controlled the boards. And we could count on him at the end. He scored eight points in the fourth quarter."

Lawton broke a 10-10 tie by outscoring Gobles 18-9 in the second quarter. The Blue Devils never trailed after that.

Leading the Lawton scoring attack was John Bastian, who tossed in 17 points. Mike Weber added 10.

Ward Richards paced Gobles with 16 and Bryan Clement added 10.

Lawton, now 1-3 in SAC play and 1-8 overall, hit on 22 of 64 from the floor for 34 per cent.

Knock Off Bud Leader

Bucks Beat Brandywine

NILES — Buchanan threw the Blossomland race up for grabs here Friday night.

Using their zone press to near-perfection, the Bucks held off Brandywine 79-70, scrapping the Bud race among the four leaders.

The loss dropped the Bobcats into a tie for first with Cassopolis at 8-1. Buchanan upped its league record to 5-2, while River Valley stands 4-2.

Buchanan, which has won six straight for an overall record of 8-3, broke the game open in the second quarter. Using the zone press, the Bucks held Brandywine without a field goal for the first three-and-a-half minutes of the second period. A 16-2 scoring surge during that period gave Buchanan a 34-20 lead and the Bobcats got no closer than seven after that.

"I think defense is the thing which really won it for us," Buck coach Jon Bohannon said. "We were out on them, forcing them to start their offense farther from the basket than normal. I felt they were unsure of themselves at times."

The zone press also helped. We put our big people up front and it's tough for the opposition to find an open man. It's also hard to get the ball by them because they're not only big, but quick. Then when we get the ball, we've got our people in scoring position."

Forward Mo Kyles led Buchanan with 24 points and 14 rebounds, despite playing with the Bobcats hitting on 32 of 82 from the floor for 32 per cent and the broken nose.

Gerald Bushy, southwestern Michigan's second best scorer, tallied just 18 points while plagued with foul trouble. But Buchanan's three other starters also cracked double digits with Greg Frazier adding 15 and Jon Kyles and Kevin Vanderbush 10 apiece.

Tim Rzepka tossed in 21; Greg Besler 17 and Tony Harris 14 for Brandywine, now 10-2.

Both teams shot well with the Bobcats hitting on 32 of 82 from the floor for 32 per cent and the Bucks meshing 34 of 65 for 52 per cent.

Buchanan held a 26-32 board edge and turned the ball over 16 times to 21 for Brandywine. Brandywine did win the junior varsity game 82-83 with Scott Reidenbach scoring 18 and Brad Gronda 16. Alan Ward tallied a game-high 22 for the Bucks.

Hot Rangers Burn RV

CASSOPOLIS — Cassopolis hit a deadly 30 per cent of its field goal shots while toppling River Valley 77-32 in Blossomland basketball action here Friday night.

The victory, combined with Buchanan's 79-70 triumph over Brandywine, left the Rangers in a tie for the Blossomland lead with Brandywine at 6-1 at the end of the first half of the league season.

Kevin Loder scored 18 points Friday night and Glen Hawkins added 16, Marshall Sinclair 12 and Armen Deane 10 as the Rangers matched 34 of 65 shots.

"We were very selective in our shots," declared Cass coach Bob Follett. "We knew we had to be patient against River Valley."

Cassopolis jumped off to leads of 14-7 after the first quarter and 28-17 at halftime, and with that big advantage, the tempo of the game picked up in the second half (40 points).

The second half-we started running a little because they had to pick up the tempo because they were behind," continued Follett, "and I know Jerry (Schaffer) doesn't like to do that."

While Follett was smiling over his team's offensive effort, he had even more praise for his Rangers' defensive effort.

"I think we have to credit the whole thing to our defense," he added. "The last two games our opponents have had 17 and 16 points at halftime. That has got to discourage other teams psychologically."

River Valley, now 4-2 in the league and 6-4 overall, hit just 28 per cent of its field goals (19 of 68) while getting 15 points from Werner Maak and 12 from Steve Nash.

At the free throw lines, Cass swished 9 of 14 (64 per cent) and River Valley 14 of 23 (61 per cent).

The Rangers, now 7-2 on the season, posted a 45 to 35 rebounding edge, according to Loder having 18 and Hawkins 12.

Both teams had 20 turnovers.

Cowens Returns To Action

BOSTON (AP) — Dave Cowens is back with the Boston Celtics, ready to resume intimidating National Basketball Association opponents. But his first action proved it's going to take him some time to get back into playing condition after a two-month hiatus.

Cowens, who lost more than $100,000 of his reported $280,000 salary for his 63-day leave of absence for "personal reasons," returned to action Friday night after just one practice.

Playing with intensity, he flashed his old fire, sparking one spectacular comeback by the Celtics. But his efforts weren't enough as the Portland Trail Blazers pulled away in the second half for a 107-92 victory, their sixth in a row and 29th of the season.

"I feel all right, but it doesn't mean much right now anyway," the 6-foot-8 center said. "Tomorrow is when I'll be able to tell."

Cowens came off the bench in each quarter, logging a total of 22 minutes, 23 seconds. He fouled out with nine seconds remaining, and his line on the statistics read: eight points, six rebounds, three assists and one steal. However, he hit on just three of nine field goal attempts.

He received a standing ovation when he entered the game and when he left.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Buffalo beat New Orleans 131-103, Atlanta defeated the New York Nets 120-101, Philadelphia edged Kansas City 111-106, Golden State nipped Indiana 113-109. Washington stopped Chicago 94-89, Los Angeles trimmed San Antonio 109-106, Houston routed Milwaukee 111-84, Denver whipped Cleveland 116-96 and Seattle

topped the New York Knicks 127-107.

"Your hand-eye coordination is usually off after a layoff, but I didn't think my timing was too bad," Cowens said. "At first, I felt a little strange, but there was nothing really different."

"I was very pleased," Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn said. "His timing was off and it's going to take him another week to 10 days to get back into condition. He gave a good effort and juiced up the team for a while."

Los Angeles posted its fourth straight road victory, getting 34 points from Cazzie Russell, 24 points from Lucius Allen and 18 points, 15 rebounds and seven blocked shots from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

The loss was the fourth in a row for the Spurs, who shot just 38 per cent from the field compared to 53 per cent for the Lakers.

Golden State led by 25 points in the third period but Bill Knight, scoring 28 of his 32 points in the second half, led a comeback that put Indiana in front 106-103 with 2½ minutes left. But with the score tied 109-109, Charles Johnson banked in an off-balance shot from 22 feet out on the left side with three seconds to go to win it. Rick Barry added two free throws at the buzzer.

Buffalo snapped a five-game losing streak as Bird Averitt came off the bench to score 15 of his 21 points in the third quarter. Randy Smith led the Braves with 28 points and Adrian Dantley scored 24, but it was Averitt's six-for-seven shooting in the third period which broke the game open and dealt the Jazz its fifth straight defeat.

Philadelphia blew a 16-point lead, then came back to post its sixth victory in the last seven games behind 24 points by Lloyd Free and 23 by George McGinnis.

The Nets suffered their ninth straight loss, tying a club record, as John Drew scored 31 points and Randy Denton added 25 points and 18 rebounds for Atlanta. A snowstorm limited the crowd at the Nassau Coliseum to 1,404.

Calvin Murphy scored 22 points and Moses Malone grabbed 21 rebounds as Houston snapped a four-game losing streak by routing Milwaukee.

Washington wasted an 11-point third-quarter lead, then beat the Bulls as Elvin Hayes scored seven points and Phil Chenier six in the final four minutes. Hayes played all 48 minutes, scoring 34 points.

The Nuggets raised their home record to 21-1, taking control of the game in the second period when they outscored Cleveland 33-21, reserves Paul Silas and Jim Price sparking the surge. The victory gave Denver the best record in the NBA, 28-12.

Fred Brown scored 16 points of his 30 points in the third quarter as Seattle outscored the Knicks 42-22 to assume command.

Top-Ranked Dons Continue To Roll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of San Francisco's lastest show of basketball strength brought out a white flag in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

"They'll go undefeated in the league," predicted Pepperdine Coach Gary Colson after his Waves, defending WCAC champions, lost 107-72 Friday night to the unbeaten and nationally top-ranked Dons.

"They were good last year, but when they've all improved that much — wow!" added Colson. "I could say we just had a bad game, but anybody who watched it wouldn't believe me."

Bill Cartwright, the Dons' 6-foot-11 sophomore center, is no doubt the most improved player on the still-young USF team and he came up with a career-high 18 rebounds to go with 24 points Friday night.

Cartwright made 11 of 17 shots from the field, Marlon Redmond hit on 10 of 17 shots in potential right now."

As for Cartwright, the coach said that a big reason the 6-11 center had a somewhat disappointing season as a freshman was that he simply gave away too much weight to some opponents.

"He'd make some of the same moves he makes now and get knocked down. It wasn't that he needed to be more aggressive," Gaillard said.

He added that he considered Cartwright's 18 rebounds quite an achievement, "because it's tough getting any with Hardy and Redmond under there, too."

Bulldogs Clobber Lawrence

LAWRENCE — Jerry Starks continues to do his thing for the Covert Bulldogs.

Starks, as usual, came off the bench to score 24 points and help Covert rip Lawrence 90-63 in a non-league basketball game here Friday night.

The win was the 12th in 13 games for Covert, ranked sixth in the latest Associated Press Class D poll. Lawrence fell to 4-5.

"They just hit from outside, that was the big thing," Lawrence coach Dave Smith lamented. "We stayed in a zone most of the game, but they just started hitting from outside."

Starks didn't enter the game until the beginning of the second quarter with Covert leading just 14-11. But the 5-8 sophomore scored eight points in the second period, helping the Bulldogs outscore Lawrence 30-19 to grab a commanding 44-30 halftime lead.

The Tigers stayed in the game until midway through the final quarter and actually trailed by just eight at 65-57 with four minutes to play.

"We came down and had a chance to cut it to six," Smith added. "But we missed two shots in close and they hit two straight to put the game away."

Jeff Magett added 19 points, Roger Maggard 14 points and 20 rebounds and George Starks 10 points to the Bulldog cause.

Jeff Queen tossed in 14 points and Jim Mason and Chuck Carpp each tallied 10 for Lawrence.

Covert hit on 38 of 83 from the floor for 43 per cent, while Lawrence found the range on only 27 of 69 for 40 per cent.

The Bulldogs held a 40-40 board edge.

Lawrence did win the junior varsity game 74-73 with Stuart Brien scoring 20, Mike Tuber 18 and Jim Groth 15.

Two Lions' Offensive Coaches Go To Houston

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — While a couple of male Olympians stumbled and tumbled, women competitors stole the spotlight at the 10th National Invitational Indoor Track meet Friday night COLLEGE Park, Md.

placed second in the meet with a jump of 7-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Forde became the first woman competitor in the 10-year history of the meet to be named the Most Outstanding athlete.

"I didn't plan to go for the world record," said the 24-year-old Long Island University junior from Barbados, "but I wasn't shocked at the time."

The 5-foot-2, 112-pounder had set the meet mark of 5.1 last year, even while coming from behind. This time, an extremely fast start enabled her to shatter the 54.2 world record set by Charlotte Cooke way back in 1966.

For her wire-to-wire performance Friday night, Miss

Forde was eliminated in the 200-meter quarterfinals in her second Olympic appearance last year, but she said the disappointment lasted only for a day.

"I don't feel I have anything to prove," she said. "People in my country and here know I'm good, but I just couldn't show the rest of the world that one day."

By contrast, Olympic 400-meter hurdles champion Edwin Moses was spectacular in another sense while making his debut on an indoor banked track.

Moses appeared to bear out on the first turn of the 500-yard race, and he went sprawling to the floor of the University of Maryland's Cole Field House after colliding with Stan Vinson.

After finishing first, Vinson was disqualified—a move which upset Fred Sowerby, his coach with the D.C. Striders.

Moses was not used to this type of track and he drifted, said Sowerby, who settled down to win the 600 in 1:10.4. "Vinson is a seasoned runner, and he didn't drift like they said."

Earlier, in the 880, Olympian Byron Dyce of Jamaica stumbled off the track when his high back-kick caught Mark Belger's hand as they battled for the lead at the start of the gun lap.

"It was weird," said Belger, the Villanova junior who went on to win in 1:49.4 over Italy's Carlo Grippi. "It seemed like the race was over. I didn't hear anymore breathing and the crowd stopped yelling. I finally looked around to see what had happened."

Ireland's Eamonn Coghlan, a former Villanova star, beat former teammate Mike Kane to successfully defend his mile championship.

Coghlan's time of 4:02.8 was well above a 3:59.7 he ran in 1976, but he was satisfied in view of the late start he got on his training program at home in preparation for the American tour.

Two other former meet champions regained their titles. Larry Shipp, a winner in 1973 and 1975, won the 60-yard hurdles over ageless Wille Davenport in 7.1, and Steve Riddick was timed in six seconds flat for the second time in three years.

Mike Tully of UCLA won the pole vault on fewer misses at 17-6, after defending champion Dan Ripley and Bob Pullard also cleared that height, and James Barrineau of Georgia high jumped 7-3 to beat fellow Olympian Dwight Stones.

Elvira Possek of West Germany turned in the best performance among the foreign competitors, breaking from the blocks to easily win the 60-yard dash in 6.7.

The final event for the crowd of 6,027, which turned out despite a day-long storm of snow, sleet and freezing rain, was the men's high jump. The final event for the crowd of 6,027, which turned out despite a day-long storm of snow, sleet and freezing rain, was the men's high jump.

Coach Don Shula said Friday that the team is returning to a former coaching structure using three assistant coaches on defense and three on offense.

Shula said Bill Arnsparger, assistant head coach, will take over Doll's duties.

Wings Back In First Place

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Down by three goals, the Kalamazoo Wings roared back and defeated the Fort Wayne Komets, 6-4, Friday night to take over first place in the North Division of the International Hockey League.

In other IHL action, the Flint Generals downed the Saginaw Gears, 7-5, putting them in a tie for second place in the league's North Division. The Toledo Goaldiggers crushed the Muskegon Mohawks, 5-2.

In Kalamazoo, the Wings clinched the victory when Mike Wanchuk flipped his 22nd goal of the season into an empty net at 19:20 of the final period.

Dave Norris, Terry McDougall and Ron Zanussi scored for the Komets in the opening period before rookie defenseman Dwight Schofield got the Wings on the scoreboards at 19:01 of the opening period.

Kalamazoo scored the next three goals, by Yvon Dupuis, Fern LeBlanc and Al Genovis to take a 5-4 lead. Then Wanchuk added the insurance goal.

In Flint, Jim Koleff and Mike Clarke marked up two goals and an assist each in the victory over Saginaw. Paul Evans scored twice for the Gears.

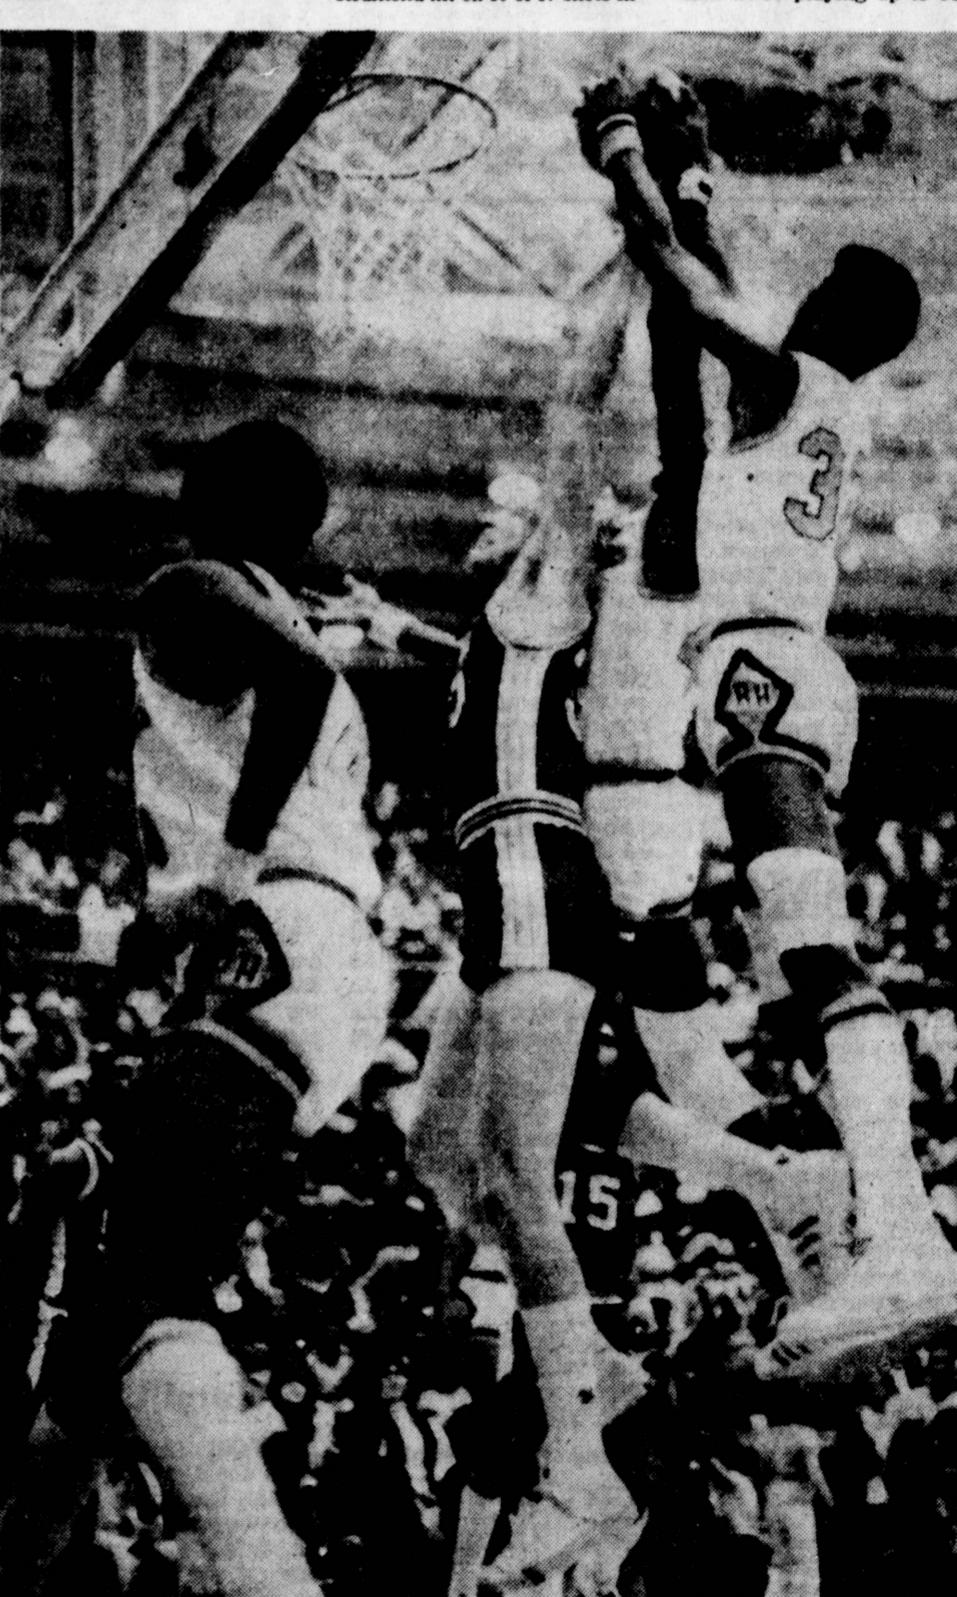

The game pulled Flint and Saginaw into a second-place tie in the league's North division, making the Generals 21-17-4 as Saginaw dropped to 19-17-8.

In Muskegon, the Goaldiggers jumped into a four-goal lead over the Mohawks.

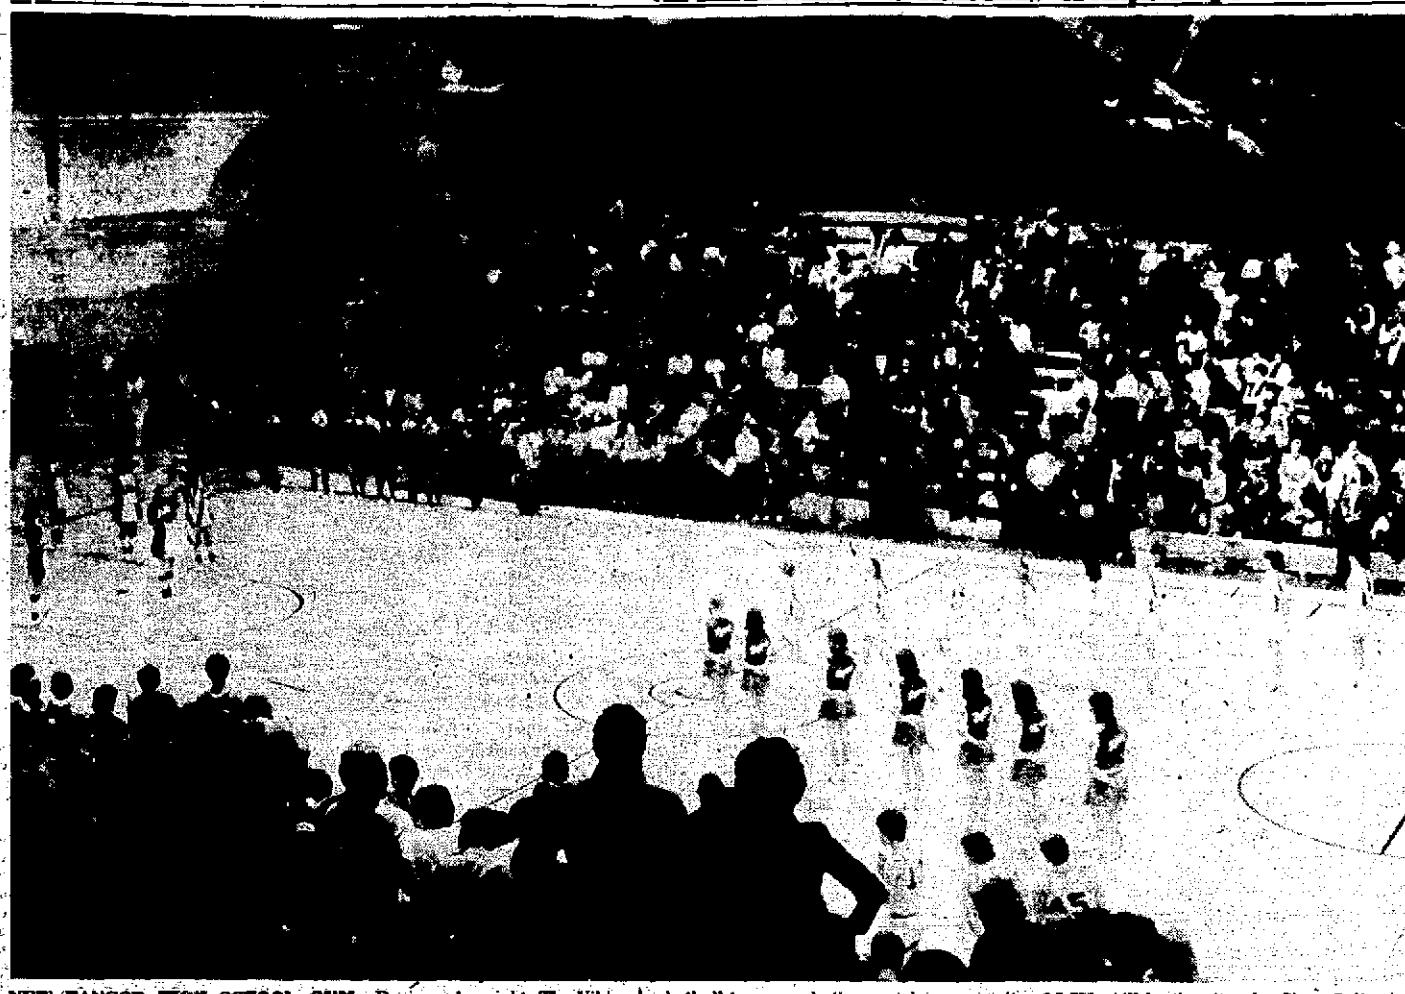

The Mohawks outshot Toledo 29 to 21, but could not match the Goaldiggers' fast start. The game was a close checking affair with a total of 36 minutes of penalties.

Bangor Offensive Might Takes Gym Dedication

BANGOR — Bangor dedicated its new gym in style here Friday night.

The Vikings raced out to a 27-22 halftime lead and were never headed in blasting Battle Creek St. Philip 78-53 in a KVA basketball game.

The 78 points was by far the most Bangor had scored this season. The previous Viking high came in a 62-53 win over Fennville.

"I think the kids got fired up for the dedication of the new gym," Norm Johnson said. "It was our first real offensive showing all year. We finally got the fast break going and we shot pretty well."

We had been having trouble offensively, but tonight it looks like we wanted to score more."

Junior Dave Gregory pumped in 25 points to spark Bangor, now 3-3 in the KVA and 6-5

overall. Gregory tossed in 14 points in the first quarter to get the Vikings started.

"Gregory played a great half-game," Johnson said. "He got us going. It was probably the best half-game this year."

"We had been turning the ball over 20 to 30 times a game the first part of the year," he said. "We have been working on it and finally got it down there."

Bangor also won the junior varsity preliminary 62-45.

Bangor held a 41-38 board edge with Ricky Ross pulling down 11 caroms.

Each team committed eight turnovers, another fact which pleased Johnson.

U.S. Skiers Now Getting Paid Like Foreign Stars

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The old argument that U.S. amateur skiers cannot compete with subsidized stars from behind the Iron Curtain is no longer valid, because Uncle Sam's kids are no longer amateurs.

U.S. skiers receive good money for their efforts and U.S. Ski Team officials hope it will pay off in victories for Uncle Sam in world-class competition, particularly the 1980 Winter Olympics.

"There are no true amateurs in international sport," says Hank Tauber, director of the U.S. Alpine team. "Guidelines in skiing in the past were hypocritical and dishonest, but the U.S. team lived by the rules. But now there is the element of control in paying skiers."

That element is the International Olympic Committee's Rule 26 which provides, among other things, that an athlete may be reimbursed for "financial loss resulting from his or her absence from work or basic occupation" because of training for international competition.

Rule 26 has been on the books since October 1974 but U.S. Ski Team officials have played it down for fear it would hurt efforts to solicit public donations prior to last year's games at Innsbruck.

With that obstacle out of the way, however, the rule is being observed to the limit by international skiing's governing body — the International Ski Federation. The IOC left the amount of compensation "at the discretion" of the national federations and the FIS took this for approval of legalizing payments to skiers racers — so long as the paychecks are dispensed by the national federations.

"Payments now legally allow a top racer to have income enough for an apartment, a car or savings for his future education and to take his girl to dinner now and then," Tauber said. "He lives like a self-respecting person, not like some tramp sneaking around trying to pick up a few illegal bucks on the side. It makes our ski racers dedicated professionals with a small p."

The same tactic, obviously, can be used by officials who want to subsidize athletes who compete in the Summer Olympics — provided, of course, they can find a market for their wares. That is the catch.

World-class skiing is probably the most lucrative of all amateur sports and manufacturers of equipment and clothing practically line up at Tauber's door, begging for their goods to be used by U.S.

athletes. The market is not as lucrative for, say, manufacturers of track and field gear or swimwear featured in the summer games.

The payments are made through the offices of the U.S. Ski Team Inc., said Warren Hellmann, president of the U.S. Ski Educational Foundation, the ski team's fund-raising arm.

"For example, a ski company will pay the ski team $12,500 a year to be in the pool and they agree to provide the individual with equipment," Hellmann said. "This money is retained by the ski team for our operation. The contract that results in so-called 'broken-time' payments to the athlete deals only with payments between the company and the athlete. All of that money goes to the athlete."

Hellmann also said that "with the improvement in the success of our team, equipment manufacturers have found the endorsement of stars like Bill Koch or Cindy Nelson to be a valuable medium for advertising."

Koch, the 21-year-old Guilford, Vt. native, for example, signed a contract with leading ski maker for a reported $25,000 after he won the silver medal in the 30-kilometer cross-country race at Innsbruck.

Team officials won't confirm the figure, but U.S. Nordic Director John Bower called Koch's salary "equivalent to what a successful junior executive takes home." Knowledgeable sources indicate Alpine superstars like Miss Nelson could easily be making over $40,000 a year before long.

"The whole area of the amateur ideal is a very cloudy one to me," Hellmann said. "I don't really know who is the amateur. At this moment in time, I think the ideal of amateur standing must be re-examined. And it is being re-examined."

Hellmann said he believed that an athlete can only be successful in today's competition if his training is equivalent in time to that of his foreign counterpart.

"A champion world-class skier takes eight to 12 years to develop," said Tauber. "He has to compete until he is 27 or 28. Americans haven't been able to do that because they couldn't afford to. You can't expect them to live off their parents that long."

"Now that the FIS has opened this new territory, we can encourage our skiers by paying them well and by giving them an environment where they can afford to race long enough to really excel," Tauber said.

Durable Hayes Helps Bullets Top Bulls

Cowens Returns To Action

BOSTON (AP) — Dave Cowens is back with the Boston Celtics, ready to resume intimidating National Basketball Association opponents. But his first action proved it's going to take him some time to get back into playing condition after a two-month hiatus.

Cowens, who lost more than $100,000 of his reported $280,000 salary for his 63-day leave of absence for "personal reasons," returned to action Friday night after just one practice.

"Playing with intensity, he flashed his old fire, sparking one spectacular comeback by the Celtics. But his efforts weren't enough as the Portland Trail Blazers pulled away in the second half for a 107-92 victory, their sixth in a row and 29th of the season.

"I feel all right, but it doesn't mean much right now anyway," the 6-foot-8 center said. "Tomorrow is when I'll be able to tell."

Cowens came off the bench in each quarter, logging a total of 22 minutes, 23 seconds. He fouled out with nine seconds remaining, and his line on the statistics read: eight points, six rebounds, three assists and one steal. However, he hit on just three of nine field goal attempts.

He received a standing ovation when he entered the game and when he left.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Buffalo beat New Orleans 131-102, Atlanta defeated the New York Nets 128-101. Philadelphia edged Kansas City 111-106. Golden State nipped Indiana 113-108. Washington stopped Chicago 94-89. Los Angeles trimmed San Antonio 100-96. Houston routed Milwaukee 111-84. Denver whipped Cleveland 116-96 and Seattle

topped the New York Knicks 127-107.

"Your hand-eye coordination is usually off after a layoff, but I didn't think my timing was too bad," Cowens said. "At first, I felt a little strange, but there was nothing really different."

"I was very pleased," Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn said. "His timing was off and it's going to take him another week to 10 days to get back into condition. He gave a good effort and juiced up the team for a while."

Los Angeles posted its fourth straight road victory, getting 24 points from Connie Russell, 24 points from Lucius Allen and 16 points, 15 rebounds and seven blocked shots from Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

Golden State led by 25 points in the third period but Bill Knight, scoring 28 of his 32 points in the second half, led a comeback that put Indiana in front 106-103 with 2½ minutes left. But with the score tied 106-106, Charles Johnson banked in an off-balance shot from 22 feet out on the left side with three seconds to go to win it. Rick Barry added two free throws at the buzzer.

Buffalo snapped a five-game losing streak as Bird Averitt came off the bench to score 15 of his 21 points in the third quarter. Randy Smith led the Braves with 28 points and Adrian Dantley scored 24, but it was Averitt's six-for-seven shooting in the third period which broke the game open and dealt the Jazz its fifth straight defeat.

Philadelphia blew a 16-point lead, then came back to post its sixth victory in the last seven games behind 24 points by Lloyd Free and 23 by George McGinnis.

The Nets suffered their ninth straight loss, tying a club record, as John Drew scored 31 points and Randy Denton added 25 points and 18 rebounds for Atlanta. A snowstorm limited the crowd at the Nassau Coliseum to 1,994.

Calvin

Murphy scored 22 points and Moses Malone grabbed 21 rebounds as Houston snapped a four-game losing streak by routing Milwaukee.

Washington wasted an 11-point third-quarter lead, then took the lead as Elvin Hayes scored seven points and Phil Chenier six in the final four minutes. Hayes played all 48 minutes, scoring 34 points.

The Nuggets raised their home record to 21-1, taking control of the game in the second period when they outscored Cleveland 23-21, reserves Paul Silas and Jim Price sparking the surge. The victory gave Denver the best record in the NBA, 28-12.

Fred Brown scored 16 points of his 20 points in the third quarter as Seattle outscored the Knicks 43-23 to assume command.

BIG BLOCKADE: Portland Trail Blazers' Bill Walton trips over Boston Celtics' Dave Cowens as they battled for the ball in the third period of their NBA game Friday night at the Boston Garden. It was Cowens' first game since returning to the Celtics after taking a leave of absence Nov. 10. A comeback by Cowens fell short as the Celtics lost 107-92. (AP Wirephoto)

Top-Ranked Dons Continue To Roll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of San Francisco's latest show of basketball strength brought out a white flag in the West Coast Athletic Conference.

"They'll go undefeated in the league," predicted Pepperdine Coach Gary Carlson after his Waves, defending WCAC champions, lost 107-72 Friday night to the unbeaten and nationally top-ranked Dons.

"They were good last year, but when they've all improved that much — wow!" added Carlson. "I could say we just had a bad game, but anybody who watched it wouldn't believe me."

Bill Cartwright, the Dons' 6-foot-11 sophomore center, is no doubt the most improved player on the still-young USF team and he came up with a career-high 18 rebounds to go with 24 points Friday night.

Cartwright made 11 of 17 shots from the field, Marlon Redmond hit on 10 of 17 shots in a 28-point performance and James Hardy was 7-for-10 on his 16-point night.

The Dons, 18-4, shot 50 per cent as a team and outrebounded the Waves 43-39 and took sole possession of first place in the WCAC at 3-4 as Santa Clara, with Lonielle Theus scoring 23 points, handed Loyola its first loss, 79-72, in another WCAC game.

San Jose State got 36 points from Ken Mickey and posted a 67-40 road victory over Pacific in a Pacific Coast Athletic Association opener, the only other major college game on the West Coast.

After six minutes, the Dons held only a 11-10 lead. Cartwright dominated the next four minutes, scoring six points and grabbing several rebounds, and suddenly it was 25-13.

"These guys are proud of the fact they're No. 1," said Coach Bob Gaillard of his players. "I think we're playing up to our potential right now."

As for Cartwright, the coach said that a big reason the 6-11 center had a somewhat disappointing season as a freshman was that he simply gave away too much weight to some opponents.

"He'd make some of the same moves he makes now and get knocked down. It wasn't that he needed to be more aggressive," Gaillard said.

He added that he considered Cartwright's 18 rebounds quite an achievement, "because it's tough getting any with Hardy and Redmond under there, too."

Bulldogs Clobber Lawrence

LAWRENCE — Jerry Starka continues to do his thing for the Covert Bulldogs.

Starka, as usual, came off the bench to score 24 points and help Covert rip Lawrence 80-63 in a non-league basketball game here Friday night.

The win was the 12th in 13 games for Covert, ranked sixth in the latest Associated Press Class D poll. Lawrence fell to 4-5.

"They just hit from outside, that was the big thing," Lawrence coach Dave Smith lamented. "We stayed in a zone most of the game, but they just started hitting from outside."

Starka didn't enter the game until the beginning of the second quarter with Covert leading just 14-11. But the 5-8 sophomore scored eight points in the second period, helping the Bulldogs outscore Lawrence 20-10 to grab a commanding 44-30 halftime lead.

The Tigers stayed in the game until midway through the final quarter and actually trailed by just eight at 65-57 with four minutes to play.

"We came down and had a chance to cut it to six," Smith added. "But we missed two shots in a row and they hit two straight to put the game away."

Jeff Maggard added 10 points, Roger Maggard 14 points and 20 rebounds and George Starka 10 points in the Bulldogs' cause.

Jeff Queen scored 14 points and Jim Mason and Chuck Corry each tallied 10 for Lawrence.

Covert hit on 36 of 61 from the floor for 43 per cent, while Lawrence found the range on only 27 of 60 for 45 per cent.

The Bulldogs held a 46-46 board edge.

Lawrence did win the junior varsity game 74-72 with Stuart Brown scoring 20, Mike Talbott 16 and Jim Gresh 15.

Women Tracksters Shine

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — While a couple of male Olympians stumbled and tumbled, women competitors stole the spotlight at the 10th National Invitational Indoor Track Meet.

Lorna Forde set a world indoor record of 53.8 seconds in the 400-yard run, high jumper Joni Hautley just missed bettering her own world standard, and Francine Larrieu Lutz lowered her own meet mark in the 400.

For her wire-to-wire performance Friday night, Miss

Forde became the first woman competitor in the 10-year history of the meet to be named the Most Outstanding athlete.

"I didn't plan to go for the world record," said the 24-year-old Long Island University junior from Barbados, "but I wasn't shocked at the time."

The 5-foot-2, 112-pounder had set the meet mark of 55.1 last year, even while coming from behind. This time, an extremely fast start enabled her to shatter the 54.2 world record set by Charlotte Cooke way back in 1966.

Moses was not used to this type of track and he drifted," said Sowery, who settled down to win the 800 in 1:10.4. "Vinson is a seasoned runner, and he didn't drift like they said."

By contrast, Olympic 400-meter hurdles champion Edwin Moses was spectacular in another sense while making his debut on an indoor banked track.

Moses appeared to bear out on the first turn of the 400-yard race, and he went sprawling to the floor of the University of Maryland's Cole Field House after colliding with Stan Vinson. After finishing first, Vinson was disqualified—a move which upset Fred Sowery, his coach with the D.C. Striders.

Moses was not used to this type of track and he drifted," said Sowery, who settled down to win the 800 in 1:10.4. "Vinson is a seasoned runner, and he didn't drift like they said."

Earlier, in the 800, Olympian Byron Dyce of Jamaica stumbled off the track when his high back-kick caught Mark Belger's hand as they battled for the lead at the start of the gun lap.

"It was weird," said Belger, the Villanova junior who went on to win in 1:48.4 over Italy's Carlo Grippa. "It seemed like the race was over. I didn't hear anymore breathing and the crowd stopped yelling. I finally looked around to see what had happened."

Ireland's Eamonn Coghlan, a former Villanova star, beat former teammate Mike Kane to successfully defend his mile championship.

Coghlan's time of 4:02.8 was well above a 3:59.7 he ran in 1970, but he was satisfied in view of the late start he got on his training program at home in preparation for the American tour.

Two other former meet champions regained their titles. Larry Shipp, a winner in 1973 and 1975, won the 40-yard hurdles over ageless Willie Davenport in 7.1, and Steve Ruddick was timed in six seconds flat while winning the 40-yard dash for the second time in three years.

Mike Talty of UCLA won the pole vault on fewer attempts at 17-6, after defending champion Dan Ripley and Bob Pafford also cleared that height, and James Barrineau of Georgia high jumped 7-3 to beat fellow Olympian Dwight Stones.

Elvira Poncelet of West Germany turned in the best performance among the foreign competitors, breaking from the blocks to easily win the 80-yard dash in 6.7.

The final event for the crowd of 8,027, which turned out despite a day-long storm of snow, sleet and freezing rain, was the near-miss for Joni Hautley in the high jump.

The former Oregon State athlete, now competing for the Pacific Coast Club, won the event with a jump of six feet. With the fans cheering her on, she failed three times at 6-2½, a leap which would have bettered her own world mark by one-quarter inch.

Coach Don Shulz said Friday that the team is returning to a former coaching structure using three assistant coaches and three on an offical basis.

Shulz said Bill Armbruster, assistant head coach, will take over Dell's duties.

Wings Back In First Place

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Down by three goals, the Kalamazoo Wings roared back and defeated the Fort Wayne Komets, 6-4, Friday night to take over first place in the North Division of the International Hockey League.

In other IHL action, the Flint Generals downed the Saginaw Spirit, 7-5, putting them in a tie for second place in the league's North Division. The Toledo Gophers, crushed the Muskegon Mohawks, 5-2.

In Kalamazoo, the Wings claimed the victory when Mike Wachuk slipped his 22nd goal of the season into an empty net at 10:39 of the final period.

Dave Norris, Terry McDowell and Ron Zemanek scored for the Komets in the opening period.

talled for Toledo before Yvan Vaillancourt finally got the Muskegon club on the scoreboard. From then on it was Toledo all the way. The Goaltenders ran their record to 19-19-3 and Muskegon fell to 18-19-7.

In Flint, Jim Koleff and Mike Clarke marked up two goals and an assist each in the victory over Saginaw. Paul Evans scored twice for the Gophers.

The game was a second-place tie.

Both Saginaw and Toledo

Retirement Site Is Big Decision

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Where can we find a home with a scenic view... do you know an inexpensive retirement village... what is a good climate for older people? These are just some of the questions that are asked by people planning to retire.

More important, perhaps, but

miles from a thriving suburban town, but even so transportation may be available. It is not always so accessible in a less populated area.

Retiring to an isolated area because "housing is a bargain" may have many drawbacks, caution people who have had the experience. Taxes may be low, the atmosphere tranquil, but the lack of services may be a missing link for older folk.

Here are some suggestions from retired people that may prove helpful to others who are seeking retirement housing:

The dreamy little house in a small town may have everything going for it but convenience of health facilities. Before moving to it, find out where the doctor, dentist and hospital are located. Where can prescriptions be filled? What about eye examinations and new glasses? Find out how far you must travel for medical help in the event of an accident.

Transportation is becoming more costly and being curtailed even in thriving communities. Is a car essential to your life in the town you are considering? Many persons do not wish to drive. Some can no longer drive for health reasons. Others want to curtail driving in the interest of economy. Is local transportation available? How often? Is it accessible to your home? You don't want to hire a car each time you must go to a railroad station or keep a doctor's appointment.

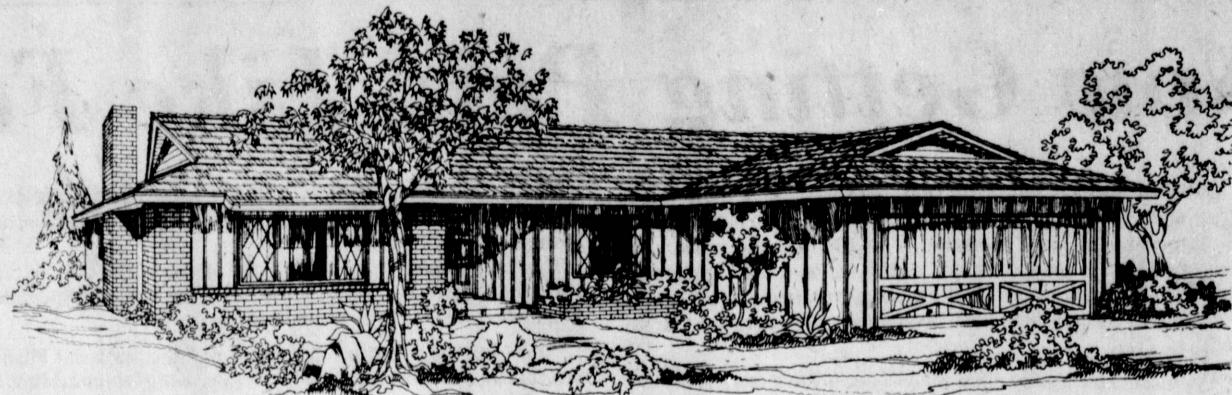

Are there appliance servicemen within range of the prospective home? Washing machine, dishwasher and television are real pleasures for aging people but if you can't get them repaired promptly or must pay someone to travel long distances to repair them, they may become real luxuries. In addition to a long wait for a repairman, you may need to pay travel time. One couple found repair costs prohibitive in their new home.

Many people want to satisfy a long time dream when retirement comes around, by finding a remote spot where they can "get away from it all" to fish and walk. But they forget people and machines can break down.

Many people leave communities where they have been content and happy because they can't cope with taxes and maintenance of a big house. One couple solved that problem by buying a smaller house in the same community. They have the same services available to them, and they are able to travel far and wide with the profits they made on the bigger house.

One piece of information that all retirement folk emphasize was put by one man, who said, "old bones seem to need warm weather. There comes a time when it is a little late to pioneer."

These words were voiced by a panel of Realtors and Ken Kern, director of the department of economics and research of the National Association of Realtors, in a special session for the press at the association's recent

Comfort Gets Top Priority

By LARRY FARNSWORTH

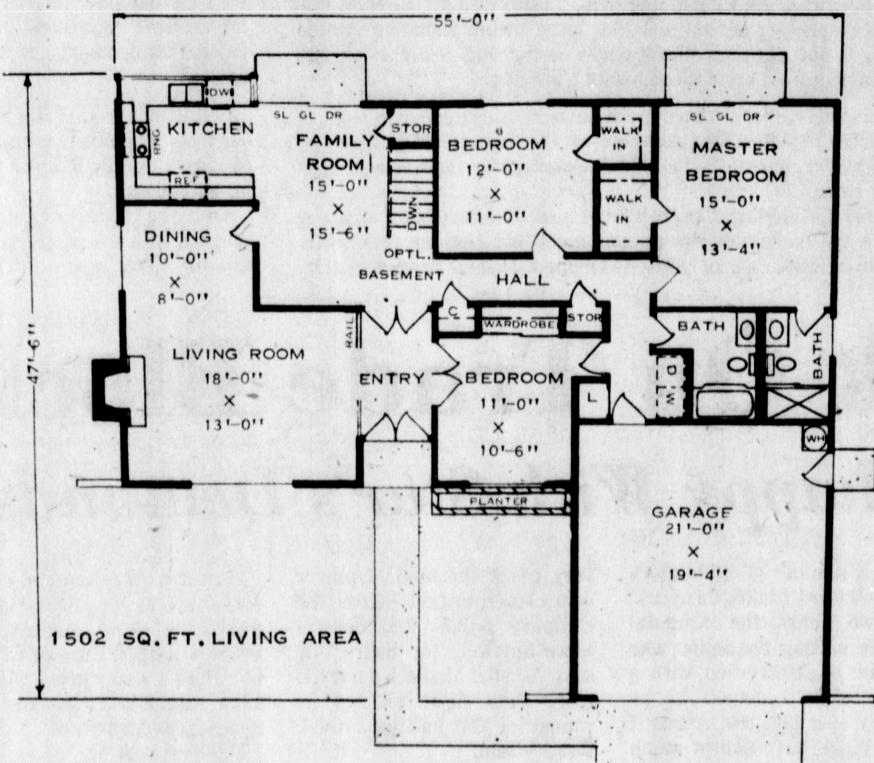

Here is a model universally favored by families who give comfortable living top priority.

It is an attractive house, too — it's basically efficient rectangular living area delightfully accented by the right-angled placement of the attached double garage. And note, too, the recessed entrance and the good looking roof line. This model can be built either with or without a basement.

Within the double front doors a formal entry competently channels traffic to the front-of-the-house living room, to the family room at the back, or to a well placed bedroom which easily could do double duty as a den.

And what a living room this plan offers. It is comfortably sized and highlighted both by its attractive fireplace and by the interesting railing effectively dramatizing its entrance. A dining ell at the back lends spaciousness yet retains its essential separateness.

Those who cook in this model's delightful U-shaped kitchen never need fear missing out on the family fun, for the family room is happily adjacent. And a large sliding glass door here allows inside fun to blend naturally with outdoor pleasures. The family room dimensions include the optional basement entry.

Opening from an L-shaped central hallway are this model's three attractive bedrooms and the main bath. Of course, the big, back-of-the-house master bedroom has its own bath, too, as well as a private garden entry and a large walk-in wardrobe.

The adjacent bedroom has walk-in closet facilities, too, and note the second entrance to the front bedroom, conveniently located just steps beyond the inside hall door to the garage.

Laundry facilities, too, are happily placed here, efficiently close to the main bath. Note, also the hall storage closets.

This model, obviously deserves the acclaim which homeowners everywhere have lavished upon it. For livability, for total family comfort, it is hard to beat.

You may purchase complete working drawings, material lists and plan books from Larry Farnsworth, P.O. Box 1841, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.

Oronoko Issues House Permit

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Seven building permits for an estimated $64,330 worth of new construction were issued during December by Thomas Russell, Oronoko township building inspector.

The largest project was a 1,702 square foot, $60,000 three-level home and two-car garage on Bluffview drive. The permit was issued to Edward Higgins.

Other permits were issued to: Kenneth Cobb, for repair to a fire damaged home on Lemon Creek road owned by Andrews University, Berrien Springs, $1,500.

Victor Campbell, 350 Westwood drive, Berrien Springs, to replace a greenhouse destroyed by fire, $500.

Philip Ries, to remodel a bathroom and basement of the Robert Thomas residence, Snow road, $1,500.

Paulette Bouvier, to remodel the Bon Appetit restaurant, 1501 St. Joseph road, $300.

W. Peter Blitchington, Red Bud trail, to erect a chain link fence, $50.

Frances Forrester, was issued a trailer permit.

White Enlivens Small Room

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

In choosing a color scheme to liven small rooms, consider white.

It can make rooms look clean and comfortable and it is a great background for amateur decorators because so many colorful accessories may be used with it.

It may seem like a wishy-washy choice, but actually it can be a dramatic background and it can lend itself to inexpensive decorating.

Even for children, rooms can be cozier and brighter done in washable white. Dirt can be seen easily and removed, so it is more sanitary than dark colors.

One family had erected a partition in a large room that had two windows, so that two children could share it. The room was a deep blue, but the handyman decided to repaint both rooms white to make the little rooms more cheerful and provide an illusion of increased size.

Each child had a small chest of drawers, a chair and a desk painted white. The only color in both rooms was on the floor, a red rug and a vivid blue one.

These children responded well to white. When their fingerprints showed up on the easy-care semi-gloss paint, they were given sponges to erase them. Soon they were cleaning spots without prodding.

Q. — The new house we bought about a year ago had no gutters. I am going to attempt to install metal gutters myself. Can you give me some ideas of the amount of pitch there should be for water to flow into the downspouts?

A. — The pitch should be one quarter of an inch for each foot of gutter.

Q. — In using paste filler on open-grained wood, do I rub it in with the grain or across the grain?

A. — Go first with the grain, then across the grain and, finally, with grain. This will insure that the filler gets into pores. In the movement across the grain, which is the most important, use a brush first, then rub with a piece of cloth, such as burlap. In the final operation, use a cloth to rub with the grain. Do this lightly, since it is primarily to smooth out the finish. Wait about 24 hours, then apply a sealer. Do not attempt to put on the final coat of whatever material you select until the sealer is completely dry.

Q. — I had heard that, when pouring turpentine from a can, it is best to pour it from the side of the spout. Whenever I do this, the turpentine dribbles over the side of the can. How come?

A. — Because the turpentine should be poured from the container while the spout is at the top, not at the side.

Q. — Can you tell me what shoe moulding is and what it is used for?

A. — Shoe moulding has two flat sides and one curved side. It is used against baseboards, with one flat side fitting against the baseboard, the other flat side against the floor.

Q. — I bought some unfinished pine furniture and would like to change the color of it. Can I use stain on it?

A. — Yes. First test it on a part of the furniture that will not show. Test a small portion of the stain directly on the wood, then test another part with a coat of diluted shellac, then the stain. When you have determined which best suits you taste, go ahead with the entire job.

U.S. Skiers Now Getting Paid Like Foreign Stars

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The old argument that U.S. amateur skiers cannot compete with' professional stars from behind the Iron Curtain is no longer valid, because Uncle Sam's kids are no longer amateurs.

U.S. skiers receive good money for their efforts and U.S. Ski Team officials hope it will pay off in victories for Uncle Sam in world-class competition, particularly the 1980 Winter Olympics.

"There are no true amateurs in international sport," says Hank Tauber, director of the U.S. Alpine team. "Guidelines in skiing in the past were hypocritical and dishonest, but the U.S. team lived by the rules. But now there is the element of control in paying skiers."

That element is the International Olympic Committee's Rule 26 which provides, among other things, that an athlete may be reimbursed for "financial loss resulting from his or her absence from work or basic occupation" because of training for international competition.

Rule 26 has been on the books since October 1974 but U.S. Ski Team officials have played it down for fear it would hurt efforts to solicit public donations prior to last year's games at Innsbruck.

Retirement Site Is Big Decision

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer
Where can we find a home with a scenic view... do you know an inexpensive retirement village... what is a good climate for older people? These are just some of the questions that are asked by people planning to retire.

More important, perhaps, but

miles from a thriving suburban town, but even so transportation may be available. It is not always so accessible in a less populated area.

Retiring to an isolated area because "housing is a bargain" may have many drawbacks, caution people who have had the experience. Taxes may be low, the atmosphere tranquil, but the lack of services may be a missing link for older folk.

Here are some suggestions from retired people that may prove helpful to others who are seeking retirement housing:

The dreamy little house in a small town may have everything going for it but convenience of health facilities. Before moving to it, find out where the doctor, dentist and hospital are located. Where can prescriptions be filled? What about eye examinations and new glasses? Find out how far you must travel for medical help in the event of an accident.

Transportation is becoming more costly and being curtailed even in thriving communities.

Is a car essential to your life in the town you are considering? Many persons do not wish to drive. Some can no longer drive for health reasons. Others want to curtail driving in the interest of economy. Is local transportation available? How often? Is it accessible to your home? You don't want to hire a car each time you must go to a railroad station or keep a doctor's appointment.

Are there appliance servicemen within range of the prospective home? Washing machine, dishwasher and television are real pleasures for aging people but if you can't get them fixed promptly or must pay someone to travel long distances to repair them, they may become real luxuries. In addition to a long wait for a repairman, you may need to pay travel time. One couple found repair costs prohibitive in their new home.

Many people want a long time dream when retirement comes around, by finding a remote spot where they can "get away from it all" to fish and walk. But they forget people and machines can break down.

Many people leave communities where they have been content and happy because they can't cope with taxes and maintenance of a big house. One couple solved that problem by buying a smaller house in the same community. They have the same services available to them, and they are able to travel far and wide with the profits they made on the bigger house.

One piece of information that all retirement folk emphasize was put by one man, who said, "old bones seem to need warm weather. There comes a time when it is a little late to move."

These words were voiced by a panel of Realtors and Ken Kern, director of the department of economics and research of the National Association of Realtors, in a special session for the press at the association's recent annual convention.

Kern, citing a recent survey of 50 metropolitan areas, said 48 reported an oversupply of units in late 1970 compared with 60 a year ago. He pointed out further that the number reporting a large oversupply had decreased considerably as well.

The condominium concept, which is as old as ancient Rome, was introduced in this country in 1960, but the recession of 1970 and problems associated with some condominium developments combined to stop the boom, leaving many projects uncompleted and units unsold.

Apparently buyer confidence in condominiums has returned.

One result has been a price appreciation for resale units across the nation.

Members of the panel on condominiums cited a number of reasons explaining the resurgence of interest in condominiums:

The high cost of construction, scarcity of land and the energy crisis have made condominiums more attractive in urban areas.

Laws addressing abuses have been put on the books in all

50 states and many municipalities. A Realtor panel member from Washington, D.C., commented that condominium buyers in the Washington area now are unquestionably the best protected purchasers of real estate in the area, thanks to recent condominium legislation.

Best management also has contributed to a better image of condominiums. One panelist foresee a trend towards professional management hired on a contractual basis. Another foresee a certification process from condominium managers becoming a reality.

As for the future of condominiums, panelists agreed that they would not entirely replace rental units, because rental units satisfy needs of many people, especially those who are frequently "on the move". One panel member said that condos eventually might dominate the new home market

as costs of land, materials, labor and maintenance push prices of new single-family homes out of the reach of all but the wealthy.

Recycled materials may be a substitute for something a community would normally have to buy, says Dr. Regan, who suggests using glass as "asphalt" for roadway repairs, and dried, sterilized domestic sludge as a soil additive for local parks.

Waste paper, he says, could be used as supplemental fuel in small furnaces.

Possibly, several neighboring population centers could join together to recycle their materials in a regional facility," suggests Dr. Regan,

"but then the economic benefits could be reduced by the transportation costs."

A — Yes. First test it on a part of the furniture that will not show. Test a small portion of the stain directly on the wood, then test another part with a coat of diluted shellac. Then the stain. When you have determined which best suits your taste, go ahead with the entire job.

Q. — Can you tell me what shoe moulding is and what it is used for?

A. — Shoe moulding has two flat sides and one curved side. It is used against baseboards, with the grain. Do this lightly, since it is primarily to smooth out the finish. Wait about 24 hours, then apply a sealer. Do not attempt to put on the final coat of whatever material you select until the sealer is completely dry.

Q. — I had heard that, when pouring turpentine from a can, it is best to pour it from the side of the spout. How come?

A. — Because the turpentine should be poured from the container while the spout is at the top, not at the side.

Charge Medical Examiner With Medicaid Fraud

ST. CLAIR SHORES, Mich. (AP) — A doctor named last year as the biggest individual provider of Medicaid services in the Detroit area has been charged with fraud.

BELL'S CHOICE: Wade H. McCree Jr., Sixth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals judge in Cincinnati, is the choice of Atty. Gen.-designate Griffin Bell to be next solicitor-general of the United States. McCree is the first black federal district judge in Detroit. He has his office there. (AP Wirephoto)

Oakland County Medical Examiner Dr. Robert Sillery, the first person arrested in a state probe of Medicaid fraud, was accused Friday of fraudulently obtaining $1,526 in Medicaid payments.

Sillery, who has been medical examiner in the state's second-largest county since Jan. 3, pleaded innocent to the felony charges in St. Clair Shores Municipal Court and was released on $20,000 bond. His pre-trial examination is set for Jan. 24.

Sillery was arrested in a state probe of Medicaid fraud which state officials say may be depleting the $811 million system by from $80 million to $160 million a year.

The charges filed by state Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley allege that Sillery, the owner of the St. Clair Pathology Services, Inc., instructed a Southfield medical bookkeeping service to submit billings for Medicaid work done by a so-called member of the firm, Dr. Jogindar Grewal.

The billings covered the period from February to April of 1976. But the attorney general said Sillery had ended his business relationship with Grewal in November, 1975. Kelley alleges Sillery collected $1,526 in billings for Grewal's supposed work during that period.

If found guilty of the charges, Sillery faces a maximum punishment of a $10,000 fine, and 10 years in prison.

Sillery, whose county job $40,000 a year, was identified last year by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) as the single largest individual provider of Medicaid services in the Detroit area. HEW said he received $475,266 in Medicaid payments during fiscal 1975-76.

Great Lakes Spill Threat Seen Small

DETROIT (AP) — Massive oil spills, like the one in the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket when the Liberian tanker Argo Merchant ran aground, are not likely to happen in the Great Lakes, Coast Guard officials say.

When a spill does occur, facilities exist on the Lakes for faster and more efficient cleanup, officials said Friday.

In 1976, there were about 100 spills of oil and other polluting materials involving the Lakes or connecting waterways, says Jim Miller, a water quality specialist for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"What we're trying to do is anticipate and prevent spills, rather than clean them up," Miller said.

Earlier this week, the Amoco Indiana ran aground in Grand Traverse Bay. A team of eight to 10 experts from the Coast Guard, the DNR and the federal Environmental Protection Agency was rushed to the scene.

Known as the U.S. Regional Response Team, the experts mobilize at the site of a mishap to determine the best action to take, Miller said.

Companies which ship oil around the Great Lakes have done a great deal to help in recent years.

Where several such companies are located near each other, firms have pooled their resources to purchase pollution clean-up equipment.

"Seven oil companies around Bay de Noc (on the Lake Michigan side of the Upper Peninsula) have a very good cooperative," said Lt. Biff Holt at the Coast Guard station at Sault Ste. Marie. "They've got 1,200 feet of containment boom, over a ton of absorbant material and they've got a mechanical skimmer. All of it is on a trailer for mobility."

Holt noted, "This is good ecology as well as good public relations."

The best insurance against massive spills in the Great Lakes is the closed nature of the waterway.

Foreign vessels entering the Lakes are inspected on their first visit, usually at the Snell Locks at Ogdensburg, N.Y., where they are generally boarded by a Coast Guard inspection team.

"If we find a severe enough condition, then we're going to make them correct it," said Lt. Klaus Adie from the Coast Guard's Marine Environmental Protection Branch at Cleveland.

"If we have wind something is screwed up, we're going to go inspect it, there's no doubt about that."

"We have considerably more control (on the Great Lakes)," Adie continued. "We've got a closed system. And we're working hand-in-glove with the Canadians, too, and that helps a lot."

The most serious spill in western Lake Superior last year involved 90,000 gallons of No. 2 furnace oil that escaped from a Beloit Department store in Benton township, Jan. 13. Bond was set at $1,500 each.

Andrew W. Killin III, 17, of New Buffalo, and James Walter Lawson, 20, of Union Pier, both on a charge of resisting and obstructing a police officer, Michigan State Police Troopers Peter Rahn and James Krill, Thursday in New Buffalo township. Bonds were set at $1,500 each.

Roosevelt Thomas, 69, of 267½ Butternut road, Benton township, pleaded innocent to a charge of pointing a rifle at David Frizzell without malice Jan. 13 in Benton township. He was originally charged with three counts of assault with a deadly weapon, but the charges were not authorized by the prosecutor's office, according to Assistant Prosecutor Paul Maloney. Bond was set at $1,000.

Demanding examinations were:

Sheila L. Carter, 19, of 806 Pearl street, Benton Harbor, on a charge of larceny in a building, a leather coat from Beloit Department store in Benton township, Jan. 13. Bond was set at $2,000.

That spill never got out of Standard's own boat slip," said Chief Joe Kutzera at the Coast Guard's Marine Safety Office at Duluth. "Standard cleaned it up right away. All the companies around the harbor keep their own equipment on hand and do a pretty good job."

Under New Bill, All Assessments Would Be 50%

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A state lawmaker has introduced a bill to make sure all property owners pay their fair share of taxes.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Roy Smith, R-Saline, is designed to assess each piece of property at half of its cash value. The assessment, plus the local tax rate, determines the amount of property tax each resident pays.

The constitution requires that property be assessed at half of cash value. But some communities have lumped all property together for the assessment, rather than judging them individually.

That has resulted in some communities imposing high tax assessments on commercial and industrial property, letting residential property go under-assessed.

Smith said one Wayne County community showed residential property assessed at about 30 per cent of cash value, while commercial property was assessed at 70 per cent and industrial property at 72.5 per cent.

Smith's bill would require all three classes of property to be assessed individually at 50 per cent of cash value — rather than combining them.

The measure was opposed by many municipalities last year because it would mean a hefty tax hike for residents.

This Juror Wouldn't Be Impartial

YADKINVILLE, N.C. (AP) — William Floyd Wagoner will not be able to report for jury duty, even though his name was drawn for the Jan. 24 term of Yadkin County Superior Court. Wagoner is due to be tried for murder during that term. He has been held without bond in the county jail since July, when he was charged with the shooting death of his wife, Ruth Campbell Wagoner. The county clerk of court, Harold Long, was at a loss to explain the selection.

"This is a coincidence that probably hasn't happened in the last 100 years and one that probably won't occur again in the next 100 years," he said.

Humphrey Grand Marshal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey, at the request of President-elect Carter and Mrs. Carter, has agreed to serve as grand marshal of Carter's inaugural parade.

The Minnesota Democrat will lead a motorcade from the Capitol to the White House after the inaugural ceremony Jan. 20 and will be in the first automobile of the presidential escort.

Michael R. Soles was convicted Friday of charges he killed three people and wounded seven others in a sniping incident in downtown Wichita, Kansas, last Aug. 11. The 19-year-old Sand Springs, Okla., youth was found guilty on three counts of first-degree murder, which carry a mandatory life sentence, and was also convicted of nine other counts of lesser charges. He had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Bankers Go After Red-Liners

By LARRY McDERMOTT
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Top bankers have formed a watch-dog committee to snuff out red-lining, the denial of home mortgages based on property location.

The committee represents all major Lansing-area lenders, it was announced Friday at a news conference. Outside lenders also may join. It is the first of its kind in the state.

"The purpose of the committee will be to review mortgage applications of owner-occupied single-family residential properties when a loan has been denied by a lender and the applicant believes the denial may be based on the property location," said Michael Hofmann, vice president of American Bank & Trust.

Once the committee identifies red-lined property, it will notify the lending institution. If that firm still refuses the loan, the committee would attempt to help the individual obtain a loan from another lender.

Charles M. Hopkins of Capitol Savings & Loan and Charles W. Shane of American Bank & Trust are the committee chairman and vice chairman respectively.

The U.S. Justice Department must grant approval before the committee can review loan applications which have been denied.

The announcement came only days after Gov. William Milliken called for legislative action to counteract a drop in mortgage lending in Michigan cities, but Hofmann said there was no link.

A final report this week by a state task force Milliken created last April said no standards exist governing mortgage lending decisions relating to the availability of credit or housing opportunity.

There are laws which protect a person from discrimination based on race or sex, but the location of the property is not covered. This means a lending firm might deny a loan on the grounds that the house is located in a deteriorated area and is not considered a good investment, despite the prospective buyer's wish to live there.

Critics of red-lining say the practice speeds up the deterioration of cities by discouraging urban home-buying.

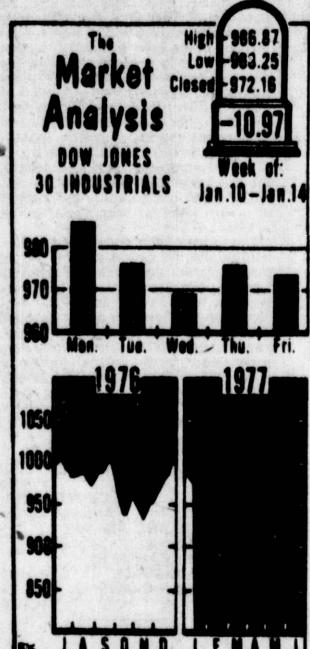

A Milliken aide said the governor was "glad to see this consciousness, or sensitivity, to the problem."

Man Says Car Stolen

Barry A. Brostoff of Bridgeman told St. Joseph police at 2:30 a.m. today that his 1974 dark green Mustang II auto was stolen from a city parking lot at Ship and Lake streets. The auto was parked in the lot about 1:50 a.m., police were told.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Friday were a .32-caliber pistol valued at $80 from the home of Rosie Lampkin, 614 Broadway; and a citizens' band radio valued at $50 from an auto owned by Spero Goussetis, 3101 River road, Sodus township, and parked in the lot of Ned Gates Chevrolet, 300 West Britain avenue.

Sarah Mahoney Friday reported to Benton Harbor police that the rear porch door window and inner door window were broken by an unknown object at her home, 948 Lavette street.

Union Votes On Contract With MGU

KALAMAZOO — Members of three locals of the United States Steelworkers union were voting today on a proposed contract with Michigan Gas Utilities (MGU) for 125 workers in seven districts, including Benton Harbor and South Haven.

The old contract expires at midnight tonight and members of the three locals will be voting throughout the day on the proposed pact, according to R.J. Golubic, manager of Michigan Gas Utilities, Benton Harbor office.

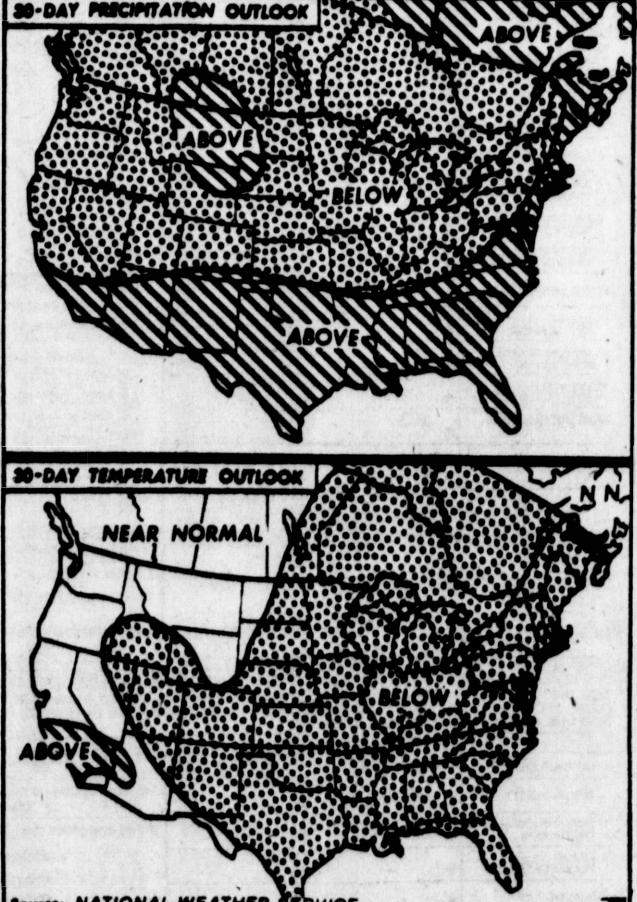

William Eckles, senior vice president of Michigan Gas Utilities, in Monroe, said the company is optimistic a settlement could be reached. He noted, however, if union members vote to strike, all essential services will be maintained by management personnel.

The seven districts, besides Benton Harbor and South Haven, include Hillsdale, Sturgis, Coldwater, Grand Haven, and Otsego, and service 50,000 customers.

It's The Law Now

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

LANSING — Gov. William Milliken has signed into law the following bills: A "unit pricing bill" to require most items sold in stores to carry individual prices readable by the shopper; A recodification of the state school code, putting all school laws into one act; A bill collecting all Michigan's civil rights laws into one act, and expanding protection against discrimination based on age, sex and marital status; A bill providing additional state aid to school districts suffering rapidly declining enrollments. The state will make up for part of lost school aid by providing about $65 per pupil lost, to districts losing more than two per cent of their students. The cost is about $1.65 million; A bill permitting municipally-owned utilities to enter joint ventures with similar utilities or those owned by investors, to finance and operate electric power plants; A bill requiring school lunch programs in all public schools and breakfast programs in schools where 20 per cent of the students are eligible for free or reduced-price meals.

MICROWAVE OVEN MAKES DEBUT: Whirlpool has introduced its line of four microwave ovens at national sales convention. Also new is 30-inch range with shelf for mounting microwave oven (top). Microwave ovens also can be used on tables and countertops.

Whirlpool Unveils New Home Appliance Lines

Whirlpool Corporation has introduced its new line of four microwave ovens, a 30-inch range designed to hold a microwave oven, 19 refrigerator-freezer models, and an economy model food waste disposer.

Electromechanical safety lock switches are built into the door latching mechanism, so the door must be firmly latched for the oven to operate. An optional accessory trim kit is available to build any model of the line into kitchen cabinets.

Whirlpool worked with the Better Homes & Gardens Test Kitchens to develop and test all the recipes in the Micro Menus cookbook, which is included with each Whirlpool microwave oven. It's illustrated in full color and prepared in a suggested menu format with index by both item and category.

Whirlpool said its microwave ovens meet or exceed all of the microwave oven safety performance standards of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and applicable standards established by the Federal Communications Commission.

Features found on all models include a start button, an end-of-cooking signal when pre-set time has elapsed, a red "on" indicator light, automatic shut-off when the door is opened, a 1,14 cu. ft. oven capacity.

The food waste disposer is named "Thru-The-Sink" because it is installed through the top of the sink opening and locked in place with a snap ring.

The installer is then free to use both hands to make plumbing alignment and hookup.

Of the 19 refrigerator-freezer models, 18 are "no frost."

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR HOWARD K. SMITH, newscaster

Like many other Americans, I was interested in your statement that the late President Johnson once told you that President Kennedy was out to get Castro but Castro got him first. What about the report that a Cuban kamikaze plane tried to get Johnson's plane soon after he became President?—Jack Quinn, Orchard Park, N.Y.

● On a trip to Miami four months after Kennedy's death, the FBI changed Mr. Johnson's plans suddenly. Instead of landing at Miami, he landed at an obscure airport miles away. He moved in an unmarked helicopter, so he could not be identified. The rumor was that a Cuban kamikaze had been ordered to ram his plane. When asked then, former Johnson Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said, "Maybe a year or two or five years from now, I can tell you, but not now."

FOR PETER DUCHIN, musician, chairman of Inaugural parties

What are you planning for this year's Inaugural parties?—V.H., Logan, Utah

● For the first time the parties won't be formal affairs; formal dress is strictly optional. We're aiming for a party-like atmosphere that's relaxed and casual. We'll be building the celebration around a theme of music from all parts of America—classical, folk, jazz, swing, big band and rock and roll.

FOR DINAH SHORE

Do you like entertaining small or large groups, and what do you usually serve?—Maryellen Wallace, Los Angeles, Calif.

● I adore entertaining—and do so very often—but I always try to limit the number to eight. When I have people in, it's informal—usually a buffet. My guests invariably get lemon veal or Tennessee lasagne or chicken (various kinds).

FOR JACKIE BISSET, star of The Deep

Why don't you want to get married?—K.B., Pine Bluff, Ark.

● Although I've nothing against marriage, I don't feel I'm missing anything by not being a "Mrs." For those who'll stay together for ever, there's nothing better, but who can be sure? Splitting up after five years is no good, either. My attitude probably stems from the fact that when I was little, my mother never made me feel that when I grew up my only option was to get married and have children.

FOR STEVIE WONDER, singer

Did your blindness separate you from other kids?—W.C., Rome, Ga.

● No, in fact, I got into more trouble than most sighted kids sneaking girl friends to the railroad tracks and always running around. I never knew what it was like to see—what you never have, you never miss. As far as I was concerned, I had a normal childhood, despite being blind from birth. But if I were able to see for one second, the thing I'd like to look at most is the earth. I've felt it, and it feels beautiful.

FOR SEN. EDMUND S. MUSKIE (D.-Maine)

I read your real name is Marciszewski and that you're proud of your Polish background. If this is so, why did you change your name?—Rev. Ken Weimer, Rock Springs, Wyo.

● My family name was changed from Marciszewski to Muskie several years before I was born. When my father came here from Poland in 1903, his name—like those of so many other immigrants at the time—was changed by immigration officials to simplify the spelling and pronunciation.

FOR JUDITH VIORST, writer

Can anything be done to persuade kids to read more?—A.S., Chicago, Ill.

● I am seriously concerned about the fate of reading, which is clearly not the major form of recreation and pleasure for my kids (and many of my friends') that it was for us when we were growing up. I find I must take action—instead of just anguish over our children's preference for more passive forms of pleasure, such as watching TV, and more active forms of diversion, such as sports.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Why does Robert Mitchum hate acting?—B.G., Santa Monica, Calif.

● Bob explains why he remains in the profession he scorns by saying: "How else can a no-talent guy like me make so much dough?" Nor does he rate other performers highly: "Actors get more respect than they deserve. All we talk about is our work." As one who freely criticizes, how does he react to criticism? "I don't pay any attention. If they can replace me, let them go right ahead."

FOR ALVAN ADAMS, 1975-76 National Basketball Association Rookie of the Year

You are supposedly serious about education, yet you quit college to play for the Phoenix Suns. Why did you do that?—J.N., Madison, Wis.

● I left school a year early because I saw the chance to be drafted by a team in a city that I like and to play for coach John MacLeod, whom I admire greatly. After my basketball career, I plan to be a doctor and am now finishing my undergraduate studies at Arizona State.

PRO Shirley Camper Soman is the author of Let's Stop Destroying Our Children.

Yes. Divorce is often a tug-of-war in which the child is the rope. Joint custody, then, seems to minimize both loss and conflict for child and parents because a no-fight situation is more possible. Joint custody helps focus parents on the needs of their children. In some cases, joint custody should not be tried, especially when emotional or physical harm to child or parent is an element. But short of this, my personal and professional experiences all lead me to favor any arrangement in which both parents can participate fully and fairly in their children's development and lives.

CON Helen DeRosis is the author of Parents Power-Child Power.

No. Parents find it difficult to accept that children can thrive with only one effective parent, but this has to be considered as an alternative to an arrangement (dual custody) that may create more problems than it solves. The advantage of a warm, available "extended family" is a strong plus in dual custody if the logistics can be worked out and the adults' attitudes toward each other have undergone remarkable changes. Otherwise, there might be continuing confusion and divided loyalties. Many parents do not realize how little children require in order to grow with a sense of confidence and trust. But that little they must have.

Elizabeth Gee

PRO AND CON

Is The Concept of Joint Custody Good For The Child?

Many experts now say that children of divorced parents should live equally with both the mother and the father.

ROSALYNN CARTER: What Kind of Pacesetter Will She Be?

By Frances Spatz Leighton

Rosalynn Carter may not know the potential power she has. Jimmy has, of course, already said that he'll consult her on questions affecting the destiny of the country. But did she expect all those coast-to-coast groans from the fashion industry when she said she planned to wear a gown to the Inauguration that she had already worn before? And what were her feelings after she announced that Amy would go to Thaddeus Stevens, a public school in Washington, and then heard about young matrons from all over the city besieging the school with requests to accept their children?

In fact, First Ladies have always had an impact—from the trivial to major policy discussions. You probably remember Mamie Eisenhower's bangs and Jackie Kennedy's "Beehive" and what they did to hairdos across the nation, but did you know that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson virtually governed the country after President Wilson had a stroke? She even signed her own name—Edith Galt Wilson—to documents.

So it goes throughout our history. President Harding's wife, Florence, got people interested in the occult in the '20's and had fortunetellers and seers come to the White House to predict the future, and if she were told not to leave the White House on a certain day because it would bring bad luck to it, she stayed in. There's even a story that a fortuneteller told her in 1923 that her husband would die if he went to Alaska. They went. He died.

Rosalynn is obviously more down to earth. She cooked her family's Thanksgiving dinner with homemade cornbread dressing for the turkey. (Not since Bess Truman has a First Lady done that. Perhaps that's where Harry got one of his favorite sayings: if you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen.) Her sewing abilities are also admirable, but even here, there's a precedent—Grace Coolidge used to sit by a sunny White House window with her maid, Maggie Rogers, chatting companionably as the sewing needles and crochet hooks flew. At the end of her four-years' residence, Mrs. Coolidge left behind a new crocheted bedspread for the oversized Lincoln bed that stayed there for many years.

More seriously, Rosalynn may well influence legislation and her husband's official programs. She did in Georgia, and Jimmy has already sent her as his representative to the inauguration of the new President of Mexico. Rosalynn, in fact, has made history by participating in her husband's strategy sessions during the Presidential campaign, and she'll probably be at least as involved as Lady Bird, who pressured LBJ to get laws passed banning billboards from highways. Johnson used to say, "Jacqueline Kennedy redecorated the White House. Lady Bird is redecorating the rest of the country."

Rosalynn will also set the social tone for the nation, as have First Ladies since Martha Washington. Martha was even referred to as "Lady Washington" by those around her. It was she who decreed that persons wishing to pay their respects to her and the President must be dressed in formal attire in their presence. The President and First Lady Washington kept an invisible barrier between themselves and their guests. Curtsies and bows were made. Touching the Presidential couple was frowned upon. Handshakes did not come to the White House until later.

Mrs. Carter will be more democratic in mixing and mingling with common folks at the White House and with opening its doors to more callers.

Some say she will try to put in an appearance and shake hands and chat with some of the tourists who daily snake their way through the White House. Most First Ladies have stayed hidden away in the upstairs family quarters under the watchful eyes of the guards until the tourists have had their peek at the East Room, the State Dining Room, the Red Room, the Green Room and the Blue Room.

Not since Florence Harding has a First Lady raced down the stairs to greet tourists in person, calling a cheery "Hello." Naturally, the tourists were thrilled and startled and cherished this memory of their Washington visit. At the other extreme, Eliza, the wife of Andrew Johnson, took to her room and refused to greet White House callers or attend White House parties. White House hostess for the President who succeeded Abe Lincoln was daughter Martha Johnson, who started each day by milking two cows she had brought from Tennessee and who told a startled newspaperman, "We are plain people, Sir, and do not propose to put on airs because we have the fortune to occupy this place for a little while."

Rosalynn will probably place herself somewhere between Florence Harding and Martha Johnson. But social and official Washington are waiting with bated breath to see if Rosalynn will, indeed, make the White House a little more folksy with square dances as she has promised. There even may be a taste of hominy grits worked into more traditional White House party dishes to show the sophisticated international guests what the South is all about.

Rosalynn also can be expected to star at small family gatherings, for she is a family-oriented woman. The Carters like the Kennedy family, stick together. The President-elect and his brother built a peanut empire together, and the Kennedys, too, were linked together by family holdings. The nation looks forward to reading of the comings and goings of Presidential brother Billy and Miss Lillian and all the rest of the Carter clan at the White House, and to the upcoming birth of a new grandchild for Rosalynn and Jimmy.

What will Rosalynn do to the White House itself? She may change the yellow in the family rooms preferred by the last few Presidential families to the green and white which were her husband's lucky campaign colors, and the colors she enjoys around her.

The incoming First Lady is also expected to spend a great deal of her time in people-oriented projects that will help the disadvantaged, retarded citizens, the mentally depressed and senior citizens.

Will First Lady Rosalynn serve as her husband's representative around the country and the world? She probably will never match Eleanor Roosevelt's performance as the eyes and ears of her invalid husband. Eleanor made history when she went down into a coal mine to report to her husband on the conditions there.

But one thing is sure: Rosalynn will have her husband's ear for "pillow talks" because she plans to ignore the tradition of separate bedrooms for husbands and wives in the White House. Here again, though, she won't be first. Betty Ford took the first step in breaking the tradition, announcing that she was sharing her husband's bed.

As the moment when Jimmy Carter becomes President fast approaches, many eyes will be on Rosalynn, straining to find out how she will look, what she will wear and whether she will conform or not to past First Ladies. Like it or not, front stage is where Rosalynn Carter will be.

ASK THEM YOURSELF

Send the question, on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR HOWARD K. SMITH, newscaster

Like many other Americans, I was interested in your statement that the late President Johnson once told you that President Kennedy was out to get Castro but Castro got him first. What about the report that a Cuban kamikaze plane tried to get Johnson's plane down after he became President? —Jack Quine, Orchard Park, N.Y.

On a trip to Miami four months after Kennedy's death, the FBI changed Mr. Johnson's plane suddenly. Instead of landing at Miami, he landed at an obscure airport miles away. He moved in an unmarked helicopter, so he could not be identified. The rumor was that a Cuban kamikaze had been ordered to ram his plane. When asked then, former Johnson Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said, "Maybe a year or two or five years from now, I can tell you, but not now."

FOR PETER DUCHIN,

musician, chairman of inaugural parties

What are you planning for this year's inaugural parties? —

V.H., Logan, Utah

For the first time the parties won't be formal affairs; formal dress is strictly optional. We're aiming for a party-like atmosphere that's relaxed and casual. We'll be building the celebration around a theme of music from all parts of America—classical, folk, jazz, swing, big band and rock and roll.

FOR JACKIE BISSET, star of The Deep

Why don't you want to get married? —K.B., Pine Bluff, Ark.

Although I've nothing against marriage, I don't feel I'm missing anything by not being a "Mrs." For those who'll stay together for ever, there's nothing better, but who can be sure? Splitting up after five years is no good, either. My attitude probably stems from the fact that when I was little, my mother never made me feel that when I grew up my only option was to get married and have children.

FOR SEN. EDMUND S. MUSKIE (D.-Maine)

I read your real name is Marciszewski and that you're proud of your Polish background. If this is so, why did you change your name? —Rev. Ken Weimer, Rock Springs, Wyo.

My family name was changed from Marciszewski to Muskie several years before I was born. When my father came here from Poland in 1903, his name—like those of so many other immigrants at the time—was changed by immigration officials to simplify the spelling and pronunciation.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

Why does Robert Mitchum hate acting? —B.G., Santa Monica, Calif.

Bob explains why he remains in the profession he scorns by saying: "How else can a no-talent guy like me make so much dough?" Nor does he rate other performers highly: "Actors get more respect than they deserve. All we talk about is our work." As one who freely criticizes, how does he react to criticism? "I don't pay any attention. If they can replace me, let them go right ahead."

FOR DINAH SHORE

Do you like entertaining small or large groups, and what do you usually serve? —Maryellen Wallace, Los Angeles, Calif.

I adore entertaining—and do so very often—but I always try to limit the number to eight. When I have people in, it's informal—usually a buffet. My guests invariably get lemon veal or Tennessee lasagna or chicken (various kinds).

FOR STEVIE WONDER, singer

Did your blindness separate you from other kids? —W.C., Rose, Ga.

No, in fact, I got into more trouble than most sighted kids sneaking girl friends to the railroad tracks and always running around. I never knew what it was like to see—what you never have, you never miss. As far as I was concerned, I had a normal childhood, despite being blind from birth. But if I were able to see for one second, the thing I'd like to look at most is the earth. I've felt it, and it feels beautiful.

FOR JUDITH VIORST, writer

Can anything be done to persuade kids to read more? —A.S., Chicago, Ill.

I am seriously concerned about the fate of reading, which is clearly not the major form of recreation and pleasure for my kids (and many of my friends) that it was for us when we were growing up. I find I must take action—instead of just anguish over our children's preference for more passive forms of pleasure, such as watching TV, and more active forms of diversion, such as sports.

FOR ALVAN ADAMS, 1975-76 National Basketball Association Rookie of the Year

You are supposedly serious about education, yet you quit college to play for the Phoenix Suns. Why did you do that? —J.N., Madison, Wis.

I left school a year early because I saw the chance to be drafted by a team in a city that I like and to play for coach John MacLeod, whom I admire greatly. After my basketball career, I plan to be a doctor and am now finishing my undergraduate studies at Arizona State.

PRO AND CON

Is The Concept of Joint Custody Good For The Child?

Many experts now say that children of divorced parents should live equally with both the mother and the father.

PRO Shirley Camper Sennett is the author of Let's Stop Destroying Our Children.

Yes. Divorce is often a tug-of-war in which the child is the rope. Joint custody, then, seems to minimize both loss and conflict for child and parents because a no-fight situation is more possible. Joint custody helps focus parents on the needs of their children. In some cases, joint custody should not be tried, especially when emotional or physical harm to child or parent is an element. But short of this, my personal and professional experiences all lead me to favor any arrangement in which both parents can participate fully and fairly in their children's development and lives.

CON Helen DeRrels is the author of Parents Power—Child Power.

No. Parents find it difficult to accept that children can thrive with only one effective parent, but this has to be considered as an alternative to an arrangement (dual custody) that may create more problems than it solves. The advantage of a warm, available "extended family" is a strong plus in dual custody if the logistics can be worked out and the adults' attitudes toward each other have undergone remarkable changes. Otherwise, there might be continuing confusion and divided loyalties. Many parents do not realize how little children require in order to grow with a sense of confidence and trust. But that little they must have!

"We're looking for people to write children's books"

If you ever wanted to write and be published consider this opportunity.

by Francis Gemme

We need writers. There are over 150 publishers of books for children and more than 250 magazines, all of which have a need for writers.

We know that many people could help fill this need for children's writers if they could only get started. Are you one of those people? Do you have the urge to write and the ambition to work at it but are unable to get professional training? Are you tied to your home or job? Perhaps you lack confidence in your ability?

Have you ever read a children's story and said, "I can do better than that"? Have you ever deplored the lack of good new literature for young readers? Do you love children? Do you want to do something important with your life? Do you want the personal satisfaction and the rewards that come with writing for children? That very attitude may be the clue that you can do it, for the desire to write must come first.

Stories only you can write.

Once you learn to use the basic writing techniques, writing for children may be easier than you think. Your personal experiences, fantasies, personality traits, and hobbies all lend themselves to good subjects. Many of these subjects have been written about—plainly and simply—and have been published. You probably have within yourself many children's stories that only you can write.

A new kind of school.

At the Institute of Children's Literature top writers and publishers have worked together to create a professional course to teach you to write for young children and for teenagers. They include people like Lee Wyndham, a teacher and author of forty-eight books, including Writing for Children and Teenagers, Hardie Gramatky, author and illustrator of many famous children's books like Little Toot, and Stanley Glos, President of Scroll Press and publisher of many award-winning children's books. In total, these professional writers have published hundreds and hundreds of books and magazine articles for young readers. They know how to write—how to teach—and how to help you get your writing published.

Learning to write and to sell.

This course will train you step-by-step from the writing of the opening sentence through the polishing of a finished manuscript. Yes, you will have completed a manuscript suitable for submission to a publisher when you finish this course.

The success of this course has been demonstrated time and again by people who simply knew in their hearts that they could write in a way that would enrich children's reading experiences.

Your own instructor.

Because writing is a very personal experience, we believe that the teaching of writing must also be personalized. That is why, in addition to writing materials, textbooks, instruction, and assignments, you will receive personal guidance on every lesson from your own instructor.

The instructor chosen for you will be a professional writer who will remain with you throughout the course. He will show you how to use your personal feelings, experiences, imagination, and interests to write for children—in your spare time at home.

Work at your own pace.

A writing course is most effective when you can work at the time you feel most like working. With this course, there is no bell to end the class and no interruptions from other students. You and your instructor can work together at the pace most suitable for you. This flexible schedule allows more time for each student than is possible in a classroom situation.

You mail your completed work to your instructor who carefully reads and edits each assignment. He then writes you a long personal letter explaining in detail his corrections and makes specific recommendations. You receive professional advice and guidance while you work where you want—when you want.

The rewards.

While there are no promises, many writers of children's books report earning $10,000 to $15,000 per year and more. In addition, the benefits of a career in writing also include the challenge, the excitement, and the great satisfaction of doing something important with your life. When you complete this course, you will be a trained writer with a future. And what a future!

Francis Gemme, a Founder of the Institute of Children's Literature, is the President and Publisher of Gallery Books and former President of Young Reader's Press.

The market is enormous. Editors and publishers of children's literature are searching for talented writers.

Last year, more than 30 million children's books were published, producing total sales of over 170 million dollars! And over 250 periodicals for children with a combined circulation of over 60,000,000 were published. Books and magazine articles for children are frequently adapted for television and for the movies. In addition, there are twenty-six children's book clubs and a rapidly expanding children's paperback market.

Writing is truly satisfying only when your work is published and, for writers of children's literature, there have never been more publishers.

Will you take the first step?

You may be a teacher, be taking care of a home, or be a concerned grandparent. You may not even believe that you have the necessary background to become a successful writer. But, as an author, you will be judged solely on your ability to write—not on your age, sex, education, or previous writing experience.

For example, female authors appear on the best sellers list as frequently as do male authors and, in the field of children's literature, there are as many female editors as there are male editors.

Free test.

To find qualified men and women with an aptitude for writing, the Faculty and Consultants of the Institute have prepared a special Aptitude Test. It is offered free of charge and will be evaluated at no charge to you by members of our staff.

If you want to be a writer, send in the coupon below for this free test and for a free brochure which fully describes the Institute, our course, our faculty, the current publishing market for children's literature, and your new future. If you demonstrate an aptitude for writing, you will be eligible to enroll. Of course, there is no obligation.

ROSALYNN CARTER: What Kind of Pacesetter Will She Be?

By Frances Spatz Leighton

Rosalynn Carter may not know the potential power she has. Jimmy has, of course, already said that he'll consult her on questions affecting the destiny of the country. But did she expect all those coast-to-coast groans from the fashion industry when she said she planned to wear a gown to the inauguration that she had already worn before? And what were her feelings after she announced that Amy would go to Thaddeus Stevens, a public school in Washington, and then heard about young matrons from all over the city besieging the school with requests to accept their children?

In fact, First Ladies have always had an impact—from the trivial to major policy discussions. And now it's up to Rosalynn.

Lady Bird loved beauty.

Mamie made bangs big.

Betty was frank and loved the arts—particularly the dance.

Florence was a mystic.

Rosalynn will probably place herself somewhere between Florence Harding and Martha Johnson. But social and official Washington are waiting with bated breath to see if Rosalynn will, indeed, make the White House a little more folksy with square dances as she has promised. There even may be a taste of hominy grits worked into more traditional White House party dishes to show the sophisticated international guests what the South is all about.

Will you take the first step?

You may be a teacher, be taking care of a home, or be a concerned grandparent. You may not even believe that you have the necessary background to become a successful writer. But, as an author, you will be judged solely on your ability to write—not on your age, sex, education, or previous writing experience.

For example, female authors appear on the best sellers list as frequently as do male authors and, in the field of children's literature, there are as many female editors as there are male editors.

Free test.

To find qualified men and women with an aptitude for writing, the Faculty and Consultants of the Institute have prepared a special Aptitude Test. It is offered free of charge and will be evaluated at no charge to you by members of our staff.

If you want to be a writer, send in the coupon below for this free test and for a free brochure which fully describes the Institute, our course, our faculty, the current publishing market for children's literature, and your new future. If you demonstrate an aptitude for writing, you will be eligible to enroll. Of course, there is no obligation.

ALEX HALEY: FROM THE BRINK OF SUICIDE TO THE BEST-SELLER LIST

The author of the critically acclaimed Roots, that is also the basis of an upcoming TV series, talks of how writing the book drove him to almost total despair.

By Mary Long

Only two years ago, Alex Haley was a man in the depths of despair. At one point, he was considering suicide. Now, he is this season's hottest writer—his book, Roots, is a record-breaking best seller, and, beginning next Sunday, ABC will air a $6-million, 12-hour drama based on the book. A slight, scholarly-looking man with a slow grin and a voice touched with a Tennessee-bred softness, Haley is the last person you'd expect to have created the most brutally dramatic book of the year.

But much of what is best in Roots—the story of his family traced back over seven generations—was written out of this man's own agony and despair. His voice is low-pitched, and faraway, and he is close to tears as he tells the story.

"I had already put in 10 years of work on my book when I ran into a complete dead end. Writing about my first ancestor, Kunta Kinte, on his voyage to America aboard a slave ship had become impossible for me. I had tried and failed many, many times. Finally, in desperation, I booked passage on a freighter bound for Africa. Every night I went down into the hold of the ship, stripped to my underwear and lay all night on a wooden plank, trying to imagine what it would be like for a young man to lie there in chains, hearing the cries of men screaming, praying and dying all around him.

"I began to worry that I might be losing my mind" he says quietly. "One night, standing out on the stern deck, watching the freighter's wake, I felt overwhelmed by my burden. I was about $50,000 in debt. My publisher and my agent were at me constantly, asking when I would finish this interminable book. I had told them six months, even though I knew I still had several years of work ahead of me. Inside my head I was suffering the horrors of what happened to Kunta Kinte in the ship hold. Then, I thought how easy it would be just to slip over the rail into the sea. I was almost joyful at the idea."

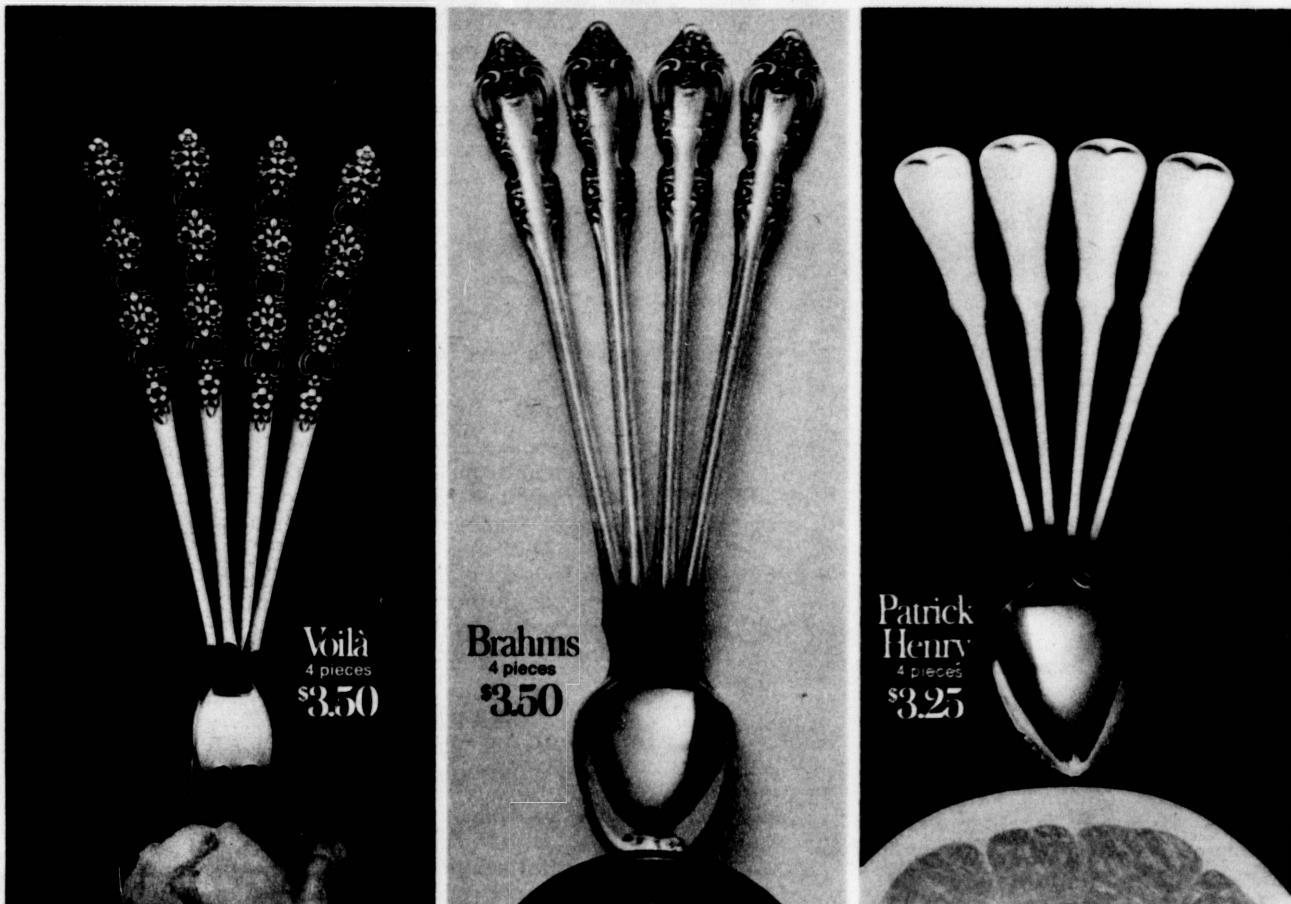

But at that moment Haley says he had the most vivid psychic experience of his life. "I heard the soft voices of my dead family talking to me, encouraging me. They were saying, 'You must finish. Go on with your book.' It took a tremendous physical effort to push my body away from the rail. I scuttled on my hands and knees, back over the hatch covers to my room. I lay on my bed, sobbing for hours. That night, I knew I finally would be able to find the words to tell my family's story."

The turmoil and labor that went into Roots is just about unheard of—nearly 10 years of tedious detective work, over two years of writing. The work was so complex that Haley used to separate his research into manila folders and spread them out, row upon row, in his room. "I planted them like seeds," the writer says, his fingers jabbing the air as though nailing up the words one by one, "and I plowed through them on hands and knees."

What he harvested was a 600-page book that's both a record-breaking best seller and the fulfillment of a personal mission. EW

STRAIGHT TALK ON MONEY

Here are ideas and advice on ways to buy, spend and save that will start you thinking about old practices and could even change your life—for the better.

By Eliot Janeway

Many families have fallen into the habit of giving priority to vacation spending and leisure-time living in general. They have treated the cost of education as a casual ongoing expense that can be met from year to year. Meanwhile, the cost of vacations has been coming down as the cost of education has been skyrocketing. No one expects a free vacation, but many parents still expect free education. This is a relic of the past, especially at the college level.

Your feelings about money reflect your feelings about yourself.

Too many families and businesses with comfortable earnings pay taxes instead of taking advantage of the option to give money away for deductible nonprofit purposes. (Individuals have the right to take deductions on contributions of up to 50 percent of their adjusted gross incomes; businesses, however, are limited to five percent of taxable income before deductions.)

What the Good Book says about the poor applies to the tax collector, too. He will always be with you; more precisely, he will always be after you.

People able to pay cash are better off taking advantage of credit privileges which would enable them to keep the use of their money as long as possible. All quality stores, hotels and restaurants, for instance, assume that credit privileges will be used by customers and, therefore, that the delay in getting paid (remember that time is money) is part of the cost of doing business. Anyway, the cost of credit is already figured in the retail markup on a product or service.

If you happen to be a woman—especially a young single woman—the most substantial, but often ignored, benefit of salaried employment is that it provides credit privileges. Many denizens of executive suites, while recognizing Eliot Janeway has been a financial adviser to Presidents, senators, congressmen and the highest levels of industry for over forty years. He is also the author of several popular books. ing the advantages and obligations of opening employment opportunities to qualified women, are insensitive to the glaring inequity in retail, commercial and financial credit arrangements. Many women are too shy to ask their corporate employers for a helping hand. They have been conditioned to complain about getting short shrift only at the credit window.

Living with the stock market is a lot like having a marriage that runs into problems, but works.

Borrowing creates liabilities, but credit is an asset. When push comes to shove, credit is the most important asset you have. It insures your right to get money when you need it. Credit is also an advertisement that you have the earning power needed to pay it back.

In these last 10 turbulent years, the individuals making their own money decisions have done immeasurably better than those who have let the "professionals" do their thinking for them.

There's a simple yardstick for measuring when the coast is clear to start your own business: when money is going for 5 percent. Whenever it is, the cost of doing business is bound to be low. Money costs reflect all other costs. New businesses need a chance to get ahead of their costs in order to accumulate capital reserves. If you get started when high costs are a universal complaint, you're apt to end up with the illusion of being in business for yourself without the satisfaction of it.

Stop thinking like a salaried employee just because that's what you happen to be. Start living a "double life": save on your salary but also squirrel away an investment fund on the side. If your salary is big enough to do both and more, lead a "triple life": speculate as well as invest and save.

Everyone needs to take an occasional fling with money . . . and with love.

The reason to buy life insurance is not to borrow on the policy but to protect yourself against the possibility that even if you start out rich, you may end up poor. But once you have a policy, one of its advantages is the ability to obtain cheap money with no pressure to repay until it's time for the final send-off.

Insurance is a necessity for everyone, but it's especially valuable for people who can't meet their goals and still need to meet their responsibilities.

The prudent way to handle any new personal investment today is first to determine how long the asset will remain viable (three years for a car, three to five years for a boat). It's smart to figure on needing money for a trade-in when this period is over. But if you're going to come out ahead on a trade-in, the item had better be in good condition. How to budget for a replacement and repair fund? In the case of a car you intend to use for three years, budget one-third more of the retail price in each of the first three years. For example, if the price of a new car is $6,000, a fund amounting to $2,000 per year for three years ought to be built up to cover the cost of repairing and insuring the car over that period, as well as replacing it over the trade-in value after the three years are up.

What you do with your money reveals more about the kind of person you are than how you make it. The act of giving reflects your feelings about yourself.

Contrary to what most people think, pay increases alone won't solve your money problems. Keep two aims in mind in developing your savings program. First, you need a savings fund of at least six months' after-tax income to protect yourself against emergencies. On top of that, you need to put enough money together for investment or speculation. Building a reserve of $10,000 is a good beginning.

We have finally caught up with the ancient Chinese custom of budgeting for health costs: pay the doctor when you're healthy. Get the doctor to owe you free services when something goes wrong.

Land has always been the best investment—and not just in America. The supply is fixed, and no government has ever been able to figure out a way to print more of it. An important guideline: when you buy land, buy lots of it at one time even if you can't afford it. It's always more profitable to borrow to pay for land instead of putting up cash; and the interest on your loan is tax deductible.

The people who spent money on leisure-time living during their working years and banked on pensions, annuities and investments to pay for their retirement, have awakened to discover they've been burning the candle at both ends.

BARBARA BRITTON TALKS FRANKLY ABOUT COLORING HER GRAY HAIR

We remembered Barbara Britton as the lovely star of the "Mr. & Mrs. North" series in the 50's, so we were curious to find out her attitudes about going gray and what persuaded her to change it. We stole a few hours from her busy schedule in the theatre and met at her country home.

Barbara, psychologists say women feel that going gray is a milestone.

Getting gray does make you feel older. It's depressing! Being in show business I'd been involved with coloring my hair for years, so I know what an ordeal it is... endless touch-ups... ugly gray roots... possible hair damage... that's not for me.

But you did color your hair. What finally convinced you?

A very dear friend. She'd been coloring her hair for years with all of those problems I hated. Then she switched to Lady Grecian Formula and it was totally different.

Lady Grecian is different! How so?

It just eliminates everything I dreaded about haircolor. From start to finish, Lady Grecian is easy. No mixing, no mess and no peroxide—so it's gradual and gentle.

It colors gradually?

It's amazing. You simply brush this clean almost clear liquid through daily until your hair is just the color you want. It comes out so beautifully natural looking. You can even switch to Lady Grecian like my friend did.

You mean someone who's been coloring her hair can switch to Lady Grecian?

It's even easier than if you're gray. Just Lady Grecian the root area as you need it—combing it through occasionally... and it blends right in with the color you've been using... and the over-all color gets prettier and softer—more believable looking. And, no ugly gray roots!

What about younger women just beginning to find those gray hairs?

Oh, they'll love it because it's so much quicker and easier than anything else and best of all, doesn't mess up the natural color one bit. In fact, if you're only gray around the temples just do that part and it will blend in. Or, you can make the gray into beautiful highlights.

Speaking of highlights, your hair certainly has a natural healthy looking shine.

Thank you. With most kinds of haircolor, each and every hair is saturated with color so they tend to have the same rather flat look. Well, that isn't how natural hair looks at all. But Lady Grecian works with the natural chemistry of the hair so it retains this natural blend of shades and highlights.

Don't a lot of women complain that coloring leaves their hair dry and brittle?

That's right... but with Lady Grecian I found my hair actually seems softer and more manageable than when I wasn't coloring it. I guess that's because it has an acid balanced formula.

How long did it take to get your hair that lovely medium brown?

About 12 or 14 days. But, lots of women love the color after only 4 or 5 days. And if you're switching or just going gray, it takes only a few applications.

You didn't mind using it daily in the beginning?

It only takes a couple of minutes and it's fascinating to watch your hair getting more beautiful and less gray. In a short time you have the color you want and then you're never bothered with terrible touch-ups.

It's such a sense of freedom. I just brush Lady Grecian through my hair once a week or so after I shampoo. No problem with ugly gray roots. And my hair feels soft and healthy.

You're a real Lady Grecian fan...

Oh, I am. Whether you're gray, going gray or already coloring your hair, Lady Grecian Formula is the perfect answer.

If you'd like to find out how beautifully Lady Grecian Formula will work for you, we'd be happy to send you a generous trial size. Just send $1.00 with your name and address to: Lady Grecian Formula, P.O. Box 328, FW. White Plains, N.Y. 10604. Of course, Lady Grecian is available at toiletry counters. Combe, Inc.

THE NEW PHYS ED: BELIEVE IT OR NOT, KIDS LOVE IT

Athletic competition is fine, but here's a program aimed at helping average kids prepare for a lifetime of health.

ercise and sports that many of us formed in response to the frustrations of gym class. The program accomplishes this in two ways: in elementary school it teaches youngsters individually and at their own pace such basic skills as catching, throwing, running, jumping and balance. Eventually, as these skills develop, children begin to play games that draw on what they have learned. Then, in high school, the students are exposed to the kinds of sports—tennis, golf, bowling, swimming—they can enjoy throughout life. Since most schools don't have a golf course or bowling alleys, they utilize community facilities. The program often means flexible scheduling as well: instead of playing, say, football for 45 minutes five days a week, a gym class may travel to the local tennis courts for two hours three days a week.

The impetus for the change came when President Kennedy established the President's Council on Physical Fitness, and concern began to mount that Americans weren't getting enough exercise. "The Council's report made us critically examine what was happening in physical education," says Dr. Gordon Jeppson of the AAHPER. "We realized that we had to give students skills they could take into later life. We also recognized that people had more leisure time and that not many of them get the opportunity to play team sports after they leave school."

How Widespread Is It?

No one knows just how many elementary schools have made the switch from traditional physical education to movement education, but the AAHPER's best guess is that at least some of its principles have been adopted in about one-fourth of the nation's schools.

By Polly Dranov

Ask any adult American to think about gym class, and, unless you're talking to a former high-school football star, the question is more than likely to provoke memories of humiliation, frustration or just plain boredom. The reason for this reaction, experts say, is the traditional gym class, with its emphasis on team sports and uniform requirements. It has managed to turn most of us away from a program of continuing physical exercise. In fact, the President's Council on Physical Fitness reports that only 55 percent of all adult Americans get any sort of exercise at all, and many people who do say they exercise explain that they walk a lot or bowl occasionally.

Now, though, educators are moving to change this trend through what the American Alliance of Health, Physical Education and Recreation (AAHPER) calls the "new physical education" or "movement education."

Its basic philosophy is to do away with the negative attitudes toward ex-

Why Is It Important?

It begins early—in elementary school where classes in movement education are beginning to replace the traditional games and relays that generations of youngsters played in schoolyards. Educators have found that these games—including such old standbys as dodge ball—are just too difficult for many children. For these kids, phys-ed class is a humiliating experience. Blanche Teitlebaum, who teaches physical education at New York City's Lehman College, puts it this way: "A child's physical self-image is formed early. If he's expected to do something physical and can't do it easily, he gets frustrated and assumes he's nonathletic." In the elementary grades there's no "right" or "wrong" way to do things, either. Because of this, a negative physical self-image is harder to come by. Everyone gets to play, and there's no competition to lessen a child's self-confidence.

In traditional phys-ed classes many of the games played in the early grades don't give kids much chance to develop the skills they are lacking. And all too often they don't even give them much chance to exercise. A lot of time is wasted standing around waiting for a turn at bat or lolling about after being eliminated in games like dodge ball. "What happens under the old system is that the most skilled children get the most practice, and the kids who need the most help are the ones who get the least," says Professor Teitlebaum. "A student's conception of himself is better if he is able to participate in the kinds of things his peers are doing," says Lucy Burkett. "We need to be aware of all our students' interests. We shouldn't be playing games that eliminate kids from movement."

Derry Michael, director of secondary-school health and physical education in Whippoorwill Park, N.J., says high-school gym teachers today have to answer the question of whether they are going to concentrate on making "super players" in the sports they teach or on getting all the kids interested in sports. "We've gone beyond the days when phys ed meant football, baseball and basketball," he says. "We're trying to offer the kids a program that will give them some knowledge of a sport. I'm not in the recreation business. I'm in the physical-education business, and there's got to be some teaching going on."

The emphasis on athletics in schools and the preoccupation of many phys-ed teachers with the fortunes of the teams they coach have been a continuing problem. Traditionally most of the benefits of physical-education programs have gone to athletes while the other kids have gotten very little attention as a group and virtually none as individuals.

How Can I Find Out More About the Program?

The AAHPER has prepared a film and written material for parents and teachers interested in the new physical education. These describe both the movement education and lifetime sports programs. Information is provided upon request. Write to AAHPER, 1201 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

THE NEW PHYS ED

Why Is It Important?

It begins early—in elementary school where classes in movement education are beginning to replace the traditional games and relays that generations of youngsters played in schoolyards. Educators have found that these games—including such old standbys as dodge ball—are just too difficult for many children. For these kids, phys-ed class is a humiliating experience. Blanche Teitelbaum, who teaches physical education at New York City's Lehman College, puts it this way: "A child's physical self-image is formed early. If he's expected to do something physical and can't do it easily, he gets frustrated and assumes he's nonathletic." In the elementary grades there's no "right" or "wrong" way to do things, either. Because of this, a negative physical self-image is harder to come by. Everyone gets to play, and there's no competition to lessen a child's self-confidence.

In traditional phys-ed classes many of the games played in the early grades don't give kids much chance to develop the skills they are lacking. And all too often they don't even give them much chance to exercise. A lot of time is wasted standing around waiting for a turn at bat or lolling about after being eliminated in games like dodge ball. "What happens under the old system is that the most skilled children get the most practice, and the kids who need the most help are the ones who get the least," says Professor Teitelbaum. "A student's conception of himself is better if he is able to participate in the kinds of things his peers are doing," says Lucy Burkett. "We need to be aware of all our students' interests. We shouldn't be playing games that eliminate kids from movement."

Derry Michael, director of secondary school health and physical education in Whippany Park, N.J., says high-school gym teachers today have to answer the question of whether they are going to concentrate on making "super players" in the sports they teach or on getting all the kids interested in sports. "We've gone beyond the days when phys ed meant football, baseball and basketball," he says. "We're trying to offer the kids a program that will give them some knowledge of a sport. I'm not in the recreation business. I'm in the physical-education business, and there's got to be some teaching going on."

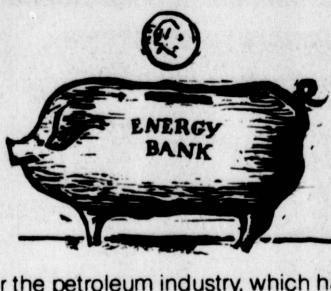

The emphasis on athletics in schools and the preoccupation of many phys-ed teachers with the fortunes of the teams they coach have been a continuing problem. Traditionally most of the benefits of physical-education programs have gone to athletes while the other kids have gotten very little attention as a group and virtually none as individuals.

How Can I Find Out More About the Program?

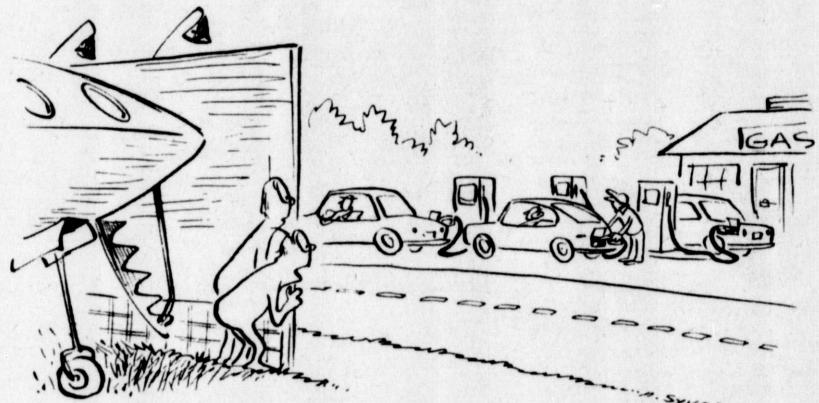

The AAHPER has prepared a film and written material for parents and teachers interested in the new physical education. These describe both the movement education and lifetime sports programs. Information is provided upon request. Write to AAHPER, 1201 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Observations

Conservation box score. U.S. industry has been making good progress on energy saving, through increased recycling, better plant maintenance, and new equipment. Among the success stories: Hercules Incorporated, which invested $10 million in heat recovery and maintenance systems, and reaped $25 million in energy savings. Or the petroleum industry, which has already accomplished a 10.7% energy efficiency improvement in manufacturing operations. At Mobil we've cut energy consumption at our U.S. refineries by 15% since 1972, through improved efficiency.

Uncle Sam's a winner. The Federal Energy Administration says government energy consumption has dropped about 29% from 1972 levels. Greatest savings have been achieved by the military. The Air Force now uses simulation instead of in-craft training whenever possible, and the Navy, Air Force, and Coast Guard have slowed down their cruising speeds. Government office buildings have also cut back on heat, air conditioning, ventilation, and lighting.

"HOW MUCH LONGER BEFORE THEY'RE WEANED?"

Those lazy winter days at home offer energy-saving opportunities. In fact, it's estimated that the residential sector accounts for 19.2% of all energy used on a typical day. Home heating alone uses 11%, and the rest goes for heating water (2.9%), air conditioning (0.7%), the refrigerator (1.1%), cooking (1.1%), clothes drying (0.3%), and small appliances (2.1%). You can do something about it. Not only at home but on the road, too. And we can help. Write to Box C, Mobil, at the address below for our free booklet, "How smart drivers save gasoline."

PEOPLE AND YOU

Who Is the Typical Gambler?

Would you bet you know the right answer? Chances are high you might lay a bet on it if you're a man living in suburbia, reasonably well-off and well educated. Why? Because more than any other American, the affluent male suburbanite is likely to bet money, especially if he's young and a bachelor. When the Institute for Social Research of the University of Michigan conducted an "exhaustive study" of U.S. gambling for a Congressional commission in 1975, it discovered that 61 percent of all adult Americans placed some kind of money bet during the preceding year. Of these, 13 percent bet only with friends or co-workers, 11 percent bet with bookies, on the numbers or in unlicensed casinos, etc., and 44 percent wagered legal bets on games in various states.

People give lots of reasons for gambling their hard-earned money: to have a good time, pass the time, be challenged and make money. Bettors don't worry about losing. One stunning discovery of the survey: in states with legal lotteries and where pari-mutuel betting is available, there are both more illegal numbers betting and more business done with bookies than in states where these activities are illegal.

PEOPLE QUIZ / By John E. Gibson

Will a woman juror give a male defendant a fair shake?

WHAT MEN AND WOMEN DON'T KNOW ABOUT EACH OTHER

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Most women have a one-way sense of humor: they enjoy the kind that ridicules or pokes fun at men but are "turned off" when the joke is on them.
2. If a man were on trial for his life, he'd probably get a better shake from a jury of women than a jury composed of men.
3. Women aren't nearly as superstitious as they used to be.
4. Women have greater self-esteem than men do. They like themselves better and are on better terms with themselves.
5. The more feminine a woman is, the greater her self-esteem.
6. Women are more resistant to germs than men are.

ANSWERS

1. False. At the University of Massachusetts, a study was made of the preferences of 50 men and 50 women undergraduates for two types of humorous cartoons: those which were hostile toward men, and those which similarly put down women. The results: both sexes preferred humor in which the butt of the joke was a female.
2. False—as suggested by a comparison of the judgments of men and women "jurors" in a University of Texas study in which the subjects read a synopsis of a trial in which the defendant was either a man who allegedly murdered his wife or a woman who allegedly murdered her husband.
3. False. Psychological tests at the University of Montana showed that the extent to which women possessed strong feminine personality qualities did not bear significantly on their self-esteem. Recent changes have occurred in female attitudes toward the feminine role, so that masculinity (in terms of attitude and abilities) is perceived as a socially desirable characteristic.
4. True. A study at Oregon State University of the self-concepts of men and women "showed females to have a more positive feeling about their identity than males." Furthermore, women are more prone to face reality than are males.
5. False. Psychological tests at the University of Montana showed that the extent to which women possessed strong feminine personality qualities did not bear significantly on their self-esteem. Recent changes have occurred in female attitudes toward the feminine role, so that masculinity (in terms of attitude and abilities) is perceived as a socially desirable characteristic.
6. True. Research on immunologic superiority at the University of California strongly suggests that females possess greater resistance to infection than males.

THE RICE DIET

You can shed weight in just 72 hours on The Rice Diet or it costs you nothing. Prove it to yourself by ordering our new, comprehensive diet manual, The Rice Diet, now. It discloses the secret of how you can lose weight like people who report losses of up to 100 pounds and more in a brief time without hunger.

I'm proud of my boyfriend! I wanted you to see him too. This was on our trip to Florida.

"YOU WON'T BELIEVE IT WHEN YOU LOSE WEIGHT LIKE I DID"

"I couldn't believe it when I lost 25 pounds the first month after I started on The Rice Diet. I wasn't hungry at all, and the weight just seemed to disappear. This is amazing when you realize that I have always been fat — even as a child. Our doctor put me on weight loss pills, but they didn't work. He said there was no hope for me."

"Now that I've gone from 227 pounds to a slim 125 pounds — my whole outlook on life has changed. Before, I was an extreme introvert, hiding from people, afraid of being seen and laughed at. When I had my picture taken, I would try to conceal my body by pulling my knees up in front of me. Clothes didn't fit right, and I never wore a bathing suit before. I had no energy, and it was an effort to do anything. Now, I'm on the go all the time; I've seen and done things I never dreamed of doing as a "fatty." I now consider myself a beautiful person inside and out."

IT'S A HEALING DIET AS WELL AS A REDUCING DIET

IT CONTAINS LITTLE CHOLESTEROL

Medical Research has acclaimed a low-fat diet as being of paramount aid in the treatment of certain heart and kidney conditions. Scientists also advocate this program as the basis of a general reducing diet.

The health value of this diet is founded upon the fact that it contains little cholesterol — which many doctors believe dangerous to the heart, kidneys, and blood circulation.

THE DIET REVERSES MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY HEART DISORDERS

Our medical establishment was extremely skeptical of the startling discovery that the Rice Diet reverses much of the damage done by blood vessel, eye, heart, and kidney disorders. Without any medication other than a prolonged diet largely composed of rice, some enlarged hearts grew smaller, blood pressures and blood sugar dropped.

CLAIMS FOR THE RICE DIET VERIFIED

Teams of doctors from leading institutions around the world investigated the diet. They thought that they would scoff at the claims, but they applauded instead. "The question now," concluded a report in one eminent medical journal, "is not 'Does the diet work?' The question is 'How does it work?'"

FAIRLY PEOPLE HAVE ENDORSED THE RESULTS OF RICE DIETING

"I truly would have died if I hadn't gone" on a program of rice dieting, says the wife of a former state governor. "I was seriously ill and weighed 230 pounds." She dropped 80 pounds in 19 weeks, and her blood sugar plummeted as well. (Since the diet is largely carbohydrate, this is one of the mysteries of it.)

A famous singer and movie actor, on the other hand, got hooked on the taste of the diet and lost 80 pounds, too. He still follows the diet every day. Before the Rice Diet, he had been on a high-protein diet for ten years or so: "I used to have to put down a pound of steak before recording," he says. "Now, I can eat a little rice and sing like a bird."

HERE'S WHAT THE RICE DIET DID FOR OTHERS.

"VERY TASTY DIET"

—Mrs. M.S., Lawrenceburg, Ind.

I'm Jan Schrader, and these are photos of me before I went on The Rice Diet. Read below about how I lost 102 pounds, and then get your copy of The Rice Diet by sending in the coupon.

"May I say this is a very tasty diet. I liked all the menus except one."

"NOTHING WORKED UNTIL I TRIED RICE"

"WEIGHT FELL OFF ME"

"Naturally, the weight FELL off me. Within 5 or 6 weeks, I had lost 35 pounds. I have held that weight pretty well. I am a believer in rice! Thank heaven for rice. Perhaps my experience will help others. I well imagine rice will play a great part in the remainder of my life."

—Mrs. Grace Quintal, Stockton, Cal.

"LOST 10 POUNDS IN 2 WEEKS"

—Mrs. S. St. Joseph, Mo.

"LOST 1/2 POUND A DAY"

"Thanks to your rice diet, my husband's weight is almost back to where it should be. He went on your diet in January and has averaged a loss of 1/2 pound a day."

—Mrs. F.W.W., Truckee, Cal.

PERMANENT WEIGHT-LOSS

Your body has an appetite control center or appestat. If you are fat, it's because your appestat is set too high from eating the wrong kind of food. When you change the kind of food you eat by going on The Rice Diet, your body's appestat should soon adjust to a lower setting that won't compel you to overeat. Then you will be able to reach and maintain a normal weight without much effort —

It's that easy.

A famous medical research group says: "Weight loss can occur permanently only if the appestat is readjusted to a lower level."

THE RICE DIET

You can shed weight in just 72 hours on The Rice Diet or it costs you nothing. Prove it to yourself by ordering our new, comprehensive diet manual, The Rice Diet now. It discloses the secret of how you can lose weight like people who report losses of up to 100 pounds and more in a brief time without hunger.

I'm proud of my boyfriend! I wanted you to see him too. This was on our trip to Florida.

"YOU WON'T BELIEVE IT WHEN YOU LOSE WEIGHT LIKE I DID!"

"I couldn't believe it when I lost 25 pounds the first month after I started on The Rice Diet. I wasn't hungry at all, and the weight just seemed to disappear. This is amazing when you realize that I have always been fat — even as a child. Our doctor put me on weight loss pills, but they didn't work. He said there was no hope for me."

"Now that I've gone from 227 pounds to a slim 125 pounds — my whole outlook on life has changed. Before, I was an extreme introvert, hiding from people, afraid of being seen and laughed at. When I had my picture taken, I would try to conceal my body by pulling my knees up in front of me. Clothes didn't fit right, and I never wore a bathing suit before. I had no energy, and it was an effort to do anything. Now, I'm on the go all the time; I've seen and done things I never dreamed of doing as a 'fatty.' I now consider myself a beautiful person inside and out."

"IT'S A HEALING DIET AS WELL AS A REDUCING DIET"

"IT CONTAINS LITTLE CHOLESTEROL"

Medical Research has acclaimed a low-fat diet as being of paramount aid in the treatment of certain heart and kidney conditions. Scientists also advocate this program as the basis of a general reducing diet.

The health value of this diet is founded upon the fact that it contains little cholesterol — which many doctors believe dangerous to the heart, kidneys, and blood circulation.

"THE DIET REVERSES MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY HEART DISORDERS"

Our medical establishment was extremely skeptical of the startling discovery that the Rice Diet reverses much of the damage done by blood vessel, eye, heart, and kidney disorders. Without any medication other than a prolonged diet largely composed of rice, some enlarged hearts grew smaller, blood pressures and blood sugar dropped.

"CLAIMS FOR THE RICE DIET VERIFIED"

Teams of doctors from leading institutions around the world investigated the diet. They thought that they would scoff at the claims, but they applauded instead. "The question now," concluded a report in one eminent medical journal, "is not 'Does the diet work?' The question is 'How does it work?'"

"FAMOUS PEOPLE HAVE ENDORSED THE RESULTS OF RICE DIETING"

"I truly would have died if I hadn't gone" on a program of rice dieting, says the wife of a former state governor. "I was seriously ill and weighed 230 pounds." She dropped 80 pounds in 19 weeks, and her blood sugar plummeted as well. (Since the diet is largely carbohydrate, this is one of the mysteries of it.)

A famous singer and movie actor, on the other hand, got hooked on the taste of the diet and lost 80 pounds, too. He still follows the diet every day. Before the Rice Diet, he had been on a high-protein diet for ten years or so: "I used to have to put down a pound of steak before recording," he says. "Now, I can eat a little rice and sing like a bird."

"HERE'S WHAT THE RICE DIET DID FOR OTHERS."

"VERY TASTY DIET"

—Mrs. M.S., Lawrenceburg, Ind.

I'm Jan Schrader, and these are photos of me before I went on The Rice Diet. Read below about how I lost 102 pounds, and then get your copy of The Rice Diet by sending in the coupon.

"May I say this is a very tasty diet. I liked all the menus except one."

"NOTHING WORKED UNTIL I TRIED RICE"

"I was a victim of multiple food allergies. I tried everything but nothing worked until I tried rice. It was the only thing I could tolerate.

"WEIGHT FELL OFF ME"

"Naturally, the weight FELL off me. Within 5 or 6 weeks, I had lost 35 pounds. I have held that weight pretty well. I am a believer in rice! Thank heaven for rice. Perhaps my experience will help others. I well imagine rice will play a great part in the remainder of my life."

—Mrs. Grace Quintal, Stockton, Cal.

"LOST 10 POUNDS IN 2 WEEKS"

—Mrs. S., St. Joseph, Mo.

"LOST 1/2 POUND A DAY"

"Thanks to your rice diet, my husband's weight is almost back to where it should be. He went on your diet in January and has averaged a loss of 1/2 pound a day."

—Mrs. F.W.W., Truckee, Cal.

PERMANENT WEIGHT-LOSS

Your body has an appetite control center or appetstat. If you are fat, it's because your appetstat is set too high from eating the wrong kind of food. When you change the kind of food you eat by going on The Rice Diet, your body's appetstat should soon adjust to a lower setting that won't compel you to overeat. Then you will be able to reach and maintain a normal weight without much effort.

It's that easy.

A famous medical research group says: "Weight loss can occur permanently only if the appetstat is readjusted to a lower level."

My Feet Were Killing Me...Until I Discovered the Miracle of Hamburg!

It was the European trip I had always dreamed about. I had the time and money to go where I wanted—see what I wanted. But I soon learned that money and time don't mean much when your feet hurt too much to walk. After a few days of sightseeing my feet were killing me.

Oh, I tried to keep going. In Paris I limped through Notre Dame and along the Champs-Elysées. And I went up in the Eiffel Tower although I can't honestly say I remember the view. My feet were so tired and sore my whole body ached. While everybody else was having a great time, I was in my hotel room. I didn't even feel like sitting in a sidewalk cafe.

The whole trip was like that until I got to Hamburg, Germany. There, by accident, I happened to hear about an exciting breakthrough for anyone who suffers from sore, aching feet and legs.

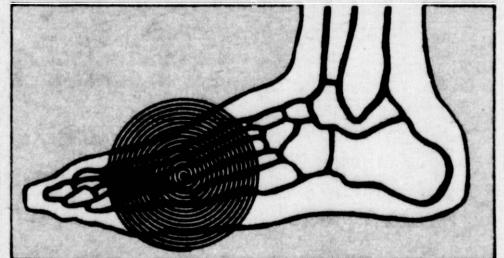

This wonderful invention was a custom-made foot support called Flexible Featherspring. When I got a pair and slipped them into my shoes my pain disappeared almost instantly. The flexible shock absorbing support they gave my feet was like cradling them on a cushion of air. I could walk, stand, even run. The relief was truly a miracle.

And just one pair was all I needed. I learned that women also can wear them—even with sandals and open backed shoes. They're completely invisible.

Imagine how dumbfounded I was to discover that these miraculous devices were sold only in Europe. Right then I determined that I would share the miracle I discovered in Hamburg with my own countrymen.

Today thousands of Americans of all ages—many with foot problems far more severe than mine—have experienced this blessed relief for themselves.

© Featherspring International Corp. 1976

Here's why Feathersprings work for them and why they can work for you. These supports are like nothing you've ever seen before. They are custom fitted and made for your feet alone! Unlike conventional devices, they actually imitate the youthful elastic support that Nature originally intended your feet to have.

Whatever your problem—corns, calluses, pain in the balls of your feet, burning nerve ends, painful ankles, old injuries, backaches or just generally sore, aching feet. Flexible Feathersprings will bring you guaranteed relief with every step you take.

Don't suffer pain and discomfort needlessly. If your feet hurt, the miracle of Hamburg can help you. Write for more detailed information. There is no obligation whatsoever. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Be A V.I.P. When You Fly

Want to get V.I.P. treatment from the airlines? Try these suggestions and you'll get it, maybe. If you, your spouse and your kids are going on a flight with more hand luggage than hands, contact the airline ahead of time, and it's 10 to one it will assign someone to help you and let you board early. Want a special seat? Chances are it's yours if you'll arrive an hour before check-in time. If you're not limited to a particular departure hour, and want all you can get in the wining and dining department, shop around. If an airline menu doesn't grab you, there's a good chance the company can substitute sandwiches or a salad, a vegetarian, salt-free, low-calorie or kosher meal — which some passengers swear invariably turn out to be tastier. It's also helpful to call again to reconfirm your requests on the day before departure.

Can An Unhappy Child Be A Successful Adult?

Parents everywhere try their hardest to keep their children from misery. But when the Institute of Human Development of the University of California at Berkeley looked at the formative years of some 400 famous Americans — writers, painters, inventors, politicians and others — it found that 70 percent had abnormal or unhappy upbringings. It used criteria such as whether parents were divorced, or if at least one parent was alcoholic, mentally ill or sadistic. Some examples: Thomas Edison was beaten so often his hearing was damaged; Eleanor Roosevelt had an alcoholic father. "Our findings," says psychologist Arlene Skolnick, "raise serious doubts about the assumption that traumatic events have long-term adverse effects on children. It may be that having to cope with unhappiness makes for a more resilient, productive adult than having a comfortable, sheltered life. I'm not advocating calamities, but neither should parents feel their children will go to pieces if everything's not perfect."

Who's Who In Wigs

Jerome Alexander, an internationally renowned wig expert, has created an unofficial Worst Wigged Men and Women list. They are: Howard Cosell, singers Tina Turner, Tony Bennett, Charo; Elizabeth Taylor, Glenda Jackson, Hermione Gingold, John Wayne, Dolly Parton and Marisa Berenson. And the 10 best: Carol Burnett, Cher, Burt Reynolds, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, Diahann Carroll, Ann-Margret, Diana Ross, Gina Lollobrigida, Shirley MacLaine and Beverly Sills. In discussing his "10 Worst" list, Mr. Alexander offered a couple of comments about the "winners": "Howard Cosell qualified on five counts . . . one for each wig he wears." And these kind words for country singer Dolly Parton: "It's as if she took every penny she made singing country and western songs and bought hair with it."

Quick Takes

A penny doesn't buy very much anymore, and now the little copper coin may soon be but a memory. A Government-sponsored study recommends that the U.S. Mint eliminate it, since it's too expensive to make and the purchasing power is almost nonexistent . . . The Gray Panthers are a national organization of people that hope to bridge the gap between the young and the old. They're primarily involved in political action — fighting for nursing-home reform, working to enforce new legislation, speaking at senior centers. The Panthers have just taken in an important new member, Lillian Carter, the nation's new First Grandmother. If you're interested in finding out about the chapter nearest you, write: National Headquarters, Gray Panthers, 3700 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. 19104. Publishing's latest gimmick is the true confessions of people who never existed. Upcoming is Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman, An Illustrated Guide to Fernwood (Simon and Schuster). It's the inspiration of the show's crew and will include such gems as a photograph of a Mary Hartman dinner party where everyone is served TV dinners. But that's tame next to another new release: My Side by King Kong . . . When a person sits down at a nightclub, the amount he drinks may pose as large a threat to hearing as the decibel level of the music he enjoys. Dr. Martin Robinette, associate professor of audiology at the University of Utah, gave some graduate students too much to drink and found that the natural mechanism which protects the inner ear from loud noise loses its efficiency as the body's alcohol content increases.

How To Do Something About Unsafe Products

You don't have to be an agency or an organization or a special-interest group to petition the Consumer Product Safety Commission to do something about a product you think is unsafe. Individuals can ask the commission to issue, amend or revoke one of its rulings by following the guidelines the agency has set up. They're simple enough: your request should be titled "Petition," and it should state that it is filed under Section 10 of the Consumer Product Safety Act. You should include your name, address, phone number, the product involved, why you think the Commission should act and how it should act. Send five typewritten copies to: Office of the Secretary, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20207.

A New Lead On Crib Death Causes

New research suggests that infants who have mysteriously died of sudden infant death syndrome (usually called "crib death") may have died because of a genetically transmitted heart condition. Scientists at the National Institutes of Health have found that the parents, brothers and sisters of babies who died of crib death show an unusually high prevalence of a particular abnormality in their heart examinations. If further studies confirm that hereditary heart abnormalities are indeed predictors of crib death, it appears likely that electrocardiograms (heart tests) on newborns would become routine practice and that measures would be devised to protect the babies found most vulnerable.

Go Ahead — Sleep On The Job

According to a sleep researcher at the University of Florida, taking a nap might be the most beneficial way to spend your coffee break. Dr. Wilse Webb says short naps make for better job performance. He cautions that a beneficial nap must never be longer than 30 minutes. "Long naps decrease performance because a person begins a full sleep cycle, and stopping this just makes you feel worse."

My Feet Were Killing Me...Until I Discovered the Miracle of Hamburg!

It was the European trip I had always dreamed about. I had the time and money to go where I wanted—see what I wanted. But I soon learned that money and time don't mean much when your feet hurt too much to walk. After a few days of sightseeing my feet were killing me.

Oh, I tried to keep going. In Paris I limped through Notre Dame and along the Champs-Elysées. And I went up in the Eiffel Tower although I can't honestly say I remember the view. My feet were so tired and sore my whole body ached. While everybody else was having a great time, I was in my hotel room. I didn't even feel like sitting in a sidewalk cafe.

The whole trip was like that until I got to Hamburg, Germany. There, by accident, I happened to hear about an exciting breakthrough for anyone who suffers from sore, aching feet and legs.

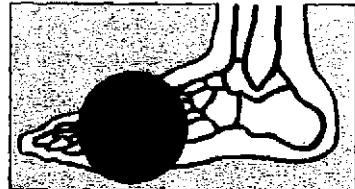

This wonderful invention was a custom-made foot support called Flexible FeatherSpring. When I got a pair and slipped them into my shoes my pain disappeared almost instantly. The flexible shock absorbing support they gave my feet was like cradling them on a cushion of air. I could walk, stand, even run. The relief was truly a miracle.

And just one pair was all I needed. I learned that women also can wear them—even with sandals and open heeled shoes. They're completely invisible.

Imagine how dumbfounded I was to discover that these miraculous devices were sold only in Europe. Right then I determined that I would share the miracle I discovered in Hamburg with my own countrymen.

Today thousands of Americans of all ages—many with foot problems far more severe than mine—have experienced this blessed relief for themselves.

© FeatherSpring International Corp. 1976

Here's why Feathersprings work for you and why they can work for you. These supports are like nothing you've ever seen before. They are custom fitted and made for your feet alone! Unlike conventional devices, they actually imitate the youthful elastic support that Nature originally intended your feet to have.

Whatever your problem—corns, calluses, pain in the balls of your feet, burning nerve ends, painful ankles, old injuries, buckles or just generally sore, aching feet. Flexible Feathersprings will bring you guaranteed relief with every step you take.

Don't suffer pain and discomfort needlessly. If your feet hurt, the miracle of Hamburg can help you. Write for more detailed information. There is no obligation whatsoever. Just fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

FROM HOUSE OF WESLEY, GREENHOUSE DIVISION, BLOOMINGTON, ILL. 61701

House Plants Are More Than Just Beautiful Decoration.

Growing your own house plants is one of the most delightful ways of obtaining fresh, clean air! We are told that doctors in Europe once sent patients to the forest areas for the benefits of the "good air". Today, people who fill their homes with lovely house plants enjoy the same benefits. For plants absorb carbon dioxide that passes out of our lungs, converts it into oxygen and releases it again as pure, clean, fresh air for us to breathe!

ALL OUR PLANTS HAVE A 1-YEAR GUARANTEE

Dear House of Wesley:
I received my Dwarf Lemon Tree in this morning's mail and I wanted to thank you and tell you how pleased I am with your service. In these days of so much "false advertising" its refreshing to find a firm that does exactly what they advertise and you can be sure I will tell my neighbors they could buy from you in perfect confidence. I ordered a group of three trees and the other two are flourishing so thanks again for the lemon! I am a former resident of Southern California and I have missed the orange groves, so now I have my own little citrus orchard. Thanks to you."
